Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Sterling.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor	Dividends Begin
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Same Business Day
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP25 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per M+ Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares and M+ Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

M+ Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped subject to a maximum of 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value of the Shares (such maximum figure referred to as the "Maximum Charge" and the actual charge levied on the Shareholders, the "Management Charge"). The Investment Manager may, at its discretion, waive the fees (or a portion thereof) to which it is entitled in order to deliver an enhanced level of return to Shareholders, thereby ensuring that the Management Charge levied on Shareholders is, and remains, below or at the Maximum Charge. Any additional fees, costs or expenses in excess of the Maximum Charge, arising in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares, shall be borne by the Investment Manager (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares). The Company will notify the holders of the Shares in the event that it is proposed that the Maximum Charge be increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Management Charge covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Management Charge excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

4 Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund – M+ Class, M+ Accumulation Class and M+ Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Japanese Yen. In respect of the M+ Class Shares, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Japanese Yen provided however, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval provided that in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Yen and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Yen and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of ¥10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be ¥10,000 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1.00 pm, Dublin time, on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 1:45 pm, Tokyo time, on the Business Day following the Dealing Day, or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is ¥2,500 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4.00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 8:00 am Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per M+ Class Shares remains stable at ¥10,000 per Share.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares and M+ Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the "Redemption Threshold") received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥ 30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days' notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

The Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund from the previous Business Day can be obtained from:

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped subject to a maximum of 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value of the Shares (such maximum figure referred to as the "Maximum Charge" and the actual charge levied on the Shareholders, the "Management Charge"). The Investment Manager may, at its discretion, waive the fees (or a portion thereof) to which it is entitled in order to deliver an enhanced level of return to Shareholders, thereby ensuring that the Management Charge levied on Shareholders is, and remains, below or at the Maximum Charge. Any additional fees, costs or expenses in excess of the Maximum Charge, arising in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares, shall be borne by the Investment Manager (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares). The Company will notify the holders of the Shares in the event that it is proposed that the Maximum Charge be increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Management Charge covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Management Charge excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(i) those days when banks are open for business in London and Japan; or(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.

"Valuation Point"	means 4.00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

5 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund - M+ Class, M+ Accumulation Class and M+ Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in US Treasury Obligations and US-Treasury backed repurchase agreements. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations and US Treasury-backed repurchase agreements will enable the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the M+ Class, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), invest in US Treasury

repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is US$25 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the M+ Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per M+ Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares and M+ Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends

After: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 11:00 am, New York time (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.60%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.

“Valuation Point”

means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

6 Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund - M+ Class, M+ Accumulation Class and M+ Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of Sterling-denominated Government Securities. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements backed by the relevant Government Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Non-Government Guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	In exceptional market conditions the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in time deposits issued by financial institutions
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares are denominated in Sterling and, in the case of the M+ Class, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in Sterling-denominated securities or debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by the governments of OECD member states. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Floating and Variable Rate “Government Securities”

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “Government Securities”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

In exceptional market circumstances, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in Sterling time deposits with a maturity not exceeding one week which are issued by financial institutions which are rated A1/P1 and higher.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund), purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP25 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company. As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per M+ Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares and M+ Accumulation Class (T) Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund.

7 Goldman Sachs US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund - M+ Class, M+ Accumulation Class and M+ Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a portfolio of high quality money market securities issued by US Government Agencies or US Treasury Securities. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase such securities through repurchase agreements backed by US Government Agency Securities or US Treasury Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Government Agency Securities	Yes
US Treasuries and US Government Guaranteed Securities	Yes
Non-Government guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	No
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries and US Government Guaranteed Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US$ and, in the case of the M+ Class, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Government Agency Securities

US Government Agency Securities are securities issued by agencies of the Federal government and are backed by either: (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (eg, Ginnie Mae) or (b) at the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agencies' obligations (eg, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to the agencies.

US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities

Securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government are deemed to include (a) securities for which the payment of principal and interest is backed by an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the US Government and (b) participations in loans made that are so guaranteed.

Floating and Variable Rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities"

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund), invest in US Government Agency Securities and US Treasury Securities backed repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is US$25 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per M+ Class Shares remains stable at US$1 per Share.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares and M+ Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

8 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund - M+ Class and M+ Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's (ESMA) guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in US$. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in US Dollars.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments that maintain a short-term foreign currency rating in one of the two highest short-term ratings categories by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is US$25 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the M+ Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term

realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from US$10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

M+ Class Shares

M+ Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

By: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on Business Day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$

Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares

M+ Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

By: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
After: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock

Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or

9 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – M+ Class and M+ Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Euro. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Bank Obligations" and as a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Commercial Paper" (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an "Acquired Fund") which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a "Short Term Money Market Fund" or "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund has invested in.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is €25 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash

distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from €10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

M+ Class Shares

M+ Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

By:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and following Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares

M+ Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*		Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*		Wired Business Day following next Business Day
*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

10 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – M+ Class and M+ Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Sterling. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Sterling.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is GBP25 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from GBP10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

M+ Class Shares

M+ Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares

M+ Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

"Business Day" means:

- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
- (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.

“Valuation Point”

means 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

11 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund – M+ Class, M+ Accumulation Class and M+ Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in US Treasury Obligations only. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations will enable the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The Fund is a Short Term Money Market Fund and its investment objective is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in ~~of~~ the following instruments:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

If the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 365 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$

Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the M+ Class, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa-mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below.

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high credit quality and liquidity, and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquidity Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

M+ Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the M+ Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per M+ Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

M+ Accumulation Class Shares and M+ Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

M+ Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

M+ Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.60%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

1 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Fund - Preferred Class, Preferred Accumulation Class and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
US Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations of Corporations and Other Entities	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Non-US Government Obligations (US$ denominated)	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of

	purchase

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Preferred Class, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment. It is designed for non-US investors seeking to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity.

All of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSROs that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

"US Treasury Obligations" are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

US Government Securities

“US Government Securities” are obligations issued or guaranteed by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities. Unlike US Treasury Obligations, obligations issued or guaranteed by US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities are supported either by (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (such as securities of the Government National Mortgage Association), (b) the right of the issuer to borrow from the Treasury, (c) the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agency’s obligations (such as securities of the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation), or (d) only the credit of the issuer. No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the future. US Government Securities may include zero coupon bonds. Such bonds may be purchased when the Investment Manager believes that yields are attractive.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

US and Non-US Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “US Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by US subsidiaries of such banks.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in “Non-US Bank Obligations” limited to US Dollar denominated obligations issued or guaranteed by non-US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase, US branches of such non-US banks (Yankee obligations), non-US branches of such non-US banks and non-US branches of US banks having more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such bank obligations may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in bank obligations (whether US or non-US). As a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in US Dollars and is issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, US incorporated commercial banks, non-US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in US Dollars and issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated corporations or other entities.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Non-US Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in US Dollar denominated obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments of or entities located or organised in a non-US country that maintains a short-term foreign currency rating in the highest short-term ratings category by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Preferred Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 11:00 am, New York time (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) on the following Business Day or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9:00 am, New York time, (normally 2:00 pm, Dublin time) on 12 July 2017 to 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsPreferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Preferred Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Preferred Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.45% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock

Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

2 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Fund – Preferred Class, Preferred Accumulation Class and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Euro. In the case of the Preferred Class Shares, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of EUR 1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Euro provided however, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10%

of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Euro equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry. The activities of banks in most countries are subject to comprehensive regulations which, in certain cases, for example in the case of US regulations, have undergone substantial changes in the past decade. The enactment of new legislation or regulations, as well as changes in interpretation and enforcement of current laws, may affect the manner of operations and profitability of banks in certain countries. Banks may be particularly susceptible to certain economic factors, such as interest rate changes and adverse developments in the market for real estate. Fiscal and monetary policy and general economic cycles can affect the availability and cost of funds, loan demand and asset quality and thereby impact the earnings and financial conditions of banks.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Euro and other currencies and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Euro and other currencies and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this.

Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund has invested in and, in particular, may result in a situation whereby the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is no longer able to maintain its stated objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share.

Purchase of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be €1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of €10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 3:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Euro.

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsPreferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of €1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Preferred Class Shares remains stable at €1 per Share.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor			Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*		Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*		Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day

*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor's Fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.45% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

3 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund – Preferred Class, Preferred Accumulation Class and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Sterling. In respect of the Preferred Class Shares, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU

Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Sterling equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Sterling and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Sterling and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of SharesPreferred Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Preferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Preferred Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Redemption of SharesPreferred Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor's Fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.45% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to redistribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

4 Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund – Preferred Class, Preferred Accumulation Class and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Japanese Yen. In respect of the Preferred Class Shares, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Japanese Yen provided however, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval provided that in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Yen and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Yen and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of ¥10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be ¥10,000 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1.00 pm, Dublin time, on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 1:45 pm, Tokyo time, on the Business Day following the Dealing Day, or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Yen.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is ¥100 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Preferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4.00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 8:00 am Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Preferred Class Shares remains stable at ¥10,000 per Share.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the "Redemption Threshold") received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥ 30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days' notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

The Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund from the previous Business Day can be obtained from:

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.45% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to redistribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

5 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund - Preferred Class, Preferred Accumulation Class and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in US Treasury Obligations and US-Treasury backed repurchase agreements. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations and US Treasury-backed repurchase agreements will enable the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Preferred Class, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), invest in US Treasury repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Preferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Preferred Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite

500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Preferred Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although they are not expected to exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

6 Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund - Preferred Class, Preferred Accumulation Class and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of Sterling-denominated Government Securities. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements backed by the relevant Government Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Non-Government Guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	In exceptional market conditions the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in time deposits issued by financial institutions
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares are denominated in Sterling and, in the case of the Preferred Class, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in Sterling-denominated securities or debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by the governments of OECD member states. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "Government Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

In exceptional market circumstances, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in Sterling time deposits with a maturity not exceeding one week which are issued by financial institutions which are rated A1/P1 and higher.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund), purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share although this cannot be guaranteed.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Preferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Preferred Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares and Preferred Accumulation Class (T) Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.30% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Government Agency Securities

US Government Agency Securities are securities issued by agencies of the Federal government and are backed by either: (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (eg, Ginnie Mae) or (b) at the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agencies' obligations (eg, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to the agencies.

US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities

Securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government are deemed to include (a) securities for which the payment of principal and interest is backed by an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the US Government and (b) participations in loans made that are so guaranteed.

Floating and Variable Rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities"

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund), invest in US Government Agency Securities and US Treasury Securities backed repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Preferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Preferred Class Shares remains stable at US$1 per Share.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of SharesPreferred Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.30% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

8 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund - Preferred Class and Preferred Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase agreements	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective Investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's (ESMA) guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in US$. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in US Dollars.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments that maintain a short-term foreign currency rating in one of the two highest short-term ratings categories by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of SharesPreferred Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Preferred Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 2:00 pm, New York time, (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) on the following Business Day or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Preferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Preferred Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from US$10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Preferred Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

By: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on Business Day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair

disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

By: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
After: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although they are not expected to exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

9 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Preferred Class and Preferred Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Euro. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Euro.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund has invested in.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsPreferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash

distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. * Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*		Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*		Wired Business Day following next Business Day
*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although they are not expected to exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

- "Valuation Point" means 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

10 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Preferred Class and Preferred Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Sterling. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Sterling.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Preferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from GBP10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Preferred Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although they are not expected to exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in ~~of~~ the following instruments:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

If the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 365 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$

Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Preferred Class, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa-mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below.

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high credit quality and liquidity, and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquidity Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Preferred Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Preferred Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation”, where the Fund’s net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Preferred Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Preferred Accumulation Class Shares and Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Preferred Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund’s cost and Shareholder’s risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Preferred Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.45% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the “Fixed Rate”), although they are not expected to exceed 0.30%. This includes the Distributor’s fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.45%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.10% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor’s fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors’ fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

1 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Fund - Prime Class, Prime Accumulation Class and Prime Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
US Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations of Corporations and Other Entities	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Non-US Government Obligations (US$ denominated)	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Prime Class, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment. It is designed for non-US investors seeking to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity.

All of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSROs that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

"US Treasury Obligations" are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

US Government Securities

"US Government Securities" are obligations issued or guaranteed by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities. Unlike US Treasury Obligations, obligations issued or guaranteed by US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities are supported either by (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (such as securities of the Government National Mortgage Association), (b) the right of the issuer to borrow from the Treasury, (c) the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agency's obligations (such as securities of the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation), or (d) only the credit of the issuer. No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the future. US Government Securities may include zero coupon bonds. Such bonds may be purchased when the Investment Manager believes that yields are attractive.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

US and Non-US Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “US Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by US subsidiaries of such banks.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in “Non-US Bank Obligations” limited to US Dollar denominated obligations issued or guaranteed by non-US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase, US branches of such non-US banks (Yankee obligations), non-US branches of such non-US banks and non-US branches of US banks having more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such bank obligations may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in bank obligations (whether US or non-US). As a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in US Dollars and is issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, US incorporated commercial banks, non-US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in US Dollars and issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated corporations or other entities.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Non-US Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in US Dollar denominated obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments of or entities located or organised in a non-US country that maintains a short-term foreign currency rating in the highest short-term ratings category by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9:00 am, New York time, (normally 2:00 pm, Dublin time) on 12 July 2017 to 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Prime Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Prime Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500,

Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Prime Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares and Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Ordinarily	ProceedsDividends

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid

Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 11:00 am, New York time (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund.

“Business Day”

means:

- (i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
- (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.

“Valuation Point”

means 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

2 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Fund – Prime Class, Prime Accumulation Class and Prime Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Euro. In the case of the Prime Class Shares, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of EUR 1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Euro provided however, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10%

of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Euro equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry. The activities of banks in most countries are subject to comprehensive regulations which, in certain cases, for example in the case of US regulations, have undergone substantial changes in the past decade. The enactment of new legislation or regulations, as well as changes in interpretation and enforcement of current laws, may affect the manner of operations and profitability of banks in certain countries. Banks may be particularly susceptible to certain economic factors, such as interest rate changes and adverse developments in the market for real estate. Fiscal and monetary policy and general economic cycles can affect the availability and cost of funds, loan demand and asset quality and thereby impact the earnings and financial conditions of banks.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Euro and other currencies and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Euro and other currencies and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase

securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this.

Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund has invested in and, in particular, may result in a situation whereby the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is no longer able to maintain its stated objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share.

Purchase of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of €1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be €1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 3:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of €1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Prime Class Shares remains stable at €1 per Share.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares and Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received

After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

3 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund – Prime Class, Prime Accumulation Class and Prime Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Sterling. In respect of the Prime Class Shares, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU

Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Sterling equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Sterling and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Sterling and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Sterling.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor		Accumulation of Income and Capital Gains Begins
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Same Business Day
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Prime Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares and Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

4 Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund – Prime Class, Prime Accumulation Class and Prime Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Japanese Yen. In respect of the Prime Class Shares, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Japanese Yen provided however, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval provided that in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Yen and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Yen and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of ¥10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be ¥10,000 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1.00 pm, Dublin time, on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 1:45 pm, Tokyo time, on the Business Day following the Dealing Day, or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Yen.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is ¥100 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4.00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 8:00 am Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Prime Class Shares remains stable at ¥10,000 per Share.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares and Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the "Redemption Threshold") received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥ 30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days' notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

The Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund from the previous Business Day can be obtained from:

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

"Valuation Point"	means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

5 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund - Prime Class, Prime Accumulation Class and Prime Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in US Treasury Obligations and US-Treasury backed repurchase agreements. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations and US Treasury-backed repurchase agreements will enable the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Prime Class, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), invest in US Treasury

repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Prime Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Prime Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares and Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired same Business Day
After: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or

6 Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund - Prime Class, Prime Accumulation Class and Prime Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of Sterling-denominated Government Securities. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements backed by the relevant Government Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Non-Government Guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	In exceptional market conditions the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in time deposits issued by financial institutions
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares are denominated in Sterling and, in the case of the Prime Class, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in Sterling-denominated securities or debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by the governments of OECD member states. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Floating and Variable Rate “Government Securities”

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “Government Securities”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

In exceptional market circumstances, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in Sterling time deposits with a maturity not exceeding one week which are issued by financial institutions which are rated A1/P1 and higher.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund), purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Prime Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares and Prime Accumulation Class (T) Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.40% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund.

7 Goldman Sachs US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund - Prime Class, Prime Accumulation Class and Prime Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a portfolio of high quality money market securities issued by US Government Agencies or US Treasury Securities. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase such securities through repurchase agreements backed by US Government Agency Securities or US Treasury Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Government Agency Securities	Yes
US Treasuries and US Government Guaranteed Securities	Yes
Non-Government guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	No
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries and US Government Guaranteed Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US$ and, in the case of the Prime Class, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Government Agency Securities

US Government Agency Securities are securities issued by agencies of the Federal government and are backed by either: (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (eg, Ginnie Mae) or (b) at the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agencies' obligations (eg, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to the agencies.

US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities

Securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government are deemed to include (a) securities for which the payment of principal and interest is backed by an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the US Government and (b) participations in loans made that are so guaranteed.

Floating and Variable Rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities"

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund), invest in US Government Agency Securities and US Treasury Securities backed repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Prime Class Shares remains stable at US$1 per Share.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares and Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.40% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

8 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund - Prime Class and Prime Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase agreements	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's (ESMA) guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in US$. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in US Dollars.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Bank Obligations" and as a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Commercial Paper" (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments that maintain a short-term foreign currency rating in one of the two highest short-term ratings categories by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

Purchase of SharesPrime Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Prime Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 2:00 pm, New York time, (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Prime Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from US$10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Prime Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on Business Day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares

Prime Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

After: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

“Business Day”	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
“Valuation Point”	means 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

9 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Prime Class and Prime Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Euro. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Euro.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Bank Obligations" and as a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Commercial Paper" (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an "Acquired Fund") which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a "Short Term Money Market Fund" or "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund has invested in.

The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from €10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Prime Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and following Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares

Prime Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*		Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*		Wired Business Day following next Business Day
*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to redistribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

- "Valuation Point" means 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

10 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Prime Class and Prime Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes

Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Sterling. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Sterling.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from GBP10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Prime Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa-mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below.

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high credit quality and liquidity, and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquidity Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Prime Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Prime Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities;

and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation”, where the Fund’s net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Prime Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Prime Accumulation Class Shares and Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Prime Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund’s cost and Shareholder’s risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Prime Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.55% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.40%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.55%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.20% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

1 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Fund - R Class, R Accumulation Class and R Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
US Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations of Corporations and Other Entities	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Non-US Government Obligations (US$ denominated)	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the R Class, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment. It is designed for non-US investors seeking to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity.

All of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSROs that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

"US Treasury Obligations" are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

US Government Securities

“US Government Securities” are obligations issued or guaranteed by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities. Unlike US Treasury Obligations, obligations issued or guaranteed by US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities are supported either by (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (such as securities of the Government National Mortgage Association), (b) the right of the issuer to borrow from the Treasury, (c) the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agency’s obligations (such as securities of the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation), or (d) only the credit of the issuer. No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the future. US Government Securities may include zero coupon bonds. Such bonds may be purchased when the Investment Manager believes that yields are attractive.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

US and Non-US Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “US Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by US subsidiaries of such banks.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in “Non-US Bank Obligations” limited to US Dollar denominated obligations issued or guaranteed by non-US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase, US branches of such non-US banks (Yankee obligations), non-US branches of such non-US banks and non-US branches of US banks having more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such bank obligations may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in bank obligations (whether US or non-US). As a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in US Dollars and is issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, US incorporated commercial banks, non-US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in US Dollars and issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated corporations or other entities.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Non-US Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in US Dollar denominated obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments of or entities located or organised in a non-US country that maintains a short-term foreign currency rating in the highest short-term ratings category by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

R Class Shares

R Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the R Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per R Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

R Accumulation Class Shares and R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Ordinarily	ProceedsDividends
By: 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.20%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.35% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund.

“Business Day”	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
“Valuation Point”	means 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

2 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Fund – R Class, R Accumulation Class and R Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Euro. In the case of the R Class Shares, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of EUR 1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Euro provided however, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10%

of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Euro equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry. The activities of banks in most countries are subject to comprehensive regulations which, in certain cases, for example in the case of US regulations, have undergone substantial changes in the past decade. The enactment of new legislation or regulations, as well as changes in interpretation and enforcement of current laws, may affect the manner of operations and profitability of banks in certain countries. Banks may be particularly susceptible to certain economic factors, such as interest rate changes and adverse developments in the market for real estate. Fiscal and monetary policy and general economic cycles can affect the availability and cost of funds, loan demand and asset quality and thereby impact the earnings and financial conditions of banks.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Euro and other currencies and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Euro and other currencies and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase

securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this.

Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund has invested in and, in particular, may result in a situation whereby the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is no longer able to maintain its stated objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share.

Purchase of Shares

R Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be €1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of €10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 3:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Euro.

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsR Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of €1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per R Class Shares remains stable at €1 per Share.

R Accumulation Class Shares and R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor			Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*		Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day

*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.20%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.35% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day" means:

- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or

- (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.

“Valuation Point”

means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

3 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund – R Class, R Accumulation Class and R Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Sterling. In respect of the R Class Shares, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU

Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Sterling equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Sterling and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Sterling and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Sterling.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor		Accumulation of Income and Capital Gains Begins
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Same Business Day
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling

Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per R Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

R Accumulation Class Shares and R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.20%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.35% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

4 Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund – R Class, R Accumulation Class and R Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Japanese Yen. In respect of the R Class Shares, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Japanese Yen provided however, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval provided that in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Yen and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Yen and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

R Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of ¥10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be ¥10,000 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1.00 pm, Dublin time, on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 1:45 pm, Tokyo time, on the Business Day following the Dealing Day, or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Yen.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is ¥100 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4.00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 8:00 am Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation”, where the Fund’s net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per R Class Shares remains stable at ¥10,000 per Share.

R Accumulation Class Shares and R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the “Redemption Threshold”) received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥ 30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days’ notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.20%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.35% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

5 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund - R Class, R Accumulation Class and R Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in US Treasury Obligations and US-Treasury backed repurchase agreements. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations and US Treasury-backed repurchase agreements will enable the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the R Class, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), invest in US Treasury

repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the R Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per R Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

R Accumulation Class Shares and R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the “Fixed Rate”), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.20%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.35% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors’ fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund.

“Business Day”	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.

6 Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund - R Class, R Accumulation Class and R Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of Sterling-denominated Government Securities. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements backed by the relevant Government Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Non-Government Guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	In exceptional market conditions the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in time deposits issued by financial institutions
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares are denominated in Sterling and, in the case of the R Class, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in Sterling-denominated securities or debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by the governments of OECD member states. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Floating and Variable Rate “Government Securities”

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “Government Securities”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

In exceptional market circumstances, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in Sterling time deposits with a maturity not exceeding one week which are issued by financial institutions which are rated A1/P1 and higher.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund), purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

R Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share although this cannot be guaranteed.

Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Sterling.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor		Accumulation of Income and Capital Gains Begins
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Same Business Day
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per R Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

R Accumulation Class Shares and R Accumulation Class (T) Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

R Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time *	Wired same Business Day
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time *	Wired next Business Day

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified in advance to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 0.20%. The Expense Cap may not be increased above 0.35% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Description of Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Government Agency Securities

US Government Agency Securities are securities issued by agencies of the Federal government and are backed by either: (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (eg, Ginnie Mae) or (b) at the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agencies' obligations (eg, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to the agencies.

US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities

Securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government are deemed to include (a) securities for which the payment of principal and interest is backed by an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the US Government and (b) participations in loans made that are so guaranteed.

Floating and Variable Rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities"

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund), invest in US Government Agency Securities and US Treasury Securities backed repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

R Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per R Class Shares remains stable at US$1 per Share.

R Accumulation Class Shares and R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Redemption of SharesR Class Shares

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 0.20%. The Expense Cap may not be increased above 0.35% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

8 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund - R Class and R Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase agreements	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective Investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's (ESMA) guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in US$. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in US Dollars.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments that maintain a short-term foreign currency rating in one of the two highest short-term ratings categories by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the R Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term

realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from US$10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

R Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

R Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$

Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

R Accumulation Class Shares

R Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.35%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.20% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock

Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

9 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – R Class and R Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Euro. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Euro.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund has invested in.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsR Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash

distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from €10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

R Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.35%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.20% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

10 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – R Class and R Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Sterling. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Sterling.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from GBP10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

R Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

R Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

R Accumulation Class Shares

R Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
After:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.35%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.20% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

11 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund - R Class, R Accumulation Class and R Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in US Treasury Obligations only. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations will enable the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The Fund is a Short Term Money Market Fund and its investment objective is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in ~~of~~ the following instruments:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

If the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 365 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$

Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the R Class, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa-mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below.

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high credit quality and liquidity, and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquidity Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor		Accumulation of Income and Capital Gains Begins
By:	3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) (Subscription Form)* 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) (Subscription Monies)*	Same Business Day
After:	3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) (Subscription Form)* 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) (Subscription Monies)*	Next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

R Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the R Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per R Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

R Accumulation Class Shares and R Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

R Class Shares

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.35% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.20%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.20%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.35% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

1 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Fund - Select Class, Select Accumulation Class and Select Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
US Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations of Corporations and Other Entities	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Non-US Government Obligations (US$ denominated)	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Select Class, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment. It is designed for non-US investors seeking to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity.

All of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSROs that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

"US Treasury Obligations" are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

US Government Securities

"US Government Securities" are obligations issued or guaranteed by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities. Unlike US Treasury Obligations, obligations issued or guaranteed by US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities are supported either by (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (such as securities of the Government National Mortgage Association), (b) the right of the issuer to borrow from the Treasury, (c) the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agency's obligations (such as securities of the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation), or (d) only the credit of the issuer. No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the future. US Government Securities may include zero coupon bonds. Such bonds may be purchased when the Investment Manager believes that yields are attractive.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

US and Non-US Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “US Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by US subsidiaries of such banks.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in “Non-US Bank Obligations” limited to US Dollar denominated obligations issued or guaranteed by non-US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase, US branches of such non-US banks (Yankee obligations), non-US branches of such non-US banks and non-US branches of US banks having more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such bank obligations may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in bank obligations (whether US or non-US). As a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in US Dollars and is issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, US incorporated commercial banks, non-US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in US Dollars and issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated corporations or other entities.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Non-US Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in US Dollar denominated obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments of or entities located or organised in a non-US country that maintains a short-term foreign currency rating in the highest short-term ratings category by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Select Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9:00 am, New York time, (normally 2:00 pm, Dublin time) on 12 July 2017 to 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Select Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9:00 am, New York time, (normally 2:00 pm, Dublin time) on 12 July 2017 to 11:00 am, New York time, (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Select Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 11:00 am, New York time (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) on the following Business Day or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Select Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500,

Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Select Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Select Accumulation Class Shares and Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

2 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Fund – Select Class, Select Accumulation Class and Select Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Euro. In the case of the Select Class Shares, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of EUR 1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Euro provided however, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10%

of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Euro equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry. The activities of banks in most countries are subject to comprehensive regulations which, in certain cases, for example in the case of US regulations, have undergone substantial changes in the past decade. The enactment of new legislation or regulations, as well as changes in interpretation and enforcement of current laws, may affect the manner of operations and profitability of banks in certain countries. Banks may be particularly susceptible to certain economic factors, such as interest rate changes and adverse developments in the market for real estate. Fiscal and monetary policy and general economic cycles can affect the availability and cost of funds, loan demand and asset quality and thereby impact the earnings and financial conditions of banks.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Euro and other currencies and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Euro and other currencies and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase

securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this.

Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund has invested in and, in particular, may result in a situation whereby the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is no longer able to maintain its stated objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share.

Purchase of Shares

Select Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of €1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be €1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid

Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of €10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 3:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Euro.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of €1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Select Class Shares remains stable at €1 per Share.

Select Accumulation Class Shares and Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

3 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund – Select Class, Select Accumulation Class and Select Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Sterling. In respect of the Select Class Shares, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU

Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Sterling equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Sterling and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Sterling and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Select Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Select Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Select Accumulation Class Shares and Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

4 Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund – Select Class, Select Accumulation Class and Select Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Japanese Yen. In respect of the Select Class Shares, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Japanese Yen provided however, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval provided that in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Yen and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Yen and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Select Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of ¥10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be ¥10,000 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1.00 pm, Dublin time, on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 1:45 pm, Tokyo time, on the Business Day following the Dealing Day, or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Yen.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is ¥100 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4.00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 8:00 am Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Select Class Shares remains stable at ¥10,000 per Share.

Select Accumulation Class Shares and Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the "Redemption Threshold") received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥ 30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days' notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

The Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund from the previous Business Day can be obtained from:

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 4:00 pm, Dublin time (i) on the Dealing Day or (ii) on the fifth Business Day prior to the Dealing Day if the redemption request exceeds the Redemption Threshold*	Wired two Business Days following the Dealing Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after the relevant Dealing Day.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the "Redemption Threshold") received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen

Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days' notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

The Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund from the previous Business Day can be obtained from:

or by contacting the Management Company on +44 207774 6366.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time (i) on the Dealing Day or (ii) on the fifth Business Day prior to the Dealing Day if the redemption request exceeds the Redemption Threshold *	Wired on the Business Day following the Dealing Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after the relevant Dealing Day.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

"Valuation Point"	means 4.00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

5 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund - Select Class, Select Accumulation Class and Select Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in US Treasury Obligations and US-Treasury backed repurchase agreements. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations and US Treasury-backed repurchase agreements will enable the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Select Class, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), invest in US Treasury

repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Select Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Select Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Select Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Select Accumulation Class Shares and Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

6 Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund - Select Class, Select Accumulation Class and Select Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of Sterling-denominated Government Securities. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements backed by the relevant Government Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Non-Government Guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	In exceptional market conditions the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in time deposits issued by financial institutions
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares are denominated in Sterling and, in the case of the Select Class, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line with the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in Sterling-denominated securities or debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by the governments of OECD member states. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "Government Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

In exceptional market circumstances, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in Sterling time deposits with a maturity not exceeding one week which are issued by financial institutions which are rated A1/P1 and higher.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund), purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Select Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Select Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Select Accumulation Class Shares and Select Accumulation Class (T) Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Select Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time *	Wired same Business Day
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time *	Wired next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified in advance to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.50% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Description of Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Government Agency Securities

US Government Agency Securities are securities issued by agencies of the Federal government and are backed by either: (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (eg, Ginnie Mae) or (b) at the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agencies' obligations (eg, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to the agencies.

US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities

Securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government are deemed to include (a) securities for which the payment of principal and interest is backed by an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the US Government and (b) participations in loans made that are so guaranteed.

Floating and Variable Rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities"

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund), invest in US Government Agency Securities and US Treasury Securities backed repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Select Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsSelect Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Select Class Shares remains stable at US$1 per Share.

Select Accumulation Class Shares and Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.50% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

8 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund - Select Class and Select Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase agreements	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's (ESMA) guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in US$. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in US Dollars.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments that maintain a short-term foreign currency rating in one of the two highest short-term ratings categories by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of SharesSelect Class Shares

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Select Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term

realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from US$10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Select Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Select Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

After: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on Business Day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$

Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation Class Shares

Select Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

9 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Select Class and Select Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Euro. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Euro.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Bank Obligations" and as a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Commercial Paper" (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an "Acquired Fund") which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a "Short Term Money Market Fund" or "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund has invested in.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsSelect Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. *Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to redistribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

10 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Select Class and Select Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes

Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Sterling. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Sterling.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from GBP10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Select Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Select Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation Class Shares

Select Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI")). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or

11 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund - Select Class, Select Accumulation Class and Select Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in US Treasury Obligations only. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations will enable the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The Fund is a Short Term Money Market Fund and its investment objective is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in ~~of~~ the following instruments:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

If the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 365 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$

Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Select Class, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa-mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below.

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high credit quality and liquidity, and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquidity Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Select Accumulation Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 11:00 am, New York time (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time), on 15 November 2016 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 11:00 am, New York time (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) on the following Business Day or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Select Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Select Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities;

and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation”, where the Fund’s net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Select Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Select Accumulation Class Shares and Select Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Select Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.65% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the “Fixed Rate”), although currently they do not exceed 0.50%. This includes the Distributor’s fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.65%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.30% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor’s fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any ordinary course out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors’ fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations (ie, associations of investment management entities, including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”)). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

1 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Fund - Super Administration Class, Super Administration Accumulation Class and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
US Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations of Corporations and Other Entities	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Non-US Government Obligations (US$ denominated)	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality

	Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Super Administration Class, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment. It is designed for non-US investors seeking to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity.

All of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSROs that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

"US Treasury Obligations" are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

US Government Securities

“US Government Securities” are obligations issued or guaranteed by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities. Unlike US Treasury Obligations, obligations issued or guaranteed by US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities are supported either by (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (such as securities of the Government National Mortgage Association), (b) the right of the issuer to borrow from the Treasury, (c) the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agency’s obligations (such as securities of the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation), or (d) only the credit of the issuer. No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the future. US Government Securities may include zero coupon bonds. Such bonds may be purchased when the Investment Manager believes that yields are attractive.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

US and Non-US Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “US Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by US subsidiaries of such banks.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in “Non-US Bank Obligations” limited to US Dollar denominated obligations issued or guaranteed by non-US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase, US branches of such non-US banks (Yankee obligations), non-US branches of such non-US banks and non-US branches of US banks having more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such bank obligations may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in bank obligations (whether US or non-US). As a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in US Dollars and is issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, US incorporated commercial banks, non-US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in US Dollars and issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated corporations or other entities.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Non-US Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in US Dollar denominated obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments of or entities located or organised in a non-US country that maintains a short-term foreign currency rating in the highest short-term ratings category by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus..

Purchase of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9:00 am, New York time, (normally 2:00 pm, Dublin time) on 12 July 2017 to 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Super Administration Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsSuper Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Super Administration Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Super Administration Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 1.00%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 1.15%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 1.15% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

2 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Fund – Super Administration Class, Super Administration Accumulation Class and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Euro. In the case of the Super Administration Class Shares, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of EUR 1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Euro provided however, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Euro equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry. The activities of banks in most countries are subject to comprehensive regulations which, in certain cases, for example in the case of US regulations, have undergone substantial changes in the past decade. The enactment of new legislation or regulations, as well as changes in interpretation and enforcement of current laws, may affect the manner of operations and profitability of banks in certain countries. Banks may be particularly susceptible to certain economic factors, such as interest rate changes and adverse developments in the market for real estate. Fiscal and monetary policy and general economic cycles can affect the availability and cost of funds, loan demand and asset quality and thereby impact the earnings and financial conditions of banks.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Euro and other currencies and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Euro and other currencies and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through

repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this.

Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state’s actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund has invested in and, in particular, may result in a situation whereby the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is no longer able to maintain its stated objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share.

Purchase of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of €1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be €1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 3:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Euro.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Super Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of €1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Super Administration Class Shares remains stable at €1 per Share.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received

After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

After: 4:00 pm, Dublin time*		Wired Business Day following next Business Day
*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 1.00%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 1.15%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 1.15% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

3 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund – Super Administration Class, Super Administration Accumulation Class and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Sterling. In respect of the Super Administration Class Shares, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU

Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in "Bank Obligations" limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Sterling equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in "Commercial Paper" (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Sterling and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Sterling and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an "Acquired Fund") which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of SharesSuper Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Sterling.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor		Accumulation of Income and Capital Gains Begins
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Same Business Day
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Super Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Super Administration Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 1.00%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 1.15%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

4 Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund – Super Administration Class, Super Administration Accumulation Class and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Japanese Yen. In respect of the Super Administration Class Shares, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Japanese Yen provided however, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval provided that in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Yen and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Yen and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of ¥10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be ¥10,000 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1.00 pm, Dublin time, on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 1:45 pm, Tokyo time, on the Business Day following the Dealing Day, or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Yen.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is ¥100 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Super Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4.00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 8:00 am Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Super Administration Class Shares remains stable at ¥10,000 per Share.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the "Redemption Threshold") received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥ 30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days' notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

The Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund from the previous Business Day can be obtained from:

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 1.00%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 1.15%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

5 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund - Super Administration Class, Super Administration Accumulation Class and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in US Treasury Obligations and US-Treasury backed repurchase agreements. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations and US Treasury-backed repurchase agreements will enable the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Super Administration Class, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), invest in US Treasury repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Super Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Super Administration Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Super Administration Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

After: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.70% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"). This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.70%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.50% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

6 Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund - Super Administration Class, Super Administration Accumulation Class and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of Sterling-denominated Government Securities. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements backed by the relevant Government Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Non-Government Guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	In exceptional market conditions the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in time deposits issued by financial institutions
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares are denominated in Sterling and, in the case of the Super Administration Class, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in Sterling-denominated securities or debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by the governments of OECD member states. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Floating and Variable Rate “Government Securities”

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “Government Securities”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

In exceptional market circumstances, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in Sterling time deposits with a maturity not exceeding one week which are issued by financial institutions which are rated A1/P1 and higher.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund), purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Super Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Super Administration Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares and Super Administration Accumulation Class (T) Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time *	Wired same Business Day
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time *	Wired next Business Day

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified in advance to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 1.00% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 1.15%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US$ and, in the case of the Super Administration Class, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Government Agency Securities

US Government Agency Securities are securities issued by agencies of the Federal government and are backed by either: (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (eg, Ginnie Mae) or (b) at the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agencies' obligations (eg, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to the agencies.

US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities

Securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government are deemed to include (a) securities for which the payment of principal and interest is backed by an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the US Government and (b) participations in loans made that are so guaranteed.

Floating and Variable Rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities"

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund), invest in US Government Agency Securities and US Treasury Securities backed repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsSuper Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Super Administration Class Shares remains stable at US$1 per Share.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Redemption of SharesSuper Administration Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 1.00 % (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

8 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund - Super Administration Class and Super Administration Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase agreements	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's (ESMA) guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in US$. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in US Dollars.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank..

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments that maintain a short-term foreign currency rating in one of the two highest short-term ratings categories by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of SharesSuper Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Super Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Super Administration Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from US$10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Super Administration Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on Business Day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair

disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
After: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 1.00%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 1.15%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

9 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Super Administration Class and Super Administration Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes

Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Euro. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Euro.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Bank Obligations" and as a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Commercial Paper" (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an "Acquired Fund") which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a "Short Term Money Market Fund" or "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund has invested in.

Super Administration Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and following Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 1.00%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 1.15%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to redistribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

- "Valuation Point" means 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

10 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Super Administration Class and Super Administration Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes

Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Sterling. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Sterling.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Super Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from GBP10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Super Administration Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 1.15% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 1.00%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 1.15%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.80% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in US Treasury Obligations only. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations will enable the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The Fund is a Short Term Money Market Fund and its investment objective is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in ~~of~~ the following instruments:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

If the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 365 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$

Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Super Administration Class, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa-mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below.

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high credit quality and liquidity, and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquidity Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Super Administration Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Super Administration Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation”, where the Fund’s net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Super Administration Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Super Administration Accumulation Class Shares and Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Super Administration Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Super Administration Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.70% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"). This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.70%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.50% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Supplement to the Prospectus

- Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class

This Supplement

This Supplement contains information in relation to the Shares in the Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class of the Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Fund, the Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Fund, the Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund, the Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, the Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, the Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, the Goldman Sachs US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund and the Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Value Class and Value Accumulation Class of the Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, the Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund (the “Shares”). Words and terms defined in the Prospectus have the same meaning in this Supplement unless otherwise stated herein.

The Supplement forms part of and must always be read in conjunction with the Prospectus. The Prospectus contains detailed information on the following aspects of the Funds: a description of Share Classes; the general risks associated with an investment in the Funds; information on the management and administration of the Funds and in respect of those third parties providing services to the Funds; the purchase and redemption of Shares and exchange privileges; the determination of Net Asset Value; dividend policy; fees and expenses of the Funds; information on the Funds; meetings of and reports to Shareholders; and taxation.

Investment in a Fund is not in the nature of a deposit in a bank account and is not protected by any government, government agency or other guarantee scheme. Principal invested, including in those Funds which seek to maintain a stable Net Asset Value Per Share, is capable of fluctuation.

Certain of the Shares have been admitted to the Official List and to trading on the Global Exchange Market of the Irish Stock Exchange. The Directors do not expect that an active secondary market will develop in the Shares.

No subscriptions will be accepted for Shares in any of the Funds if the investor is basing its decision to invest solely on the information contained in this Supplement.

This Supplement provides summary information on the Shares in each of the Funds that are available as of 11 July 2017.

1 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Fund - Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
US Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations of Corporations and Other Entities	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Non-US Government Obligations (US$ denominated)	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Value Class, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment. It is designed for non-US investors seeking to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity.

All of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSROs that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

"US Treasury Obligations" are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

US Government Securities

“US Government Securities” are obligations issued or guaranteed by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities. Unlike US Treasury Obligations, obligations issued or guaranteed by US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities are supported either by (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (such as securities of the Government National Mortgage Association), (b) the right of the issuer to borrow from the Treasury, (c) the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agency’s obligations (such as securities of the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation), or (d) only the credit of the issuer. No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the future. US Government Securities may include zero coupon bonds. Such bonds may be purchased when the Investment Manager believes that yields are attractive.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

US and Non-US Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “US Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by US subsidiaries of such banks.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in “Non-US Bank Obligations” limited to US Dollar denominated obligations issued or guaranteed by non-US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase, US branches of such non-US banks (Yankee obligations), non-US branches of such non-US banks and non-US branches of US banks having more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such bank obligations may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in bank obligations (whether US or non-US). As a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in US Dollars and is issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, US incorporated commercial banks, non-US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in US Dollars and issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated corporations or other entities.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Non-US Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in US Dollar denominated obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments of or entities located or organised in a non-US country that maintains a short-term foreign currency rating in the highest short-term ratings category by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Value Class Shares

Value Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9:00 am, New York time, (normally 2:00 pm, Dublin time) on 12 July 2017 to 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsValue Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Value Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Value Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Value Accumulation Class Shares and Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.40%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.40% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

2 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Fund – Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Euro. In the case of the Value Class Shares, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of EUR 1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Euro provided however, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10%

of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Euro equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry. The activities of banks in most countries are subject to comprehensive regulations which, in certain cases, for example in the case of US regulations, have undergone substantial changes in the past decade. The enactment of new legislation or regulations, as well as changes in interpretation and enforcement of current laws, may affect the manner of operations and profitability of banks in certain countries. Banks may be particularly susceptible to certain economic factors, such as interest rate changes and adverse developments in the market for real estate. Fiscal and monetary policy and general economic cycles can affect the availability and cost of funds, loan demand and asset quality and thereby impact the earnings and financial conditions of banks.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Euro and other currencies and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Euro and other currencies and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase

securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this.

Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund has invested in and, in particular, may result in a situation whereby the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is no longer able to maintain its stated objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share.

Purchase of Shares

Value Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be €1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid

Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of €10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 3:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Euro.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor	Accumulation of Income and Capital Gains Begins

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Value Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash

distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of €1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Value Class Shares remains stable at €1 per Share.

Value Accumulation Class Shares and Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time*	Wired same Business Day

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.40%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.40 % without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

3 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund – Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Sterling. In respect of the Value Class Shares, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU

Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Sterling equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Sterling and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Sterling and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of SharesValue Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Sterling.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor		Accumulation of Income and Capital Gains Begins
By:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Same Business Day
After:	1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 4:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Value Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Value Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Value Accumulation Class Shares and Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of SharesValue Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.40%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.40% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to redistribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

4 Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund – Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Japanese Yen. In respect of the Value Class Shares, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Japanese Yen provided however, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval provided that in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Yen and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Yen and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Value Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of ¥10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be ¥10,000 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1.00 pm, Dublin time, on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 1:45 pm, Tokyo time, on the Business Day following the Dealing Day, or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is ¥100 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Value Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4.00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 8:00 am Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Value Class Shares remains stable at ¥10,000 per Share.

Value Accumulation Class Shares and Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the "Redemption Threshold") received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥ 30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days' notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

The Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund from the previous Business Day can be obtained from:

or by contacting the Management Company on +44 207774 6366.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time (i) on the Dealing Day or (ii) on the fifth Business Day prior to the Dealing Day if the redemption request exceeds the Redemption Threshold *	Wired on the Business Day following the Dealing Day	Earned on Dealing Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after the relevant Dealing Day.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.40%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.40% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

5 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund - Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in US Treasury Obligations and US-Treasury backed repurchase agreements. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations and US Treasury-backed repurchase agreements will enable the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Value Class, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), invest in US Treasury

repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Value Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Value Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite

500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Value Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Value Accumulation Class Shares and Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired same Business Day	Not earned on day request is received
After: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair

disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 11:00 am, New York time (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 11:00 am, New York time * (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
After: 11:00 am, New York time * (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired same Business Day
After: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.60%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or

6 Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund - Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of Sterling-denominated Government Securities. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements backed by the relevant Government Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Non-Government Guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	In exceptional market conditions the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in time deposits issued by financial institutions
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares are denominated in Sterling and, in the case of the Value Class, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in Sterling-denominated securities or debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by the governments of OECD member states. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Floating and Variable Rate “Government Securities”

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “Government Securities”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

In exceptional market circumstances, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in Sterling time deposits with a maturity not exceeding one week which are issued by financial institutions which are rated A1/P1 and higher.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund), purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Value Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Value Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Value Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

Value Accumulation Class Shares and Value Accumulation Class (T) Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Value Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time *	Wired same Business Day
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time *	Wired next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified in advance to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 0.40%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund.

- (i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

7 Goldman Sachs US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund - Value Class, Value Accumulation Class and Value Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a portfolio of high quality money market securities issued by US Government Agencies or US Treasury Securities. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase such securities through repurchase agreements backed by US Government Agency Securities or US Treasury Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Government Agency Securities	Yes
US Treasuries and US Government Guaranteed Securities	Yes
Non-Government guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	No
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries and US Government Guaranteed Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US$ and, in the case of the Value Class, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Government Agency Securities

US Government Agency Securities are securities issued by agencies of the Federal government and are backed by either: (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (eg, Ginnie Mae) or (b) at the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agencies' obligations (eg, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to the agencies.

US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities

Securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government are deemed to include (a) securities for which the payment of principal and interest is backed by an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the US Government and (b) participations in loans made that are so guaranteed.

Floating and Variable Rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities"

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund), invest in US Government Agency Securities and US Treasury Securities backed repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Value Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsValue Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Value Class Shares remains stable at US$1 per Share.

Value Accumulation Class Shares and Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of SharesValue Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap and Expected Expense Rate includes a service fee of 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

8 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund - Value Class and Value Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's (ESMA) guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in US$. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in US Dollars.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments that maintain a short-term foreign currency rating in one of the two highest short-term ratings categories by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Value Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Value Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term

realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from US$10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Value Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on Business Day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$

Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Value Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
After: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.40%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.40% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

9 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Value Class and Value Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Euro. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Euro.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund has invested in.

Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from €10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Value Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After:	1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and following Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Value Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor		Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*		Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*		Wired Business Day following next Business Day
*Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.40%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.40% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

10 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – Value Class and Value Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Sterling. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Sterling.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Value Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from GBP10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Value Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation Class Shares

Value Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor's fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.40%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.40% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor's fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$

Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the Value Class, the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa-mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below.

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high credit quality and liquidity, and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquidity Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

Value Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

Value Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Value Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation”, where the Fund’s net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per Value Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

Value Accumulation Class Shares and Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Value Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund’s cost and Shareholder’s risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Value Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.40% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the “Fixed Rate”), although currently they do not exceed 0.25%. This includes the Distributor’s fee referred to in the paragraph below. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.60%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate includes a service fee of up to 0.05% (on an annualised basis) which the Company may pay to the Distributor. The Distributor’s fee will be based on the average daily net assets of the Shares held by the Distributor and/or any third parties appointed by the Distributor on behalf of its customers. The Distributor intends to re-distribute this fee to third parties as compensation for the provision of services by those third parties to their customers in relation to the Shares on an on-going basis, including assistance in purchasing, redeeming or exchanging the Shares, the provision of information in relation to the Company and any other assistance as may be requested by their customers. This service fee will be payable out of the assets of the Company attributable to or represented by the Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors’ fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

1 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Fund - X Class, X Accumulation Class and X Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
US Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations of Corporations and Other Entities	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Non-US Government Obligations (US$ denominated)	Yes
Taxable Municipals	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the X Class, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment. It is designed for non-US investors seeking to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity.

All of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSROs that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

"US Treasury Obligations" are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

US Government Securities

“US Government Securities” are obligations issued or guaranteed by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities. Unlike US Treasury Obligations, obligations issued or guaranteed by US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities are supported either by (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (such as securities of the Government National Mortgage Association), (b) the right of the issuer to borrow from the Treasury, (c) the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agency’s obligations (such as securities of the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation), or (d) only the credit of the issuer. No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to US Government agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the future. US Government Securities may include zero coupon bonds. Such bonds may be purchased when the Investment Manager believes that yields are attractive.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the US Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

US and Non-US Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “US Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by US subsidiaries of such banks.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in “Non-US Bank Obligations” limited to US Dollar denominated obligations issued or guaranteed by non-US banks which have more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase, US branches of such non-US banks (Yankee obligations), non-US branches of such non-US banks and non-US branches of US banks having more than US$1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Such bank obligations may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in bank obligations (whether US or non-US). As a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in US Dollars and is issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, US incorporated commercial banks, non-US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in US Dollars and issued or guaranteed by US incorporated corporations, non-US incorporated corporations or other entities.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Non-US Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in US Dollar denominated obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments of or entities located or organised in a non-US country that maintains a short-term foreign currency rating in the highest short-term ratings category by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

X Class Shares

X Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 4:00 pm, New York time, (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time, (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsX Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the X Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per X Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

X Accumulation Class Shares and X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation Shares and X Class Accumulation (T) Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation or Class X Accumulation (T) Shares under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.05%. The Investment Manager will absorb, by reimbursement to the account of the Shares, any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.10% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 4:00 pm, New York time (normally 9:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

2 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Fund – X Class, X Accumulation Class and X Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Euro. In the case of the X Class Shares, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of EUR 1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Euro provided however, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10%

of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Euro equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry. The activities of banks in most countries are subject to comprehensive regulations which, in certain cases, for example in the case of US regulations, have undergone substantial changes in the past decade. The enactment of new legislation or regulations, as well as changes in interpretation and enforcement of current laws, may affect the manner of operations and profitability of banks in certain countries. Banks may be particularly susceptible to certain economic factors, such as interest rate changes and adverse developments in the market for real estate. Fiscal and monetary policy and general economic cycles can affect the availability and cost of funds, loan demand and asset quality and thereby impact the earnings and financial conditions of banks.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Euro and other currencies and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Euro and other currencies and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase

securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this.

Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund has invested in and, in particular, may result in a situation whereby the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is no longer able to maintain its stated objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share.

Purchase of Shares

X Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be €1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of €10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 3:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Euro.

If order and cleared monies are received by the Distributor	Accumulation of Income and Capital Gains Begins
By: 1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 3:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Same Business Day
After: 1:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Form)* 3:00 pm, Dublin time (Subscription Monies)*	Next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of purchase orders shall be notified to all Shareholders in advance

All Shares issued will be in registered form and no Share certificates will be issued. Written confirmations of ownership or redemption will be sent to Shareholders normally within two Business Days. Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund is €1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

DistributionsX Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of €1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per X Class Shares remains stable at €1 per Share.

X Accumulation Class Shares and X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

X Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation Shares and X Class Accumulation (T) Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation or Class X Accumulation (T) Shares under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.05%. The Investment Manager will absorb, by reimbursement to the account of the Shares, any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.10% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Fund.

- “Business Day” means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- “Valuation Point” means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

3 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund – X Class, X Accumulation Class and X Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Sterling. In respect of the X Class Shares, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU

Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks which have more than the Sterling equivalent of USD 1 billion in total assets at the time of purchase. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Sterling and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Sterling and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of SharesX Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Monthly statements will be sent to Shareholders normally within five Business Days after the end of the month in which the purchase or redemption is made.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of GBP10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in Sterling.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

X Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per X Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share.

X Accumulation Class Shares and X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation Shares and X Class Accumulation (T) Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation or Class X Accumulation (T) Shares under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the “Fixed Rate”), although it is not anticipated that they will exceed 0.05%. The Investment Manager will absorb, by reimbursement to the account of the Shares, any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.10% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors’ fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the “ICI”). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company’s investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Fund.

“Business Day”	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in London; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
“Valuation Point”	means 4:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

4 Goldman Sachs Yen Liquid Reserves Fund – X Class, X Accumulation Class and X Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Bank Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Commercial Paper	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in Japanese Yen. In respect of the X Class Shares, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in Japanese Yen provided however, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval provided that in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” limited to securities issued or guaranteed by banks. Subject to the ability of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will only invest in promissory notes which are transferable securities listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Such obligations may also include debt obligations issued by subsidiaries of such banks and may be general obligations of the parent bank or may be limited to the issuing branch by the terms of the specific obligations or by government regulation.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest more than 25% of its net assets in obligations of banks. As a result, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) which is payable in Yen and is issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities. In addition, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other short-term obligations payable in Yen and issued or guaranteed by corporations, commercial banks or other entities, such as certificates of deposit, short-term notes and bonds.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels. The issuers or financial intermediaries providing demand features may support their ability to purchase the obligations by obtaining credit with liquidity supports. These may include lines of credit, which are conditional commitments to lend and letters of credit, which will ordinarily be irrevocable.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund with substantially similar risks. The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

X Class Shares

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund is ¥100 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

X Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4.00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the second Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of ¥10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 8:00 am Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Yen Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation”, where the Fund’s net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per X Class Shares remains stable at ¥10,000 per Share.

X Accumulation Class Shares and X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

X Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Dealing Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day will be effected on that Dealing Day. Redemption requests which exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund on the previous Business Day (the “Redemption Threshold”) received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time, will be effected on the Dealing Day five Business Days later. The Redemption Threshold only applies where the total Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserve Fund is in excess of ¥ 30 billion. The Directors may at their discretion waive the requirement for five Business Days’ notice in respect of redemption requests above the Redemption Threshold and effect such requests (received prior to 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Dealing Day) on that Dealing Day.

The Net Asset Value of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund from the previous Business Day can be obtained from:

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation Shares and X Class Accumulation (T) Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation or Class X Accumulation (T) Shares under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb, by reimbursement to the account of the Shares, any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%. The Fixed Rate may not be increased above 0.10% without the approval of the holders of the Shares. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock

Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Yen Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in London and Japan; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Dealing Day"	means each Business Day in respect of which subscriptions, redemptions or exchanges are effected.
"Valuation Point"	means 4.00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

5 Goldman Sachs US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund - X Class, X Accumulation Class and X Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in US Treasury Obligations and US-Treasury backed repurchase agreements. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in US Treasury Obligations and US Treasury-backed repurchase agreements will enable the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
US Treasury Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate "US Treasury Obligations"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US Dollars and, in the case of the X Class, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), invest in US Treasury

repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

X Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

X Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the X Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per X Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

X Accumulation Class Shares and X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

X Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends

* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

X Accumulation Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 11:00 am, New York time (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

After: 11:00 am, New York time * (normally 4:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on the previous Business Day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired same Business Day
After: 3:00 pm, New York time * (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor, such time being at or before the Valuation Point. Any change in cut-off time for the receipt of redemption requests shall be notified to all Shareholders.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation Shares and X Class Accumulation (T) Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation or Class X Accumulation (T) Shares under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.05%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Treasury Liquid Reserves Fund.

“Business Day”	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
“Valuation Point”	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

6 Goldman Sachs Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund - X Class, X Accumulation Class and X Accumulation (T) Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is to maximise current income to the extent consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of Sterling-denominated Government Securities. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes, purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements backed by the relevant Government Securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government Securities	Yes
Non-Government Guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	In exceptional market conditions the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in time deposits issued by financial institutions
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a “Short Term Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares are denominated in Sterling and, in the case of the X Class, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation” for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund’s investments will be denominated in Sterling provided however, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor’s and/or Aaa/mf by Moody’s. The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. In line the ESMA guidelines, the Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

Government Securities

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in Sterling-denominated securities or debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by the governments of OECD member states. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Floating and Variable Rate “Government Securities”

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “Government Securities”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

In exceptional market circumstances, the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may also invest in Sterling time deposits with a maturity not exceeding one week which are issued by financial institutions which are rated A1/P1 and higher.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund), purchase Sterling-denominated securities issued or guaranteed by governments of OECD member states through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

X Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be GBP1 per Share although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 1:00 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 4:00 pm, Dublin time or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

X Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 4:00 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of GBP1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per X Class Shares remains stable at GBP1 per Share

X Accumulation Class Shares and X Accumulation Class (T) Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation Shares and X Class Accumulation (T) Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation or Class X Accumulation (T) Shares under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Government Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.05% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above 0.10%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Non-Government guaranteed or Non-Government Agency Securities	No
Floating and Variable Rate "Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries and US Government Guaranteed Securities"	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

The Investment Manager will review the ratings of securities on a continuous basis, with a view to taking appropriate action if a rating falls below the ratings specified above.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 397 days or less at the time of purchase. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 60 days and a weighted average life of 120 days or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. As such, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is classified as a "Short Term Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are denominated in US$ and, in the case of the X Class, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's objective is to achieve a stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Please see section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation" for details on how this may be achieved in a negative yield environment.

All of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's investments will be denominated in US Dollars provided however, the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a Triple A rating (AAAm) by Standard & Poor's and/or Aaa/mf by Moody's. The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund shall not be obliged to seek or maintain any such rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

Description of Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may invest in a range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

US Government Agency Securities

US Government Agency Securities are securities issued by agencies of the Federal government and are backed by either: (a) the full faith and credit of the US Government (eg, Ginnie Mae) or (b) at the discretionary authority of the US Government to purchase the agencies' obligations (eg, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac). No assurance can be given that the US Government will provide financial support to the agencies.

US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities

Securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the US Government are deemed to include (a) securities for which the payment of principal and interest is backed by an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the US Government and (b) participations in loans made that are so guaranteed.

Floating and Variable Rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities"

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate "US Government Agency Securities" and "US Treasuries or US Government Guaranteed Securities", the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund), invest in US Government Agency Securities and US Treasury Securities backed repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and, for the avoidance of any doubt, no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

X Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $1 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Purchase orders received by 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day. The Distributor may elect a later cut-off time at or before the Valuation Point for receipt of purchase orders.

Subscription monies in cleared funds must be transmitted to the Company by 6:00 pm, New York time (normally 11:00 pm, Dublin time) or such later time as the Distributor may determine.

Unless previously agreed in writing with the Distributor, subscription monies must be paid in US$.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

X Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's daily distributions and that the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading "NAV Stabilisation", where the Fund's net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per X Class Shares remains stable at US$1 per Share.

X Accumulation Class Shares and X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

X Class Shares

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation Shares and X Class Accumulation (T) Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation or Class X Accumulation (T) Shares under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Expense Cap"), although currently they do not exceed 0.05% (the "Expected Expense Rate"). The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Expense Cap that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Expense Cap by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify in advance the holders of the relevant Shares if the Expense Cap is increased above the amount set out above. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Expense Cap covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Expense Cap excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Government and Agency Liquid Reserves Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

8 Goldman Sachs US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund - X Class and X Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase agreements	Yes

Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations
Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of net assets in aggregate in other collective Investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed equivalent to High Quality by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

Miscellaneous	May Invest in Securities Issued by Supranational Organisations that are Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
---------------	--

If the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's (ESMA) guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in US$. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in US Dollars.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description Of Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central, regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Custodial Receipts

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may also acquire securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities in the form of custodial receipts that evidence ownership of future interest payments, principal payments or both on certain notes or bonds issued by the Government, its agencies, authorities or instrumentalities.

Bank Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Corporate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Government Obligations

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in obligations (limited to commercial paper and other notes) issued or guaranteed by the governments that maintain a short-term foreign currency rating in one of the two highest short-term ratings categories by the requisite number of RSROs.

Municipal Securities

“Municipal Securities” are obligations issued by or on behalf of States, territories and possessions of the United States of America and their political subdivisions, agencies, authorities and instrumentalities, and the District of Columbia. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by State and municipal governments when yields on such securities are attractive compared to other taxable investments.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

X Class Shares

Subscriptions for Shares at the price of $10,000 per Share will be considered during the period from 9.00 am on 12 July 2017 to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time), on 11 January 2018 or such earlier or later time as the Directors may determine at their discretion and notify to the Central Bank. Thereafter, X Class Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Purchase orders received by 2:00 pm, New York time, (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

X Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the X Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from US$10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman, Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

X Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

X Class Shares

X Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on Business Day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

X Accumulation Class Shares

X Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired next Business Day
After: 2:00 pm, New York time * (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time)	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares and Class X Accumulation Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares and Class X Accumulation under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.05%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the US$ Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

"Business Day"	means:
	(i) those days when banks are open for business in New York with the exception of Good Friday; or
	(ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
"Valuation Point"	means 2:00 pm, New York time (normally 7:00 pm, Dublin time) on a Business Day.

9 Goldman Sachs Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – X Class and X Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective investment schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May Invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will comply with any changes to the ESMA guidelines. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Euro. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Euro.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as “High Quality Securities” or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. ‘Sovereign issuance’ should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Bank Obligations" and as a result, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in "Commercial Paper" (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an "Acquired Fund") which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a "Short Term Money Market Fund" or "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the "Portfolio Management Techniques" section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus. More specific investment risks relating to an investment in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are as follows:

Euro Currency Risk

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund operates in Euro and may hold Euro and Euro denominated bonds and other obligations directly or as collateral. The Euro requires participation of multiple sovereign states forming the Euro zone and is therefore sensitive to the credit, general economic and political position of each such state including each state's actual and intended ongoing engagement with and/or support for the other sovereign states then forming the European Union, in particular those within the Euro zone. EU Member States and European businesses and financial institutions and counterparties are currently being affected, some adversely, by severe political and economic difficulties and concerns, including in relation to sovereign and non-sovereign funding and debt. European, IMF and bilateral emergency funding arrangements have already been extended and/or are contemplated in respect of certain EU Member States and European based financial institutions. These developments have had a negative effect in political terms and also in economic terms. Financial markets, investor sentiment and credit ratings of institutions and EU Member States have already been adversely affected and may continue to be so. In addition, investment activity has been affected, as has the willingness of financial institutions to extend credit. The possibility of EU Member States that have adopted the Euro abandoning or being forced to withdraw from the Euro remains. It is not possible to predict accurately the precise nature of the consequences of an EU Member State leaving the Euro as there has been no legal framework put in place in preparation for such an event. These factors might materially adversely impact the value of securities that the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund has invested in.

Purchase of Shares

Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from €10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

X Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

X Class Shares

X Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and following Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above, but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

X Accumulation Class Shares

X Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

In accordance with the following and the Prospectus, redemption proceeds will be wired at the Fund's cost and Shareholder's risk to the bank account designated by the redeeming Shareholder.

In the event that the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that (a) the Directors, in consultation with the Management Company, determine that such practice would provide the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and (b) the Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares and Class X Accumulation Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares and Class X Accumulation under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.05%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%.

There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under "Fees and Expenses" in the Prospectus.

Definitions

The following definitions shall apply in respect of the Euro Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

- "Business Day" means:
- (i) those days when the TARGET system is open to effect the movement of Euro; or
 - (ii) such other day or days as may be determined from time to time by the Directors and notified to Shareholders in advance.
- "Valuation Point" means 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day.

10 Goldman Sachs Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund – X Class and X Accumulation Class

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is to maintain its principal and provide a return in line with the interest rates of money market instruments while maintaining an emphasis on liquidity and generating, to the extent possible, current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market securities. The Investment Manager believes that its investment practices and disciplined approach to investing in money market securities will enable the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to achieve its stated objective, although this cannot be guaranteed. The investment objective of the Fund is intended to comply with the classification of a standard “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Investment Policies

Summary of Investment Policies

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in High Quality money market instruments, as determined by the Investment Manager. In making its determination, the Investment Manager will take into account a range of factors including, but not limited to:

The credit rating of the instrument;

The nature of the asset class represented by the instrument;

The operational and counterparty risk inherent within the transaction; and

The liquidity profile.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a variety of instruments including, but not limited to:

Security/Instrument	Eligibility
Government/Treasury Obligations	Yes
Supranational Obligations (Excluding Bank Commercial Paper)	Yes
Quasi-Government Obligations	Yes
Commercial Paper & Bank Obligations	Yes
Short-Term Obligations	Yes
Floating and Variable Rate Obligations	Yes
Reverse Repurchase Agreements	Yes
Credit Quality	High Quality, as determined by the Investment Manager, that comply with the criteria for money-market instruments as set out in the UCITS Regulations

Collective investment schemes	Up to 10% of Net Assets in aggregate in Collective Investment Schemes
Unrated Securities	Deemed Equivalent to High Quality Securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase
Miscellaneous	May invest in securities issued by supranational organisations that are deemed equivalent to High Quality securities by the Investment Manager at the time of purchase

If the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund holds a security supported by a guarantee or demand feature it may rely on the credit quality of the guarantee or demand feature in determining the credit quality of the investment.

In accordance with its investment objective, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest in securities, instruments and obligations which are primarily listed or traded on Recognised Markets with remaining maturities (eg, a final maturity date) of 2 years or less at the time of purchase provided that the time remaining until the next interest rate reset date is less than or equal to 397 days. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will maintain a weighted average maturity of no more than 6 months and a weighted average life of 12 months or less. The calculation of both will take into account the impact of deposits and any efficient portfolio management techniques used by the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund. As such, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is classified as a standard "Money Market Fund" as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority's guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will invest at least two thirds of its portfolio in securities denominated in Sterling. Investment in non-Base Currency securities will be hedged to the Base Currency of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

Shares of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund are denominated in Sterling.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, but is not obliged to, seek to maintain a credit rating. Details of the current rating for Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund, if any, can be obtained from the Distributor or on www.gsamfunds.com.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may accept collateral in respect of reverse repurchase agreements which is denominated in other currencies.

Any change in investment objectives and any material change in investment policies will be subject to Shareholder approval, provided that, in the event that the UCITS Regulations are modified in respect of the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, the Directors may alter the investment restrictions of the Company accordingly without obtaining the prior approval of Shareholders. Shareholders shall be given prior notification of any such alteration by the Company.

Description of Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in a broad range of securities that qualify as "High Quality Securities" as defined below or, if unrated, that are deemed by the Investment Manager to be of equivalent quality including, but not limited to, the following:

High Quality Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high quality and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager's internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements. Government securities meeting these criteria are considered High Quality Securities.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase sovereign issuances of at least investment grade quality. 'Sovereign issuance' should be understood as money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a central,

regional or local authority or central bank of a Member State, the European Central Bank, the European Union or the European Investment Bank.

Government Securities

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in debt securities (both fixed and floating rate) issued or guaranteed by any government, including for the avoidance of doubt the UK government, or by its authorities, agencies or instrumentalities or by any of the following supranational or public international bodies of which one or more EU Member States are members: the European Investment Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, Euratom, the European Community, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. Subject to the ability of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to invest up to 10% of its net assets in unlisted transferable securities, all such securities will be listed, traded or dealt on a Recognised Market.

Bank Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Bank Obligations” and as a result, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may be especially affected by favourable and adverse developments in or related to the banking industry.

Commercial Paper and Other Short-Term Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in “Commercial Paper” (including asset-backed commercial paper) or other short-term obligations issued or guaranteed by corporations.

Floating and Variable Rate Obligations

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may purchase variable or floating rate obligations, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Other Collective Investment Schemes

Subject to the investment restrictions referred to in Appendix A to the Prospectus, the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes (each an “Acquired Fund”) which invest in securities, instruments or obligations of the type in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is permitted to invest hereunder, provided that the Investment Manager determines that an investment in an Acquired Fund presents minimal credit risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless its investment objectives, policies and restrictions are substantially similar to those of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund with substantially similar risks. The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund will not invest in any Acquired Fund unless it is a “Short Term Money Market Fund” or “Money Market Fund” as defined by the European Securities and Markets Authority’s Guidelines on a common definition of European money market funds.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may, for efficient portfolio management purposes (e.g. for the reduction of risk, the reduction of cost, and/or the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund), purchase securities through repurchase agreements and may, subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income therefrom may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under “Risk Considerations” in the Prospectus.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that purchase orders may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund is GBP1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

X Class Shares

All or substantially all of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income attributable to the Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 1:30 pm, Dublin time on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would cause the Fund's Net Asset Value Per Share to deviate materially from GBP10,000. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are normally available after 5:00 pm Dublin time each day from Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund should contact Goldman Sachs International at the above number or in writing to Shareholder Services, Christchurch Court, 10-15 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7HD, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

X Accumulation Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

X Class Shares

X Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds and Dividends

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily	Dividends
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day	Earned on day request is received
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day	Earned on day request is received and the next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

X Accumulation Class Shares

X Accumulation Class Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Redemption requests received prior to 1:30 pm, Dublin time on a Business Day will be effected on that Business Day.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption Request Received by the Distributor	Redemption Proceeds Ordinarily
By: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired next Business Day
After: 1:30 pm, Dublin time*	Wired Business Day following next Business Day
* Or such other time as may be determined by the Distributor.

Redemption proceeds will normally be wired as set forth above but may be paid up to three Business Days after receipt of a valid redemption request.

In the event that the Directors or the Management Company believe that there are sufficient markets in which the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund may invest which have closed at an earlier time than usual, then the Directors or the Management Company may determine that redemption requests may only be accepted before a cut-off time which is earlier than the cut-off time disclosed above provided that the Directors or the Management Company determine that such practice would provide the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund and the Shareholders with a potential benefit and would not result in any unfair disadvantage to the Shareholders and the Directors and the Management Company shall have regard at all times to the equal treatment of Shareholders.

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares and Class X Accumulation Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares and Class X Accumulation under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the Sterling Liquid Reserves Plus Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.05%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.

Further details of the charges and expenses of the Company are set out under “Fees and Expenses” in the Prospectus.

High Quality Securities

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase securities that the Investment Manager judges to be of a high credit quality and liquidity, and that comply with the requirements of any RSROs that are rating the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquidity Reserves Fund at the time of purchase. The Investment Manager will consider a money market instrument not to be of high quality unless it has been awarded one of the two highest available short-term credit ratings by each RSRO that has rated the instrument or, if the instrument is not rated, it is of an equivalent quality as determined by the Investment Manager’s internal rating process. The internal rating process includes several independent layers to filter potential investments, including market, liquidity, credit and political risk alongside adherence to relevant regulatory requirements.

US Treasury Obligations

“US Treasury Obligations” are securities issued or guaranteed by the US Treasury, payments of principal, and interest on which are backed by the full faith and credit of the US Government.

Floating and Variable Rate “US Treasury Obligations”

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may purchase variable or floating rate “US Treasury Obligations”, the values of which are generally more stable than those of fixed rate obligations in response to changes in interest rate levels.

Portfolio Management Techniques

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund may subject to the investment restrictions contained in the Prospectus, purchase securities on a when-issued or forward commitment basis, as further defined in the “Portfolio Management Techniques” section of the Prospectus.

Risk Considerations

It should be appreciated that the value of an investment and the income from short term debt and money market securities and instruments may vary and accordingly an investor may not get back the full amount invested. This is notwithstanding that the Fund will be managed with the objective of achieving a stable Net Asset Value Per Share and for the avoidance of any doubt no representation or warranty is made that the Investment Manager will be able to achieve this. Details of the general investment risks for an investor in the Company are set out under "Risk Considerations" in the Prospectus.

Purchase of Shares

X Class Shares

Shares may be purchased on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable at the Valuation Point on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus. The Net Asset Value Per Share is expected to be $1 per Share, although this cannot be guaranteed.

Investment Minimums

The minimum initial subscription for Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund is US$1 million or such lesser amount as the Directors or the Distributor may determine. There is no minimum amount for subsequent subscriptions.

Distributions

X Class Shares

All or substantially all of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income attributable to the X Class Shares will be declared as a dividend daily. Dividends will normally, but not always, be declared at 3:00 pm, New York time (normally 8:00 pm, Dublin time) on each Business Day and distributed monthly.

Shareholders may choose to have dividends paid in cash or additional full and fractional Shares of the Fund. This election should be made on a Shareholder's Original Account Agreement and may be changed at any time upon notice to the Company prior to the distribution. If no election is made, all dividend distributions will automatically be reinvested in the Fund. Where reinvestment of dividends has been selected, dividends will be reinvested as of the first Business Day of the next calendar month at the Net Asset Value Per Share as of that Business Day. Cash distributions will normally be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next calendar month. There is no initial charge on reinvestment of dividends. If the Shareholder has elected to have dividends paid in cash, the distribution will be made by telegraphic transfer to the account designated by the Shareholder in the Original Account Agreement and will be paid on or about the first Business Day of the next month.

The Articles empower the Directors to declare dividends in respect of any Shares out of net income (including interest income) and the excess of realised and unrealised capital gains over realised and unrealised losses in respect of investments of the Company. The Directors have determined that a fund may distribute net short term realised capital gains, if any, in the Fund's daily distributions and that the Fund may distribute at least annually its long-term realised capital gains, if any, after reduction in each case by available realised and unrealised capital losses. Although realised gains and losses on the assets of the Fund are reflected in its Net Asset Value, they are not expected to be of an amount which would affect the Fund's desired stable Net Asset Value Per Share of US$1. Daily net income per Share and annualised yields are available from Goldman Sachs & Co. at 312 655 4400 or the Transfer Agent at +353 1 613 0400. Shareholders with enquiries regarding the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund should contact Goldman, Sachs & Co. at the above numbers or in writing to 71 South Wacker Drive, Suite 500, Chicago, Illinois, 60606, USA or Goldman Sachs International at +44 20 7774 6366 or in writing to Shareholder Services, River Court, 120 Fleet Street, London EC4A 2BE, United Kingdom or the Transfer Agent at the above number or in writing to George's Quay House, 43 Townsend Street, Dublin 2, Ireland.

Shares issued pursuant to a purchase order effected prior to the subscription cut-off time on a Business Day shall accrue dividends from such Business Day until the day immediately preceding the Business Day on which the relevant Shares are redeemed.

The US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund's net investment income consists of the excess of (i) accrued interest or discount (including both original issue and market discount on taxable securities) on portfolio securities; and (ii) any income of the Fund from sources other than capital gains; over (iii) the amortisation of market premium on all portfolio securities; and (iv) the estimated expenses of the Fund, including a proportionate share of the general expenses of the Company.

As detailed in section 18.2 of the Prospectus under the heading “NAV Stabilisation”, where the Fund’s net investment income on any Business Day is negative, the Net Asset Value stabilisation mechanism described in the Prospectus may be implemented so that the Net Asset Value per X Class Shares remains stable at $1 per Share.

X Accumulation Class Shares and X Accumulation (T) Class Shares

Although the Articles empower the Directors to declare annual interim dividends, the Directors have determined to accumulate all net income and net realised capital gains attributable to the Shares.

Redemption of Shares

X Class Shares

Shares may be redeemed on any Business Day at the Net Asset Value Per Share applicable on that day in accordance with the procedures described below and in the Prospectus.

Charges and Expenses

Subscribers of Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation Shares and X Class Accumulation (T) Shares shall be restricted to those investors with an investment account with the Investment Managers through which certain investment services are provided or that otherwise pay fees or charges (other than those contemplated in this Prospectus) to Goldman Sachs Asset Management in respect of investment services. While no investment management fee is payable by an investor in respect of its investment in Class X Shares, Class X Accumulation or Class X Accumulation (T) Shares under the terms of this Prospectus, such investor will be responsible for the payment of a fee or charge to the Investment Managers under the terms of its investment account with the Investment Managers or otherwise. An investor may decide to satisfy the payment of such fee or charge by redeeming Shares in the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund.

The total annual fees and expenses of the US$ Treasury Instruments Liquid Reserves Fund to be borne by the Shares will be capped by the Investment Manager at 0.10% per annum of the Net Asset Value (the "Fixed Rate"), although currently they do not exceed 0.05%. The Investment Manager will absorb (directly by waiving a portion of its fees or by reimbursement to the account of the Shares), any additional fees, costs or expenses over the Fixed Rate that may arise in respect of the actual cost of establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares. The Investment Manager may from time to time elect to decrease or increase the Fixed Rate by notice to the Company, and the Company will notify the holders of the Shares if the Fixed Rate is increased above 0.10%. There are no sales charges payable on subscription for Shares and no redemption charges payable on a redemption of Shares.

The Fixed Rate covers all other fees, costs and expenses connected with the establishment, management and operation of the Company attributable to the Shares including, but not limited to, investment management, administration, registration, shareholder services, transfer agency, custody, sub-custody and transfer fees, wiring expenses in connection with the payment of redemption proceeds, any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company and other fees and expenses incurred in relation to preparing, translating, printing, publishing and distributing the Prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports and other documents to the Shareholders, the costs and expenses of obtaining authorisations or registrations of the Company or of the Shares with any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction, including the fees of local paying agents and representatives, the costs and expenses of listing and maintaining a listing of the Shares on The Irish Stock Exchange and any stock exchange, professional fees and expenses, annual audit fees, Directors' fees and expenses incurred by the Investment Manager in connection with membership in investment company organisations including but not limited to the investment company institute (the "ICI"). The Fixed Rate excludes withholding, stamp duty or other taxes on the investments of the Company, commissions and brokerage fees incurred with respect to the Company's investments, interest on borrowings and bank charges incurred in negotiating, effecting or varying the terms of such borrowings, any commissions charged by intermediaries in relation to an investment in the Shares, and such extraordinary or exceptional costs and expenses (if any) including those incurred by any of the service providers on behalf of the Company as may arise from time to time, such as material litigation in relation to the Company.
