Barings Global Senior Secured Bond Fund***

Performance

Barings Global Senior Secured Bond Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of -5.74% on the Tranche S USD Distribution and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of -5.24%** during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of -5.91% on the Tranche S USD Distribution.

In the first quarter, global markets experienced a historic sell-off as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic and a freefall in crude oil prices. With a global economic shutdown in place, sectors related to travel, leisure, and services found themselves being the most heavily impacted by the breakdown in economic output. In the second quarter, global markets began to recover and gain back some of the losses from the first three months of the year. The Federal Reserve announced a sweeping backstop of the market via its support of fallen angels and high yield ETF purchases which played an integral role in stabilising market conditions alongside unprecedented central bank action in Europe. Crude oil prices made a sharp recovery on optimism around economies reopening, demand improvement, and OPEC+ supply cuts leading WTI spot prices to rebound from historic lows.

The U.S. high yield bond market finished the first six months of the year with a negative return. As global markets saw significant declines in tandem with extraordinary volatility in the first quarter, investors were in risk-off mode for much of the six-month period. During a period of such indiscriminate selling across the market, triple-Cs in the U.S. naturally saw more significant pressure on trading levels and, as such, underperformed the broader market relative to higher quality double-B issuers. Eventually, the search for yield would return and lower quality began to outperform, however, still lagging higher quality bonds by June month-end. The Energy sector also experienced historic volatility during the period, alongside the price of crude oil. While making a recovery through the second quarter, U.S. Energy credits, alongside sectors most heavily impacted by the Covid-19 lockdown such as Leisure and Travel, would be the largest detractors to market returns. The Technology and Electronics and the Consumer Goods sectors over performed and managed to generate positive returns. Similarly, the European high yield bond market generated a negative return over the first half of 2020, as the wider economic impact of the Coronavirus pandemic led to wide-scale sell-offs and a collapse in prices. All industries in the European high yield bond market saw negative performance and, along with U.S. issuers, the most heavily impacted sectors were the Leisure, Services and Automotive sectors. Spreads and yields tightened significantly across the global high yield market and ended well tighter from the wides seen in late March. U.S. high yield bond gross new issuance soared in the second quarter setting a record quarter of $145.5 billion bringing year-to-date gross new issuance to $218.4 billion. This represented a 55% increase from the first six months in the prior year with a substantial portion of this comprised of senior secured bonds. Flows into U.S. high yield bond retail mutual funds were also up year-over-year, totaling +$31.9 billion compared to +$18.8 billion during the first half of 2019. Despite net inflows over the second quarter, the European high yield market still saw a net outflow year-to-date of -€2.8 billion. Total gross new issuance year-to-date was €37.2 billion which can be compared to €29.7 billion over the same period last year. Despite some of the strong technical tailwinds, some companies started to experience difficulties making interest payments in this extreme market environment and the U.S. high yield bond 12-month par-weighted default rate ended the period at 6.19%, which represents a 10-year high and heavily impacted by issuers in the Energy sector. The European high yield default rate ended higher at 2.7%.

The Sub-Fund underperformed its performance comparator year-to-date. Since its inception in January 2011, the Sub-Fund has over performed its performance comparator.

Market & Outlook

Additional lockdown measures could cause high yield conditions to further deteriorate, albeit highly unlikely to reach new lows given the implicit Federal Reserve backstop in the U.S. and global central bank stimulus. Fiscal stimulus, coupled with the Fed buying both investment grade and high yield bonds and further measures from European central banks, have provided much-needed support for the credit markets. In the U.S., the new issue market has been the most active since 2010 and in both the U.S. and Europe, borrowers have been raising both debt and equity in the event of an extended slowdown – this should limit default activity to known distressed situations, primarily energy and retail. Globally, there appears to be ample cash balances on the sidelines along with recent inflows into the asset class. As the macro environment improves, high yield has the potential to continue to rally, albeit with periods of volatility. Despite the recent short term underperformance trends, we remain comfortable in the positioning of the Sub-Fund and expect relative performance to rebound as many of the companies most significantly impacted by Covid-19 recover over the coming months ahead. We continue to believe that there are opportunities in high yield, in both the primary and secondary markets while avoiding distressed situations where there is higher default risk.

Performance

Barings European High Yield Bond Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of -7.40% on the Tranche S EUR Accumulation and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of -4.96%* during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of -7.55% on the Tranche S EUR Accumulation.

In the first quarter, global markets experienced a historic sell-off as a result of the Covid-19 spread and a freefall in crude oil prices. With a global economic shutdown in place, sectors related to travel, leisure, and services found themselves being the most heavily impacted by the breakdown in economic output. In the second quarter, global markets began to recover and gain back some of the losses from the first three months of the year. Crude oil prices made a sharp recovery on optimism around economies reopening, demand improvement, and OPEC+ supply cuts leading WTI spot prices to rebound from historic lows.

The European high yield bond market generated a negative return over the first half of 2020, as the wider economic impact of the Coronavirus pandemic led to wide-scale sell-offs and a collapse in prices. The option adjusted spread widened significantly from 323 basis points ("bps") to finish the period at 550 bps, having peaked at 907 bps towards the end of March. This brought the spread differential between single-Bs and double-Bs to 278 bps (672 bps vs 394 bps) at the end of June. The average price of the Index decreased from 102.65 to 94.85 and the yield-to-worst ended at 4.97%. All industries saw negative performance but the most heavily impacted sectors were the Leisure, Services and Automotive sectors. Despite net inflows over the second quarter, the European high yield market still saw a net outflow year-to-date of -€2.8 billion. Total gross new issuance year-to-date was €37.2 billion which can be compared to €29.7 billion over the same period last year.

The Sub-Fund underperformed its performance comparator year-to-date. Since its inception in May 2011, the Sub-Fund has over performed its performance comparator.

Market & Outlook

The European high yield market partially recovered during the quarter from the March sell-off, however, spreads continue to remain wider than at year-end. The new issuance market has recently reopened and, along with several recent fallen angels, continues to create new investment opportunities. As we look across the markets today, most high yield issuers appear to have the liquidity necessary to bridge themselves through the initial shock from the pandemic. However, one big question going forward is which companies will be able to manage higher debt levels, particularly if confronted with a weaker global economy once the pandemic recedes. We feel our fundamental, bottom-up approach is well suited to navigate the on-going uncertainty that lies ahead.

Performance

Barings Emerging Markets Corporate Bond Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of 0.69% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation and over performed against the performance comparator with a return of -0.16%* during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of 0.48% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation.

Having entered the year on a strong footing, Emerging Markets Debt suffered alongside the rest of the global markets in the month of March as markets reacted to the impact of economic lockdowns due to the coronavirus pandemic. Credit spreads widened past levels experienced during periods of volatility in 2016 and 2018 and in some cases, to levels not witnessed since the global financial crisis. Emerging market corporates recovered strongly in the second quarter with spreads for the CEMBI Broad Diversified tightening by 122 basis points ("bps") to 416 bps, but still remain 149 bps higher than the level they started the year at. By the end of the first half of 2020, expectations for corporate defaults looked brighter than they had three months prior given the significant levels of monetary and fiscal support provided by governments across the globe.

New issuance year-to-date has been strong, despite muted levels in March and April, with US$254 billion of new issuance, only marginally lagging the US$259 billion seen in the six months ended 30 June 2019, with investment grade issuance reaching a record pace year-to-date.

Historical performance is no indicator of current or future performance. The performance data does not take into account of any commissions and costs charged when subscribing and redeeming shares.

The Sub-Fund over performed its performance comparator year-to-date. Since its inception in April 2014, the Sub-Fund has over performed its performance comparator.

Market & Outlook

In our view further market direction is dependent on Covid-19 developments across the world through the summer. The risk of second waves and localised lockdowns is material and we expect to see volatility on the back of those headlines. At the same time, the unprecedented amount of support measures by governments and central banks across all regions are providing a backstop to the market. Overall we still expect further spread compression for the asset class given the still elevated spread levels relative to the start of the year; but we also expect to see greater credit differentiation going forward which supports the case for active risk managers.

Barings Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund

Performance

Barings Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of -2.98% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation share class and over performed against the performance comparator with a return of -6.89%* during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of -3.27% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation share class.

Emerging Markets Local Debt was down during the first half of 2020, as markets digested the spread of Covid-19, country lockdowns and the oil price war, which caused oil prices to fall over 50% in March, before rebounding 81% during the second quarter, ending the reporting period -38% year-to-date. While currencies fell -10.94% during the first half of the year, local rates were up 4.05% as governments eased rates to combat the severe economic shock as economies were forced to shut down at the end of the first quarter. Following the first quarters sell-off, asset prices rebounded in quarter two, returning 9.82% as markets began to re-open and valuations rebounded. Latin America has been one of the regions most effected by Covid-19, specifically, Brazil, Peru and Mexico, which have all seen significant currency depreciations. We believe many Emerging Markets currencies remain undervalued given the significant sell-off, along with a rebound in commodity prices; we favour currencies backed by a strong Balance of Payments and healthy current accounts.

Historical performance is no indicator of current or future performance. The performance data does not take into account any commissions and costs charged when subscribing and redeeming shares.

The Sub-Fund over performed its performance comparator year-to-date. Since its inception in April 2014, the Sub-Fund has over performed its performance comparator.

Market & Outlook

Markets are currently being driven by ample liquidity pumped into the system by governments and central banks, which is supportive of current asset prices. It's difficult to say if, or when, this will take a turn in the near term and is likely dependent on the severity of a potential second wave or a vaccine/immunity buildup. There are some signs that fear may be creeping back into the market, as negative headlines on Covid-19 in the U.S., Brazil and other hotspots are digested. Risks remain to both the upside and downside cases for global recovery, but on balance, we think the continued monetary stimulus, along with the potential for a sharper economic bounce-back in the second half of the year, could provide a tailwind to many Emerging Markets.

We expect that countries will continue down the recent path of becoming increasingly insular and relying more on domestic production of goods and services, a trend that Covid-19 is accelerating and that may prove to be a long-term structural headwind for Emerging Markets. Some countries are likely to see currency appreciation as a result of a stronger Balance of Payments outlook.

Barings Emerging Markets Debt Short Duration Fund

Performance

Barings Emerging Markets Debt Short Duration Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of 0.24% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of -0.02% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation.

Having entered the year on a strong footing, Emerging Markets Debt suffered alongside the rest of the global markets in the month of March as markets reacted to the impact of economic lockdowns due to the coronavirus pandemic. Credit spreads widened past levels experienced during periods of volatility in 2016 and 2018 and in some cases, to levels not witnessed since the global financial crisis. Emerging market corporates recovered strongly in the second quarter with spreads for the 1-3 year maturity segment of the CEMBI Broad Diversified tightening by 293 basis points ("bps") to 566 bps, spreads however, still remain 210 bps higher than the level they started the year at. As the market has recovered, there has been a normalisation of many of the inverted yield curves that occurred in March as investors sought to raise liquidity and were forced to sell assets with the highest cash price, typically short duration bonds. By the end of the first half of 2020, expectations for corporate defaults looked brighter than they had three months prior given the significant levels of monetary and fiscal support provided by governments across the globe.

New issuance year-to-date has been strong, despite muted levels in March and April, with US$254 billion of new issuance, only marginally lagging the US$259 billion seen in the six months ended 30 June 2019, with investment grade issuance reaching a record pace year-to-date.

Historical performance is no indicator of current or future performance. The performance data does not take into account of any commissions and costs charged when subscribing and redeeming shares.

Barings Active Short Duration Fund

Performance

Barings Active Short Duration Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of -3.06% on the Tranche S USD Accumulation and underperformed against the performance comparator which returned 2.99%* during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of -3.18% on the Tranche S USD Accumulation.

The U.S. Treasury curve remains flat – offering little compensation for accepting incremental duration/maturity risk. The duration of the Sub-Fund ended the period at 0.37 years in accordance with our duration management process. We have remained consistent in our theme of favouring securitised credit; focusing on investments in Asset Backed Securities ("ABS") Commercial Mortgage Backed Securities ("CMBS"), and Residential Mortgage Backed Securities ("RMBS") emphasising deal structure as a way of capturing attractive spreads compared to unsecured corporate debt.

The ABS, RMBS, and CMBS sector allocations detracted from performance. The Sub-Fund ended the period with a 36% weight to ABS, an 8% weight to RMBS, and a 4% weight to CMBS. The Sub-Fund continues to favour allocations across both consumer and commercial ABS sectors. Within ABS, Student Loan, Aviation, Auto, and Timeshare collateral exposure were negative contributors over the period, while Franchise Receivables remained firm. At the onset of the crisis, the market observed prices across securitised asset classes detach from underlying fundaments causing mark-to-market volatility that brought asset prices lower. Market concern over consumer demand impact amid the once developing Covid-19 crisis had higher beta consumer sectors such as Auto Rental, Timeshare, and Aviation at very illiquid and wide levels. By the end of the reporting period, securitised risk assets had rebounded on the heels of positive technicals that allowed spreads to compress tighter and reprice collateral higher. An environment created by low primary issuance, high market demand, shrinking dealer balance sheets, the U.S. Federal Reserve (the "Fed") Term Asset-Backed Loan Facility ("TALF") program and improving secondary prices helped markets recover some of the ground lost. While prices have improved, many securitised sectors still trade at levels wider compared to where they were before the Covid-19 economic shock.

The 35% allocation to investment grade corporate credit detracted from performance, but recovered much quicker than the Sub-Fund's securitised allocations. Investment grade corporate spreads widened 43 basis points ("bps") over the period to end the period at a spread of 150 bps. The outbreak of the Covid-19 global pandemic resulted in a rapid repricing of corporate risk assets in the first quarter. Spreads widened to 373 bps on 23 March with the pace of widening much greater than the 2008/2009 crisis period. Corporate spreads have recovered 223 bps since then as a result of monetary intervention and improved investor sentiment. The Fed began its Primary Market Corporate Credit Facility ("PMCCF") and Secondary Market Corporate Credit Facility ("SMCCF") purchase programs in the second quarter, which led to positive investor confidence in the market that helped bring spreads tighter. Spreads continued to rally in June, but took a slight pause as Covid-19 cases spiked which could lead to further consumer restrictions. The Sub-Fund's allocation to Chemicals, Metals/Mining, and Lodging were among the best performing sectors over the period, while Leasing, Banking, and Real Estate Investment Trusts ("REITs") were the worst.

The Sub-Fund underperformed its performance comparator year-to-date. Since its inception in November 2014, the Sub-Fund has over performed its performance comparator.

Market & Outlook

The market saw unprecedented events unfold over the past six months. Starting in the first quarter, financial markets were hit very hard, including even short maturity high quality strategies such as our Active Short Duration strategy. Given the market disruption experienced in the first half of the reporting period, short U.S. Treasuries was one of the highest performing sectors in the market. Furthermore, an index such as the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Government 1-3 year did particularly well; as it has no credit exposure at all being comprised primarily of Treasuries. Starting in late-April, investors experienced a case of whiplash as markets turned positive on the sentiment that the worst of the pandemic may be behind us. The Fed took an expedited course to stem volatility by implementing an alphabet soup of programs meant to get the market back on course, and up to this point, it has largely been successful. Targeting the corporate credit market, the PMCCF and SMCCF to support credit to employers by providing liquidity to the market for outstanding corporate bonds. Targeting the securitised market, the Fed established the TALF program to support the flow of credit to consumers and businesses. These programs have largely accomplished what they were set to correct, as market liquidity, investor sentiment, and security prices regained much of the ground lost at the start of the crisis. Market trends continued to show modest signs of improvement by the end of the second quarter; however, there are still many longer-term unknowns facing investors. Economic data released continues to be better than once feared at the onset of the pandemic; however, the U.S. faces a second wave of the virus as multiple states are starting to relax "stay-at-home" orders. A spike in cases could open the possibility of continued consumer restrictions that run the risk of producing a second leg down for markets. While many investors are enjoying the sugar high by trading on technicals created by Monetary and Fiscal stimulus, we remain diligent to our fundamental bottom-up process of capital preservation.

Performance

Barings Emerging Markets Debt Blended Total Return Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of 3.55% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of 3.19% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation share class.

Emerging Markets Debt asset classes were down during the first half of 2020, with corporate debt recording the best returns, followed by sovereign hard currency and local sovereign. At the index level, emerging market corporates returned -0.16%, emerging markets sovereign hard currency -2.76% and emerging markets local currency -6.89%, as markets digested the spread of Covid-19 and the oil price war, which caused oil prices to fall over 50% in March before rebounding 81% during the second quarter, ending the reporting period -38% year-to-date. Markets have recovered significantly, as economies re-opened and governments and central banks provided an unprecedented amount of stimulus. Corporate spreads widened 385 basis points ("bps") to their high at the end of March before tightening 236 bps to end the reporting period at 415 bps. Sovereign hard currency spreads widened 430 bps to their high at the end of March before tightening 248 bps to end the reporting period at 474 bps. While currencies fell -10.94% during the first half of the year, local rates were up 4.05% as governments eased rates to combat the severe economic shock as economies were forced to shut down at the end of the first quarter.

Market & Outlook

- The asset class is likely to benefit from continued monetary stimulus and the potential for a sharp economic rebound in the second half of the year.
- We expect that countries will continue down the recent path of becoming increasingly insular and relying more on domestic production of goods and services, a trend that Covid-19 is accelerating and that may prove to be a long-term structural headwind for Emerging Markets.
- Technicals continue to drive the market as the ample liquidity pumped into the system by governments and central banks continue to support asset prices. It's difficult to say if, or when, this will take a turn in the near term. We've seen recent signs that fear may be creeping back into the market, as negative headlines on Covid-19 in the U.S., Brazil and other hotspots are digested. There remain risks to both the upside and downside cases for global recovery. But on balance, we think the continued monetary stimulus, along with the potential for a sharper economic bounce-back in the second half of the year, could provide a tailwind to many Emerging Markets.

Barings Emerging Markets Sovereign Debt Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of -0.48% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation share class and over performed against the performance comparator with a return of -2.76%* during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of -0.83% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation share class.

Emerging Markets Sovereign Debt was down during the first half of 2020, as markets digested the spread of Covid-19 and the oil price war, which caused oil prices to fall over 50% in March before rebounding 81% in the second quarter, ending the reporting period down -38% year-to-date. The Index's losses were primarily driven by High Yield countries and quasi-sovereigns, which were down -9.59% during the first half of 2020 compared to Investment Grade which returned 3.13%. Spreads widened over 430 basis points ("bps") at the end of March when compared to their levels at the beginning of the reporting period. Spreads compressed nearly 250 bps in quarter two from their highs in March and ended the reporting period 185 bps wider than the start of the reporting period. The High Yield/Investment Grade spread differential reached over 800 bps in March and has since converged to 618 bps at the end of the reporting period; 270 bps wider than at the start of the year. Despite the sell-off in the first quarter, the asset class has rebounded to return 12.26% in the second quarter as markets began to re-open and valuations rebounded. Default or near-default countries have suffered the most in the first half of 2020, such as Lebanon, Venezuela and Suriname.

Historical performance is no indicator of current or future performance. The performance data does not take account of any commissions and costs charged when subscribing and redeeming shares.

The Sub-Fund over performed its performance comparator year-to-date. Since its inception in September 2015, the Sub-Fund has over performed its performance comparator.

Market & Outlook

As economies continue to reopen, albeit cautiously, and commodity prices retrench some of their losses, we remain cautious and optimistic that global demand will continue down a path of recovery. Markets continue to digest liquidity pumped into the system by governments and central banks, which remains supportive. There remain risks to both the upside and downside cases for global recovery. However, on balance, we think the continued monetary stimulus, along with the potential for a sharper economic bounce-back in the second half of the year, could provide a tailwind to many Emerging Markets. We remain selectively positioned in U.S.-linked and some core Europe-linked economies that have credible policy frameworks and proven capacities to adjust. We have reduced exposure to countries that we believe may be unable to fulfil their current debt obligations.

Barings U.S. High Yield Bond Fund

Performance

Barings U.S. High Yield Bond Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of -1.75% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 0.68%* during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of -1.94% on the Tranche A USD Accumulation.

In the first quarter, global markets experienced a historic sell-off as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic and a freefall in crude oil prices. With a global economic shutdown in place, sectors related to travel, leisure, and services found themselves being the most heavily impacted by the breakdown in economic output. In the second quarter, global markets began to recover and gain back some of the losses from the first three months of the year. The U.S. Federal Reserve ("Fed") announced a sweeping backstop of the market via its support of fallen angels and high yield ETF purchases which played an integral role in stabilising market conditions. Crude oil prices made a sharp recovery on optimism around economies reopening, demand improvement, and OPEC+ supply cuts leading WTI spot prices to rebound from historic lows.

The U.S. high yield bond market finished the first six months of the year with a negative return. As global markets saw significant declines in tandem with extraordinary volatility in the first quarter, investors were in risk-off mode for much of the six-month period. During a period of such indiscriminate selling across the market, triple-Cs naturally saw more significant pressure on trading levels and, as such, underperformed the broader market relative to higher quality double-B issuers. Eventually, the search for yield would return and lower quality began to outperform, however, still lagging higher quality bonds by June month-end. The Energy sector also experienced historic volatility during the period, alongside the price of crude oil. While making a recovery through the second quarter, Energy credits, alongside sectors most heavily impacted by the Covid-19 lockdown such as Leisure and Travel, would be the largest detractors to market returns. The Technology and Electronics and the Consumer Goods sectors over performed and managed to generate positive returns. The option adjusted spread ended June at 647 basis points ("bps"), tightening substantially from a year-to-date wides of 1102 bps on 23 March. The yield-to-worst ended at 6.89%, in from a wide of 11.51% on the same day. U.S. high yield bond gross new issuance soared in the second quarter setting a record quarter of $145.5 billion bringing yearto-date gross new issuance to $218.4 billion. This represented a 55% increase from the first six months in the prior year. Flows into U.S. high yield bond retail mutual funds were also up year-over-year, totaling +$31.9 billion compared to +$18.8 billion during the first half of 2019. Despite some of the strong technical tailwinds to the market, some companies started to experience difficulties making interest payments in this extreme market environment and the U.S. high yield bond 12-month par-weighted default rate ended the period at 6.19%, which represents a 10-year high and heavily impacted by issuers in the Energy sector.

The Sub-Fund underperformed its performance comparator year-to-date. Since its inception in February 2016, the Sub-Fund has underperformed its performance comparator.

Market & Outlook

Additional lockdown measures could cause high yield conditions to further deteriorate, albeit highly unlikely to reach new lows given the implicit Fed support. Fiscal stimulus measures, coupled with the Fed buying both investment grade and high yield bonds, have provided much-needed support for the credit markets. The U.S. new issue market has been the most active since 2010 and credits have been raising both debt and equity in the event of an extended slowdown – this should limit default activity to known distressed situations, primarily energy and retail. Globally, there appears to be ample cash balances on the sidelines along with recent inflows into the asset class which should help provide further technical support to the markets. As the macro environment improves, high yield has the potential to continue to rally, albeit with periods of volatility. Despite the recent short term underperformance trends, we remain comfortable in the positioning of the Sub-Fund and expect relative performance to rebound as many of the companies most significantly impacted by Covid-19 recover over the coming months ahead. We continue to believe that there are opportunities in high yield, in both the primary and secondary markets while avoiding distressed situations where there is higher default risk.

Performance

The Barings USD Liquidity Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of 0.58% on the Tranche F USD Distribution during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of 0.52% on the Tranche F USD Distribution.

The 3-month London interbank offered rate ("LIBOR") dropped 161 basis points ("bps") over the six-month reporting period ending the second quarter at 0.30%, having dropped 202 bps over the past 12-months. 1-month LIBOR dropped 160 bps over the same period ending at 0.16%. The 1 month/3 month LIBOR curve, which began the first quarter of 2019 at 15 bps, tightened to 2 bps over the reporting period to end at 13 bps. The secured overnight financing rate ("SOFR") ended the period at 0.08% having decreased 147 bps over the last six months. U.S. Federal Reserve (the "Fed") fund futures are not pricing in any chance of a hike or cut by the end of 2020. Treasury bill issuance is expected to decrease in the second half of 2020 as tax day on July 15th in the U.S. will likely lessen the need for Treasury issuance. Net Treasury bill issuance in the second half of 2020 will likely still be positive, but it is expected that Treasury bill yields have seen their highs for 2020 with continued strong demand from money market funds.

The Fed cut rates a total of five times over the reporting period. The Fed Fund's target rate began the period at a range of 2.00% to 2.25%, and ended the period at a range of 0.00% to 0.25%. The first three cuts marked monetary efforts by the Fed to attempt to extend economic growth, while the most recent two cuts represented emergency actions as a targeted response to the developing Covid-19 pandemic. Given the economic induced shock created by the virus, the Fed was required to step in at an unprecedented pace, purchasing a nearly 7% share of GDP and 9% share of public debt outstanding, on par with other QE programs historically, but over the span of just a 6-week period in the first quarter. Since that time, Treasury volatility has been reduced, and liquidity has improved. The U.S. Congressional stimulus package passed in the first quarter is expected to translate to an upcoming surge in Treasury supply, which threatens to put upward pressure on interest rates longer term. Market participants are predicting future Fed actions will depend on the level of interest rates. If interest rates remain low, some expect Fed purchases to decline to a relatively slow pace. Conversely, if we see higher rates in the wake of continued volatility and poor economic conditions, the market could see the Fed consider larger purchases.

The Weighted Average Maturity ("WAM") of the Sub-Fund remained short ending the period at 49 days. The Weighted Average Life ("WAL") of the Sub-Fund, which takes into account a bond's final maturity date, ended the period at 69 days, virtually unchanged. Approximately 56% of the Sub-Fund's market value is within 30 days to maturity, with the rest in select longer dated issues.

Market & Outlook

The Fed continues its accommodative monetary policy with rates held at a target band of 0.00% to 0.25%. The Fed began its PMCCF and SMCCF purchase programs in the second quarter, which led to positive investor confidence in the market that helped bring spreads tighter. Spreads continued to rally in June, but took a slight pause as Covid-19 cases spiked which could lead to further consumer restrictions. The U.S. Treasury curve remains flat, with rates under 0.20% out to the 3 year point on the curve. The 3-month treasury yield increased finished the period at 0.16%, while the 10 Year U.S. Treasury rate finished at 0.66%. The market is currently pricing in a near 100% chance that Fed Funds will remain around zero for the rest of 2020.

For the six month period ended 30 June 2020

Barings Global Investment Grade Strategies Fund

Performance

The Barings Global Investment Grade Strategies Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a gross return of -5.12% on the Tranche F USD Distribution and underperformed against the performance comparator, which returned 1.78%* during the reporting period. The Sub-Fund generated a net return of -5.17% on the Tranche F USD Distribution.

With the front end of the yield curve remaining flat, the duration of the Sub-Fund ended the period at 0.53 years in accordance with our rules based duration management process. We have remained consistent in our theme of favouring securitised and structured credit as a way of capturing attractive spreads compared to similarly rated unsecured emerging market and developed market corporate debt. An allocation to collateralised loan obligations ("CLO") represent the Sub-Fund's largest exposure at approximately 28%, which detracted from performance over the period. The Sub-Fund has favoured a high allocation to high quality CLOs since inception. The CLO allocation finished the period with a high average rating of Single-A represented by a barbelled exposure to AA/A and BBB rated tranches. Over the past months, the Sub-Fund has started to reduce exposure to BBB rated CLO as a result of the rebound in prices experienced, and a way to move up in quality. Despite the rally seen in CLO spreads over the second half of the reporting period, the Sub-Fund continues to favour the allocation due to attractive spread differentials, compared to similarly rated investment grade credit assets.

The Sub-Fund has securitised allocations consisting of ABS, CMBS and RMBS that make up 25% of the Sub-Fund. ABS represents a majority of these sectors. The ABS, RMBS and CMBS sector allocations detracted from performance over the period. The Sub-Fund ended the period with a 16% weight to ABS, a 7% weight to CMBS, and a 2% weight to RMBS. Within ABS, Student Loan, Aviation, Medical, Franchise Receivables and Timeshare collateral exposure were negative contributors over the period. Both Conduit and single-asset-single-borrower ("SASB") CMBS detracted from performance.

The U.S. investment grade corporate credit allocation is approximately 22% and emerging market corporate hard currency is approximately 18% of the Sub-Fund. Both allocations detracted from performance over the period, but recovered much quicker than the Sub-Fund's securitised allocations in the second quarter. Investment grade corporate spreads widened 43 bps over the period to end at a spread of 136 bps. The outbreak of the Covid-19 global pandemic resulted in a rapid repricing of corporate risk assets in the first quarter. Spreads widened to 373 bps on 23 March 2020 with the pace of widening much greater than the 2008/2009 crisis period. Corporate spreads have recovered 237 bps since then as a result of monetary intervention and improved investor sentiment. The U.S. Federal Reserve (the "Fed") began its PMCCF and SMCCF purchase programs in the second quarter, which led to positive investor confidence in the market that helped bring spreads tighter. Spreads continued to rally in June, but took a slight pause as Covid-19 cases spiked which could lead to further consumer restrictions.

The hard currency Emerging Markets Debt allocation in the Sub-Fund remains well diversified across sectors and regions. Currently the largest sector within the Emerging Markets sleeve is Financials and the largest region is Latin America. Both emerging and developed corporate markets continued to tighten, however, Emerging Markets Debt has largely lagged the recovery seen in the U.S. as a result of the lack of a centralised monetary authority guiding a cohesive market intervention. The Sub-Fund began to allocate to BB rated high yield corporates over the period. This allocation was a positive contributor to performance and finished the period representing approximately 4% of the Sub-Fund.

The Sub-Fund underperformed its performance comparator year-to-date. Since its inception in October 2018, the Sub-Fund has underperformed its performance comparator.

Market & Outlook

The market saw unprecedented events unfold over the past six months. Starting in the first quarter, financial markets were hit very hard. Starting in late April, investors experienced a case of whiplash as markets turned positive on the sentiment that the worst of the pandemic may be behind us. The Fed took an expedited course to stem volatility by implementing an alphabet soup of programs meant to get the market back on course, and up to this point, it has largely been successful. Targeting the corporate credit market, the PMCCF and SMCCF to support credit to employers by providing liquidity to the market for outstanding corporate bonds. Targeting the securitised market, the Fed established the Term Asset-Backed Loan Facility ("TALF") program to support the flow of credit to consumers and businesses. These programs have largely accomplished what they were set to correct, as market liquidity, investor sentiment, and security prices regained much of the ground lost at the start of the crisis. Market trends continued to show modest signs of improvement by the end of the second quarter; however, there are still many longer-term unknowns facing investors. Economic data released continues to be better than once feared at the onset of the pandemic; however, the U.S. faces a second wave of the virus as multiple states are starting to relax "stay-at-home" orders. Global regions remain ahead of the U.S. in terms of response, as cases of the virus seem more contained. A spike in cases globally could open the possibility of continued consumer restrictions that run the risk of producing a second leg down for markets. While many investors are enjoying the sugar high by trading on technicals created by Monetary and Fiscal stimulus in the U.S. and better than once feared economic news globally, we remain diligent to our fundamental bottom-up process.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the six month period ended 30 June 2020

1. Basis of Measurement

These condensed interim unaudited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 'Interim Financial Reporting'. The condensed interim unaudited financial statements should be read in conjunction with the annual report and audited financial statements for the financial year ended 31 December 2019, which have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), the interpretations adopted by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") as adopted by the European Union ("EU") and in accordance with Irish statute comprising the Companies Act, 2014 and the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations, 2011 (as amended) and under the Central Bank of Ireland (Supervision & Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2019, (together, the "UCITS Regulations").

The condensed interim unaudited financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. In preparation of the condensed interim unaudited financial statements in conformity with IAS 34 the Company is required to make certain accounting estimates and assumptions. Actual results may differ from these estimates and assumptions. The Directors believe that any estimates used in preparing the financial statements are reasonable and prudent. Critical accounting estimates are those which involve the most complex or subjective judgements or assessments. The areas of the Company's business that typically require such estimates are the determination of the fair value of financial assets and liabilities.

These financial statements were prepared on the going concern basis.

2. Significant accounting policies

The accounting policies used in the preparation of these financial statements are consistent with those used in the Company's most recent annual financial statements for the financial year ended 31 December 2019.

In accordance with IAS 34 the comparative figures included for the Statement of Financial Position relate to the previous financial year ended 31 December 2019, while the comparative figures included for the Statement of Comprehensive Income, Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Shares and Statement of Cash Flows relate to the six month period ended 30 June 2019.

The condensed interim financial statements as at 30 June 2020 are unaudited. We note that the statutory auditor's report in the audited year end financial statements as at 31 December 2019 was unqualified.

New standards, amendments and interpretations issued and effective for the financial year beginning 1 January 2020 There are no standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards issued and effective that would be expected to have a significant impact on the Company.

New standards, amendments and interpretations issued but not effective for the financial year beginning 1 January 2020 and not early adopted

IFRS 17 "Insurance Contracts" was issued in May 2017 and will become effective for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2021. It applies to: insurance contracts, including reinsurance contracts, issued by an entity; reinsurance contracts held by an entity; and investment contracts with discretionary participation features issued by an entity that issues insurance contracts. An insurance contract is defined as 'a contract under which one party (the issuer) accepts significant insurance risk from another party (the policyholder) by agreeing to compensate the policyholder if a specified uncertain future event (the insured event) adversely affects the policyholder'. The new standard is not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's financial position, performance or disclosures in its financial statements.

There are no other standards, amendments or interpretations to existing standards that are not yet effective that would be expected to have a significant impact on the Company.

Dealings with Connected Persons

Regulation 43 of the UCITS Regulations "Restrictions of transactions with connected persons" states that "A responsible person shall ensure that any transaction between a UCITS and a connected person conducted a) at arm's length; and b) in the best interest of the unit-holders of the UCITS".

7. Fair Value Hierarchy

In accordance with IFRS 13 the Company classifies fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements.

The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1 Quoted market price in an active market for an identical instrument.
- Level 2 Valuation techniques based on observable inputs. This category includes instruments valued using: quoted market prices in active markets for similar instruments; quoted prices for similar instruments in markets that are considered less than active; or other valuation techniques where all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable from market data.
- Level 3 Valuation techniques using significant unobservable inputs. This category includes all instruments where the valuation technique includes inputs not based on observable data and the unobservable inputs could have a significant impact on the instrument's valuation. This category includes instruments that are valued based on quoted prices for similar instruments where significant unobservable adjustments or assumptions are required to reflect differences between the

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement.

If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on observable inputs, that measurement is a Level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes "observable" requires significant judgement by the Company. The Company considers observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market. Single broker quotes and Investment Manager priced assets are classified as Level 2 holdings because the inputs into the price supplied by the brokers and Investment Managers are observable, for example, rate yield, industry classification and credit rating. The Investment Managers review the prices independently received as single broker quotes and ensures that they are in line with expectations.

The Company's Level 3 investments have been valued using unadjusted inputs that have not been internally developed by the Company which involved using single broker quotations for these securities.

The Company determines the fair value for corporate bond instruments using independent, unadjusted indicative broker quotes. A broker quote is generally not a binding offer. The categorisation of corporate bond instruments is dependent if the broker quotes reflect actual current market conditions, or if they are indicative prices based on brokers valuation models, depending on the significance and observability of the inputs to the model.

For corporate bond instruments that have been categorised as Level 2, fair value has been determined using independent broker quotes based on observable inputs. If it could not be verified that the valuation is based significantly on observable inputs, then the investments would fall into Level 3.

The Company considers observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The table below sets out information about significant unobservable inputs used at 30 June 2020 in measuring financial instruments categorised as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy.

Sensitivity of Level 3 assets measured at fair value to changes in assumptions

The results of using reasonably possible alternative assumptions for valuing the Level 3 assets may result in the fair value estimate and recoverability of the assets being subject to uncertainty and a range of possible outcomes are likely. Such differences, if any, may have a material effect on the overall portfolio as at 30 June 2020 or as at 31 December 2019.

If the value of Level 3 securities increased/(decreased) by 5%, the effect on the NAV would be US$4,677,418 (31 December 2019: US$2,630,353).

Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy are deemed to have occurred at the end of the financial period and are deemed to have occurred when the pricing source or methodology used to price an investment has changed which triggers a change in level as defined under IFRS 13. There were transfers from Level 2 to Level 3 and from Level 3 to Level 2 at the financial period end as shown in the reconciliation above.

For each class of assets and liabilities not measured at fair value in the Statement of Financial Position but for which fair value is disclosed, IFRS 13 requires the Company to disclose the level within the fair value hierarchy which the fair value measurement would be categorised and a description of the valuation technique and inputs used in the technique.

Cash and cash equivalents include deposits held with banks and other short-term investments in an active market and they are categorised as Level 1. Cash held at broker (including positive cash collateral) and cash due to broker (including negative cash collateral) are categorised as Level 2.

Receivable for investments sold and other receivables include the contractual amounts for settlement of trades and other obligations due to the Company. Payable for investments sold and other payables represent the contractual amounts and obligations due by the Company for settlement of trades and expenses. All receivable and payable balances are categorised as Level 2.

The puttable value of redeemable shares is calculated based on the net difference between total assets and all other liabilities of each Sub-Fund within the Company in accordance with the Company's offering memorandum. A demand feature is attached to these shares, as they are redeemable at the holders' option and can be put back to the Sub-Funds at any dealing date for cash equal to a proportionate share of the Sub-Fund's NAV attributable to the share class. The fair value is based on the amount payable on demand. As such, Level 2 is deemed to be the most appropriate categorisation for net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares, as they are largely based on inputs other than quoted market prices included within Level 1 that are observable either directly or indirectly.

8. Derivatives and Efficient Portfolio Management

Each of the Sub-Funds may use Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDIs") for efficient portfolio management. The efficient portfolio management purposes for which the Company intends to employ FDIs are reduction of risk, reduction of cost and the generation of additional capital or income for the relevant Sub-Fund with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the Sub-Fund and the general provisions of the UCITS Regulations. The Company may use various types of derivatives for these purposes, including, without limitation, forwards, futures, options, swaps (including but not limited to total return swaps, credit default swaps, swaptions and IRSs) and contracts for differences for these purposes.

8. Derivatives and Efficient Portfolio Management (continued)

The foreign currency risk that exists to investors in the non base currency share classes is mitigated by a share class hedging programme.

During the six month period the Company entered into forward foreign currency exchange contracts, futures contracts, swaptions, swap contracts, interest rate swaps, credit default swaps and cross currency swaps for efficient portfolio management purposes. Forward foreign currency exchange contracts are entered into by GSSB Fund, GHYB Fund, EMCB Fund, EMLD Fund, EMDSD Fund, ASD Fund, EMDBTR Fund, EMSD Fund, USHYB Fund and GIGS Fund to hedge non-US$ denominated assets back to US$, the Sub-Funds' base currency. Forward foreign currency exchange contracts are entered into by EHYB Fund to hedge non-€ denominated assets back into €, the Sub-Funds' base currency. EMLD, EMDBTR and EMSD use forward foreign currency exchange contracts to take active foreign exchange exposure. Futures contracts are entered into by ASD Fund, EMSD Fund and GIGS Fund. Swaptions are entered into by ASD Fund and swaps are entered into by ASD Fund, EMDBTR Fund and EMSD Fund. Details of the gains/(losses) relating to these derivative instruments are contained in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

The Company shall comply with the conditions and limits laid down from time to time by the CBI under the UCITS Regulations.

Forward foreign currency exchange contracts are recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at their fair value. All forward foreign currency exchange contracts are carried as assets when fair value is positive and as liabilities when fair value is negative. Any changes in fair value are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

The fair value of forward foreign currency exchange contracts that are not exchange traded is estimated at the amount that the Sub-Fund would receive or pay to terminate the contract at the period/year end date taking into account current market conditions and the current creditworthiness of the counterparties.

The unrealised gain or loss on open forward foreign currency exchange contracts is calculated as the difference between the contract price and the forward price as at financial period end.

Futures contracts are commitments either to purchase or sell a designated financial instrument, currency, commodity or an index at a specified future date for a specified price and may be settled in cash or another financial asset. Futures are standardised exchange traded contracts. Initial margin requirements for futures are met in cash or other instruments, and changes in the future contract values are settled daily. Futures are measured initially at fair value on the date on which the derivative contract is entered into and subsequently remeasured at fair value. Futures contracts have little credit risk because the counterparties are futures exchanges. Any changes in fair value are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

IRSs are used for trading purposes. IRSs are measured initially at fair value on the date on which the derivative contract is entered into and subsequently remeasured at fair value. Fair values are obtained from counterparties or from quoted market prices in active markets, including recent market transactions, and from valuation techniques using discounted cash flow models and option pricing models as appropriate. IRSs are included in assets when the fair value is positive, and in liabilities when the fair value is negative.

In a CDS, one party makes payments to another party in exchange for the right to receive a specified return (or to put a security) if a credit event (e.g. default or a similar event) occurs with respect to a reference entity or entities. The Company may use credit default swaps contracts to provide a measure of protection against defaults of sovereign or corporate issues (i.e. to reduce risk where the Sub-Fund owns or has exposure to the issuer) or to take an active long or short position with respect to the likelihood of a particular issuer's default. The maximum exposure the Company has in selling credit protection is equal to the notional amount of such CDS contracts. CDS's are measured initially at fair value on the date on which the derivative contract is entered into and subsequently remeasured at fair value.

For CDSs on asset-backed securities, a credit event may be triggered by various occurrences, which may include an issuer's failure to pay principal, maturity extension, rating downgrade or write-down. For CDS contracts on corporate or sovereign issuers, a credit event may be triggered by occurrences such as an issuer bankruptcy, failure to pay interest or principal, repudiation/moratorium and/or restructuring. Any changes in fair value are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

A currency swap is an interest rate swap in which the cash flows are in different currencies. Upon initiation of a currency swap, the counterparties make an initial exchange of notional principals in the two currencies. During the life of the swap, each party pays interest (in the currency of the principal received) to the other. At the maturity of the swap, the parties make a final exchange of the initial principal amounts, reversing the initial exchange at the same spot rate.

8. Derivatives and Efficient Portfolio Management (continued)

Swaptions are options that grant the right, with no obligation, to enter into an underlying swap (see below) on pre-agreed terms. When a swaption is exercised, the treatment of the premium is determined by the type of swaption. For purchased put and written call swaptions, the premium is included with the proceeds from the sale of the underlying swap in determining the realised gain or loss. For purchased call and written put swaptions, the premium is included in determining the initial fair value of the swap purchased. Premiums paid/received from the purchase/sale of swaptions which expire unexercised are treated as realised losses and gains respectively.

The best evidence of fair value of a derivative at initial recognition is the transaction price. Subsequent changes in the fair value of any derivative instrument are recognised immediately in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

14. Significant events during the financial period

The Prospectus of the Company was updated on 9 March 2020. The material changes to the Prospectus are outlined in Note 13.

Brexit

The United Kingdom (the "UK") held a referendum on 23 June 2016 on whether to leave or remain in the European Union (the "EU"). The outcome of the referendum was in favour of leaving the EU. The UK officially withdrew from the EU on 31 January 2020 but will continue to follow all of the EU rules and its trading relationship will remain the same until the end of the transitional period ending on 31 December 2020.

There are a number of uncertainties in connection with the future of the UK and its relationship with the EU, including the terms of the agreement it reaches in relation to its withdrawal from the EU and any agreements it reaches in relation to its future relationship with the EU and Barings continues to plan for a number of possible scenarios. Barings is committed to ensuring continuity of service for its investors and protecting its business against potential regulatory or other market access barriers related to Brexit.

In this regard, Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited ("BIFMI"), will continue as the Manager of the Company and the Sub-Funds will continue to be registered for distribution into relevant jurisdictions in the EU and elsewhere. Portfolio management in respect of European investments will continue to be delegated to Baring Asset Management Limited, a UK entity and portfolio management of US investments will continue to be conducted by Barings LLC, a US entity. The custodians and administrators of the Sub-Funds are also EU entities. In addition, BIFMI has enhanced its presence in Dublin and recruited locally at all levels to staff its new office, reflecting the increased significance of BIFMI's role within the Barings business. Whilst the medium to long-term consequences of the decision to leave the EU remain uncertain in any scenario, there could be short-term volatility which could have a negative impact on general economic conditions, business and consumer confidence in both the UK and EU, which may in turn have negative political, economic and market impacts more widely. The longer-term consequences may be affected by the terms of any future arrangements the UK has with the EU. Among other things, the UK's decision to leave the EU could lead to changes in the law and tax treatment of funds, instability in the equity, debt and foreign exchange markets, including volatility in the value of sterling or the euro.

Covid-19

The spread of COVID-19 around the world in the first half of 2020 has caused significant volatility in international markets. There is still significant uncertainty around the breadth and duration of business disruptions related to COVID-19, as well as its impact on international economies and, as such, the Company is actively monitoring the extent of the impact to its operations, financial accounting and reporting.

Appendix 2 - Additional Information for Investors in the Federal Republic of Germany

This Country Supplement forms part of and should be read in conjunction with the Prospectus for Barings Umbrella Fund plc (the "Company") and the supplements for Barings Global Senior Secured Bond Fund, Barings European High Yield Bond Fund, Barings Global High Yield Bond Fund, Barings Emerging Markets Corporate Bond Fund, Barings Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund, Barings Active Short Duration Fund, Barings Emerging Markets Debt Short Duration Fund, Barings Emerging Markets Debt Blended Total Return Fund, Barings Emerging Markets Sovereign Debt Fund, Barings U.S. High Yield Bond Fund, Barings U.S. Investment Grade Corporate Bond Fund (prior to its termination), Barings U.S. High Yield Bond Component Fund, Barings U.S. Short Duration High Yield Bond Component Fund and Barings USD Liquidity Fund, the Sub-Funds of the Company (together the "Funds") dated 10 July 2017 (together the "Prospectus"). Together with the Prospectus, this Country Supplement, dated 31 December 2019, shall constitute the Consolidated Prospectus for Germany (the "Consolidated Prospectus").

Since no Shares in the Sub-Funds are issued as printed individual certificates, no paying agent has been appointed in Germany.

Investors should refer to the sections of the Prospectus entitled "Purchase of Shares"; "Redemption of Shares"; and "Purchase and Redemption of Shares" in order to ascertain how to request subscription, redemption or conversion/exchange of units and when they are entitled to receive payments (redemption proceeds and disbursement or other payments) and how they will receive these payments by the Company.

Investors should also refer to the "Fees and Expenses" section in the Prospectus.

The Information agent in Germany (the "German Information Agent") is: UBS Deutschland AG, Bockenheimer Landstraße 2-4, 60306 Frankfurt am Main, Germany.

The latest version of the Prospectus (as defined above), the key investor information documents (the "KIIDs"), the memorandum and articles of association of the Company, the certificate of incorporation of the Company, the material contracts of the Company, the latest published annual report and any subsequent half-yearly report of the Company may be obtained free of charge and in paper form from the German Information Agent or at the registered office of the Company. The issue, redemption and exchange prices are available free of charge at the German Information Agent.

In addition, in the following cases, information will be provided to investors in Germany through investors' letters:

- suspension of the redemption of Shares;
- termination of the management of the Sub-Fund or its winding-up;
- amendments to the Sub-Fund rules which are inconsistent with existing investment principles, affect material investor rights, or relate to remuneration or the reimbursement of expenses that may be taken out of the assets of the Sub-Fund, including the reasons for the amendments and the rights of investors;
- the merger of the Sub-Fund with one or more other funds;
- the conversion of the Sub-Fund into a feeder fund or any change to a master fund.

The issue, redemption and exchange prices and any other information and documents which are required to be published in Ireland, will be published on the website of Euronext Dublin (http://www.ise.ie). However, documents available for investors in Ireland solely for inspection at an office specified in the sales documentation, will be published through the German Information Agent by making those documents available for inspection free of charge at his office.

Tax regulations and the practices of financial authorities are constantly subject to change. Because of the complexity of German tax law, it is recommended that investors contact a tax adviser regarding the effect on their individual tax situation before they decide about an investment in the Sub-Fund.
