ANNUAL MANAGEMENT POLICY

DNCA FINANCE MANAGEMENT

DNCA INVEST SUB-FUNDS

DNCA INVEST - EUROPEAN BOND OPPORTUNITIES

2018 in review

The financial markets are going through a phase of very strong turbulence in this last quarter of 2018, taking annual performance from most management strategies into the red zone. In the Eurozone, only the general index representing all sovereign borrowing, regardless of the duration, makes a gain of 0.8%.

Investors are thereby sinking into deep pessimism, particularly in Europe, in the light of the different political and trade risks plus the fear, unjustified at this stage, of a brutal end of cycle in the United States.

In 2018, DNCA Invest - European Bond Opportunities posted the following performances:

- A Share EUR: -3.24%
- B Share EUR: -3.44%
- I Share EUR: -2.79 %
- N Share EUR: -3.20%

Versus +0.80% for its benchmark index (FTSE MTS GLOBAL calculated with coupons reinvested).

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

The main movements during 2018 included entries of the PAPREC Float 03/31/25, BIMSAS 2 ½ 11/13/20 (exchangeable in Elior) and Pirelli 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ 01/25/23 bonds. Conversely, the HTOGA 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ 02/07/18, TELEFO 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ PERP, and Selecta 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ 06/15/20 bonds were reimbursed.

Unless extreme events are envisaged, the average yield of the portfolio holdings seems attractive from now on (3.5%) with regard to average sensitivity of 2.2.

By the end of the period, the liquidity remuneration level stood at 8.21% of the portfolio (including money markets funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 48.6 million.

Outlook for 2019

The macro-economic environment for 2019 could be characterised by a synchronised slow- down of major world economies: investment should be penalised by growing uncertainties but consumption should be resilient. The growth should remain greater than or close to the potential and a recession is not on the cards either in the United States or in Europe.

On European markets, share valuations are attractive, particularly value type shares and shares that are most exposed to the cycle; rates remain very low on sovereign borrowing, whilst certain credit margins were reconstituted.

DNCA INVEST - EUROSE

2018 in review

The financial markets are going through a phase of very strong turbulence in this last quarter of 2018, taking annual performance from most management strategies into the red. In the Eurozone, only the general index representing all sovereign borrowing, regardless of the duration, makes a gain of 0.8%.

Investors are thereby sinking into deep pessimism, particularly in Europe, in the light of the different political and trade risks added to the fear, unjustified at this stage, of a brutal end of cycle in the United States.

In 2018, DNCA Invest - Eurose posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: -5.74 %
- I Share CHF: -5.73%
- A Share EUR: -6.42%
- B Share EUR: -6.60%

- H-A Share CHF: -3.13%

- N Share EUR: -5.96%

- ND Share EUR: -8.30%

Versus -1.76% for its composite benchmark indicator (80% FTSE MTS Eurozone Global + 20% EURO STOXX 50 NET RETURN calculated with dividends and coupons reinvested).

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

Over the year, the top three performances were by EDF, NOKIA and THALES shares. Conversely, shares in Ceconomy, Vallourec and Technicolor were the three weakest performers.

Among the main movements over the year, we might mention strengthening in Sanofi, Total and Crédit Agricole. Furthermore, a line of more than 2% of investments was established in Gemalto shares. Conversely, bonds in Italy Inflation 2018, Spain 3.75 2018 and perpetual Volkswagen c.2018 were paid off.

By the end of the period the liquidity remuneration level stood at 5.65% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 5,217 million.

Outlook for 2019

DNCA Invest - Eurose is approaching 2019 partly invested in shares to the tune of 28.4% of amount outstanding, taking into account the 2.6% contribution from Gemalto holdings for the Thales offer. The valuation levels of portfolio holdings seem to be very attractive but the beneficial perspectives could be eroded away in the coming months. Unless extreme events are envisaged, this adjustment movement seems to have made the safety margins comfortable nevertheless. The average yield of the bondholder portfolio, 2% at the end of the year versus 0.5% at the end of 2017, for a stable average maturity of around 3 years, is a perfect illustration of this.

DNCA INVEST - EVOLUTIF

2018 in review

Sensitive to the Trump administration's mercantilist discourse, the depressed Chinese macro-economic indicators revived fears of an economic "hard landing" in China, eclipsing stabilisation seen mid-year among the emerging partners (Brazil, Russia, Turkey). Conversely, the United States is keeping its hand in economically, benefiting from the relocation of productive assets and very solid consumer trust, likely to protect growth in the event of a manufacturing slow-down.

Unfortunately, in Europe, the uncertainty linked to Brexit is accentuated whereas the vigour of European growth (above its potential level) was already beginning to run out of steam. Due to competition in terms of offer but also depending on more prudent economic projections, oil underwent one of its greatest drops in its history in the third quarter of 2018, contradicting inflation predictions all around the globe. In this context, and in the light of economic risks that are now focused increasingly in the wrong direction, European and US central banks began to soften their discourse and make use of their more flexible tools, conventional or otherwise. In this context, 2018 was marked by two volatility peaks. The latter, in December, was one of the highest in history.

In 2018, DNCA Invest - Evolutif posted the following performances:

A Share EUR: -11.75%

- B Share EUR: -12.07%

- I Share EUR: -10.90%

- Q Share EUR: -10.28%

AD Share EUR: -14.85%

SI Share EUR: -10.74%N Share EUR: -11.26%ID Share EUR: -15.05%

Versus -7.31 % for its benchmark index (60% Eurostoxx 50, 30% FTSE MTS EMU Eurozone Gov Bond 1-3 years and 10% EONIA calculated with coupons and dividends reinvested).

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

The under-performance mainly took place in the fourth quarter when market volatility reached a peak.

Several high conviction lines were punished strongly by the markets: Saint-Gobain and the construction sector in general suffered from poor weather conditions in the first semester and from a delayed effect when passing on rising energy costs to customers. Atos also suffered, with its growth rate in the United States slowing down unexpectedly. Furthermore, investors reacted badly to the Syntel takeover announcement. Intesa and Crédit Agricole suffered from the uncertainty in Italy and finally our UCI's Absolute Return position unfortunately did not play the discounted cash arbitration role.

Our significant Oil&Gas (Total, RDSA) exposure suffered from the historically violent drop in the barrel price. After delivering 26% and 11% of Total Shareholder Return up to the third quarter, these two securities lost 16% and 12% during the fourth quarter. Our exposure to telecom securities (Orange, Deutsche Telekom) allowed us to ease this effect, as these two holdings played their defensive role comprehensively over the year thanks particularly to solid results. The most positive contributors include Sanofi and Novartis, which benefited from revaluation thanks to a return to growth of these groups after several difficult years, related to patents ending, and Thales (and Dassault), due to confirmation of acceleration of their organic growth and their margins.

The main movements during the first semester included, Sopra Steria and Indra joining the portfolio. Conversely, the Heildeberg, Imperial Tobacco and Nokia securities are no longer within our selection.

In the period, best performers in the portfolio were Novartis, Sanofi and Thales. Conversely, Atos, Bouygues and Saint-Gobain were less successful.

By the end of the period, the liquidity remuneration level stood at 6.74% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 313 million.

Outlook for 2019

The direction of interest rates remains very uncertain, ribbed by deviations in growth between the zones, the fragility of inflation and variable geometry policies among the central banks. However, we are sure that the rates will no longer support a capital cost. Conversely, the stock market risk premium is likely to return to its historic average, rather than benefiting from the excesses of 2017, due to elements mentioned in the introduction above. End of cycle, margin peak, redistribution of the value towards the employees: there are many elements that call for a less automatic revaluation of shares in 2019, although they are not all justified. At 11.5x 2019 profits, the European market is clearly undergoing

Unjustified and exaggerated trimming, based on the assertion that a recession is imminent, along with a hard Brexit and freezing of world trade against a trade war backdrop. However, despite this context of generalised distrust, stock picking is going to remain key as there will be many opportunities and traps.

As far as asset managers are concerned, our top priority will be to limit exposure to two major risks: the balance-sheet risk and the liquidity risk, which are the first traps in the coming year. The balance-sheet risk arises from a company going too far into debt, either due to excessive use of borrowing or due to operational activity that, because of its decline or vicissitudes, limited cash generation and therefore made it difficult to repay the debt. Beyond a certain level of debt, we considered a strangling risk (increase of financial costs and the cost of the capital, reduction of the capacity to self-finance, difficulty to finance the BFR, risk on the dividend) is too great. This risk will no longer be overlooked. Finally, the liquidity risk concerns the segment of small-and medium-sized capitalisations. The jolts in volatility increase the destruction of stock market capitalisation on this segment.

In light of these precautions, our screening will bring up opportunities within the major European capitalisations. Having passed the balance sheet analysis cut-off, good quality securities (resilience of growth, resilience of converting the growth into margin and into cash, establishing entry barriers, innovation and digitalisation) that will suffer the throes of volatility or an accident (temporary disappointment concerning market expectations) will have all our attention. Finally, we will use all means offered by the mandate to diversify our geographic exposure, either through stock-picking or through direct financial instruments, exposed, for example, to US markets (shares, rates, credit) that rely on an economic underlying aspect that is as robust as anything seen in the world today.

DNCA INVEST - SOUTH EUROPE OPPORTUNITIES

2018 in review

After two years of rebound, the Southern Europe indices withdrew from July to close 2018 in decline with the Italian (FTSEMIB), Spanish (IBEX) and Portuguese (PSI20) indices with dividends reinvested at -13.99%, -12.17% and -9.59% respectively.

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - South Europe Opportunities posted the following performances:

- A Share EUR: -11.75%
- I Share EUR: -10.76%
- B Share EUR: -12.02%
- N Share EUR: -11.42%

Versus -12.77% for its benchmark indicator (55% FTSEMIBN Index, 40% IBEX35TR, 5% PSI20 calculated with dividends reinvested).

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

Among the best contributors we found Spanish public service company Iberdrola, the premium fitness equipment manufacturer Technogym, small Italian renewable energy production company ERG, luxury clothing company Moncler, hearing prosthesis distribution company Amplifon, multi-channel financial company Finecobank, oil company ENI and Spanish construction company ACS. In contrast bank securities, Unicredit, Banco Santander, Intesa Sanpaolo, BBVA and Caixabank, the automotive parts manufacturer Sogefi and the infrastructure company Atlantia influenced performance.

This performance is explained both by the choice of securities guided by an in-depth fundamental analysis, the conclusions of which are validated by regular discussions with company executives (more than 200 meetings per year) and taking an opportunist approach that is more the result of a very close monitoring of securities – allowing fast reactions – rather than sector-based bets, or bets based on countries, styles or market capitalisation size.

By the end of the period, the liquidity position stood at 2.34% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and its assets stood at EUR 185.6 million.

Outlook for 2019

We should keep an eye on the economic growth dynamic in the zone and how it will be affected by rising interest rates, evolution of political checkers and trade negotiations between major powers.

Our attention will be particularly drawn this year to the sustainability of the growth factors benefiting companies in our portfolio and seeking out possible candidates to add to the portfolio.

DNCA INVEST - VALUE EUROPE

2018 in review

The year 2018 was full of turnarounds. Optimism early in the year made way for excessive pessimism in the fourth quarter. This was expressed by one of the strongest quarterly adjustments in recent times. Distrust towards the automotive, chemical and cyclical sectors expresses doubt over worldwide growth and growth in China, the main contributor to this worldwide growth over the last ten years.

In Europe, statistics confirm that industrial production was slowing since the summer, whilst the start of the year was very promising with vigorous reforms to come in France and Germany in relation to these exports. This did not hold with the protectionist measures from the United States and tariffs announced on 1st January 2019.

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - Value Europe posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: -17.33%
- A Share EUR: -18.17%
- B Share EUR: -18.50%
- ID Share EUR: -17.61 %

During the year, the sub-fund tackled warnings on significant results, with drops of over 50%. Nexans, with the departure of its CEO, Ceconomy (German Distribution company) with a poorly executed financial restructuring plan, and Wacher Chemie, which suffered a significant drop in the prices of Polysilicons (raw materials for solar panels) representing 20% of its sales and saw its business margins fall constantly throughout 2018.

Among the main movements, the sub-fund introduced Enel (Italian electrical sector) and conversely, positions in Aperam, Ceconomy, Mediolanum, Bayer, Panalpina and Banco Popolare di Milano were liquidated.

By the end of the period, liquidity remuneration levels stood at 4.75% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and net assets at EUR 916.8 million.

Outlook for 2019

Worldwide economic growth remains a source for concern. In China, the economy continues to slow-down and operators are paying close attention to the statistics after Chinese New Year in February. In Europe, populist movements are gaining ground over disagreements on purchasing power which would affect companies' margins. This was partly anticipated by significant stock market adjustments at the end of the year. The lack of inflation, and low rates, with prudent central banks, should partly support the market, if we are aiming for worldwide economic stabilisation.

In this environment, we would prioritise low debt securities and liquid assets.

DNCA INVEST - BEYOND INFRASTRUCTURE & TRANSITION (formerly DNCA INVEST - INFRASTRUCTURES (LIFE))

2018 in review

The year 2018, and particularly the fourth quarter's market adjustment, managed to highlight the resilience of the European infrastructure sector. Whilst market players are anticipating a difficult year, against a backdrop of rising interest rates that should penalise these long-term assets, the defensive nature of the sector's companies with excellent visibility on their cash flow funds posted results of -4.27% for the MSCI Europe Infrastructure NR rate over the year. The utilities sector, posting results of +2.03% (SX6R index) over the year is a good example of this resilience against a backdrop of already widely discounted valuation compared to the rest of the market. The last quarter adjustment also made it possible to highlight renewed interest in the telecom sector, whose European index (SXKR) posted results of +3.21% (-8.8% over the year) compared to -11.6% for the European market over this quarter. These two sectors share their domestic nature and their discounted valuation (EV/EBITDA FY19e c. 6x) which shelters them from both international political uncertainty and the return of liquidity, the major theme of the year beyond anticipated rate hikes.

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - Beyond Infrastructure & Transition (formerly DNCA Invest - Infrastructures (LIFE)) posted the following performances:

A Share EUR: -13.34 %B Share EUR: -13.68%I Share EUR: -12.46%N Share EUR: -12.96%

Over the period, the best portfolio performances came from American Tower, ADP and EI Towers. Conversely, performances for Telecom Italia, Bilfinger, Salini Impregilo, Atlantia and Hamburger Hafen were not so good.

Among the main movements, 2CRSI, McPhy, Ecoslops, Japan Airport, Nagoya Railroad and Suez Environnement securities entered the sub-fund and, conversely, Sacyr, Italgas, El Towers, A2A, Flughafen Zurich, CCR, Marseille Tunnel Prado and Atlantia positions were liquidated.

The liquidity level stood at +3.90% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) at the end of the period, and net assets stood at EUR 113 million.

Outlook for 2019

After four official market rate rises in his first year in power, J. Powell should slow down the pace in 2019 and the US economic slow-down already raises the question of the horizon of the first downturn. In Europe, the ECB buyout programme came to a close and the first core inflation trends, whilst still not exceeding 1%, will be key when determining the monetary normalisation pace to be expected. In this relatively favourable macro-economic environment for the sector, one major theme should involve extending the assets' duration for major European concessionaires (Vinci, Atlantia, Eiffage, Ferrovial, etc.). Acquisitions of 5% of the Getlink capital by Eiffage and 50% of the Gatwick airport capital (perpetual concession) by Vinci during December seemed to set the tone. Finally, in a medium-term outlook, infrastructure operators and front-line utilities will mainly be working on adapting to ambitious energy transition goals. With its SRI focus, the sub-fund will attempt to make the most of these trends by selecting companies that will benefit most directly from these creative value conversions over time.

DNCA INVEST - BEYOND GLOBAL LEADERS (formerly DNCA INVEST - GLOBAL LEADERS)

2018 in review

My expectations for the year were quite optimistic given global growth seemed to be relatively solid, and that valuations – with the exception of the US market – remained moderate. The start of the year was magnificent, but in hindsight was probably just a continuation of elevated market sentiment from 2017 based on the belief that the Global Economy and the markets were in their "Goldilocks period" – coordinated growth and low inflation.

Yet no sooner had global equity indices reached record highs in early February did worries start to creep in from higher US rates. And as global growth started to slow and the US dollar started to strengthen, the corresponding worries about increasing inflation in emerging markets and weaker emerging markets currencies were certainly not what the doctor ordered. Competition for capital helps no asset class when interest rates rise.

Geo-political risks came to the fore, with trade disputes between the United States and China... actually between the United States and the rest of the world really, but what counted most was certainly the commercial trade wars between the two largest global economies. If we add on the higher oil prices, 2018 ended up being the exact opposite of 2017 – It was the perfect storm that enveloped the financial markets.

The bull market stampede that was seen in 2017 and at the beginning of 2018 ended up being the ultimate bear market collapse at the end of 2018 when even the US market, long a harbinger of relative stability, became un-attractive even versus cash, given that the dividend yield was less than what the US T-bills were offering. The risk that the Fed was perfectly amenable to further tightening and worries that a recession was on the horizon were the primary reasons for December being the worst December for global equities since 1988. The Global Index fell 7.2% just in one month, with the worst performing region being the US. It was a sign of the times that the best performing large markets in 2018 were Brazil and India – one a turnaround story with.

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - Beyond Global Leaders (formerly DNCA INVEST - GLOBAL LEADERS) posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: -10.29%
- A Share EUR: -11.21%
- B Share EUR: -11.43%

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

The sub-fund performed poorly in 2018. There will always be some great performers, and 2018 was not different. However the long term themes that the sub-fund has invested in certainly hurt performance during the year. The large weighting in the semiconductor sector came back to haunt the fund manager. Given that the US/China trade war has an enormous impact on global trade, demand for equipment slowed down precipitously. Demand for memory and integrated chips "fell off a cliff" so to speak. It did not matter that the long term demand requirements remained unchanged, the short term worries stopped new expansion. And sectors such as factory automation, and robotics – two other areas where we continue to remain very positive on a long term horizon - were not spared either.

And despite the December collapse, the US market still significantly outperformed other developed markets, and the sub-fund continued to be underweight US equities because of valuation reasons.

By the end of the period, the liquidity level stood at 15.33% of net assets (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and its assets stood at EUR 307.5 million.

Outlook for 2019

For 2019, our expectations are actually more positive. We rest – as always – positive on the same sectors that we spoke about last year namely internet commerce, the "Internet of Things" (IoT), Internet security, and technologies including factory automation and robotics, biotechnology, and emerging market consumption.

We remain with a low weighting in the United-States, given our worries on valuation, a large weighting in Japan, given the quality of the technology companies and the strength of their balance sheets, and we remain convinced on emerging market consumption, which will remain a multi decade theme.

The weakness in the equity markets in 2018 has led to equities being much more reasonably priced than they have in a long while. The potential of a slowdown in further rate hikes is now present, and given that in the United States, the Democrats now hold control of the House of Representatives, this sea-change in the power corridors of Washington might force the US president to curtail his often mercurial decisions – be it on foreign policy or trade. The only issue that we expect to remain, and potentially to continue to remain a millstone around investors' necks is the conflict between the United States and China on technology and technology transfer. The United States wishes to maintain its technological advantage. China wishes to build its own technology platform. In the technology arena, what the rest of the world does will remain largely irrelevant.

And just as importantly, we believe that the risks to a rapid slowdown in China are much overstated. The Chinese government has become more progrowth since the middle of 2018, however stimulus measures will be required to pull China out of its recent "slowdown". Time will tell what stimuli will be announced, but they will certainly affect global companies that have invested – and continue to invest – in the Middle Kingdom.

DNCA INVEST - CONVERTIBLES

2018 in review

The year 2018 came to a close on a bearish trend that persisted throughout the fourth quarter. Stock markets, particularly the European markets, did not meet a rebound threshold, no matter how technical. Volatility made a comeback, substantiating the nervous nature of investors regarding the main asset categories. The two main central banks could find it difficult to renew their unfailing support, from which the market will have benefited over this last decade (FED and ECB). These entities should initially clean up their balance sheet to recreate material fire-power that they will need for a turnaround in the cycle. This context is currently not topical in terms of macro-economic statistics. Restorative forces around the valuation of assets burst some bubbles with an almost complete lack of refuge assets. It should therefore be noted that pessimism is abound and this is bound to create investment opportunities during 2019. In this context, the primary market for convertible European bonds remains reserved with a single issue offered by a Spanish pharmaceutical company Almirall for EUR 250 million.

In 2018, DNCA Invest - Convertibles posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: -8.78%
- A Share EUR: -9.44%
- B Share EUR: -9.62%
- N Share EUR: -8.94%
- B Share (CHF): -9.66%

Versus -5.18% for their Exane ECI Euro benchmark index calculated with coupons reinvested.

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

Over the period, the best performances from the portfolio were LVMH 2021, Ence 2023, Inmarsat 2023, Cellnex 2026. Conversely, the sub-fund suffered from its exposure to the Vallourec 2022, Rallye 2023, AMS 2025, Telecom Italia 2022 and Elis 2023 stocks.

Over this period, the five most important positions for the portfolio were: Telecom Italia 2022, America Movil/KPN 2020, Cellnex 2026, Haniel 2020 and Telefonica 2021. Elsewhere, 29 bonds were removed from our selection (of which three were repaid at term) for 15 new lines.

By the end of the period, the liquidity remuneration level stood at +3.51% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 795.2 million.

Outlook for 2019

The drop in stock markets, coupled with a deviation from the spreads meant the convertible bonds did not withstand the main asset categories. The primary market also set the pace with all issues well under the historic average, thereby causing a drop in the size of the pool (-0.8 billion Euro). This field now presents a more bond-friendly profile with a reconstitution of the premiums that allow it to offer positive actuarial yield. The renewed awareness regarding stock markets will therefore involve either a substantial rebound in warrant shares or consequent primary issues in 2019. The sub-fund will remain prudent regarding the current environment with a delta-yield value of 20.6% and 2%, versus 24% and -1.1% respectively for its benchmark index. The drop in prices of certain valuations seems to be healthy and could allow a progressive return to the stock markets on the condition that the macroeconomic discourse in the annual publications rejects the hypothesis of a substantial decrease in profit. The sub-fund holds a cash flow position close to 5% that will allow it to be agile during future volatile episodes.

DNCA INVEST - MIURA

2018 in review

The stock markets have retreated in 2018 within a context of progressive deterioration of the economic environment. While the start of the year was still sustained by US fiscal measures, political opposition have tipped the scale on several delicately balanced situations. Worldwide trade rules were openly questioned by President Trump who wishes to strengthen "made in America". While markets were driven by companies' capability, over the last few decades, to extend geographically, a change in taxation on trade exchanges creates uncertainty that is difficult to anticipate. It comes as no surprise that China was the first to be affected by this friction with the United States and several of its end markets falling since the summer (automotive, electronics). Europe was not spared new difficulties either, in the light of an Italian election won by Euro-sceptics and a chaotic divorce process with Great Britain that makes the region less attractive. Beyond these uncertainties egarding worldwide growth, we note that the central banks have not made inflation scenarios easier to read.

DNCA Invest - Miura's performance was affected over the year by a poor choice in purchasing securities. The sub-fund's substandard performance particularly revolves around securities for which the market either anticipated negative industrial markets for the coming quarters (construction, industry) or structural declines coming faster than anticipated (media, tobacco).

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - Miura posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: -12.88%
- A Share EUR: -13.60%
- B Share EUR: -13.77%
- Q Share EUR: -12.20%

Versus an EONIA rate of -0.37%, the sub-fund's benchmark indicator.

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

The sub-fund continued to demonstrate low volatility as its figures over 12 months were 5.1%.

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - Miura benefited from its positions in Peugeot and Thales, which were not able to wipe out poor performances, particularly from Saint-Gobain, Sopra, Atos, Bouygues or TF1.

The liquidity level stood at 9.93% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) at the end of the period, and net assets stood at EUR 360 million.

Gross exposure (long and short to net assets) is 177% and net exposure (shares + long CFD - short CFD - futures to net assets) is -1%.

Outlook for 2019

Following team reorganisation, the sub-fund's relative-value strategy refocused on intra- sector pair trades. We are starting 2019 with 32 pair trades. Through our pair trades, we are emphasising the relative intra-sector valuation with an average PE of our longs of around 12x and our shorts of around 15x the estimated 2019 results. Beyond relative valuation, our strategy focuses on catalysts such as quarterly results, restructuring, regulatory changes and the M&A.

The year will begin with a net slightly negative exposure and we will continue to prioritise the choice of securities rather than the direction of the markets. The value part of DNCA Invest – Miuri's portfolio represents almost 60% of the long portfolio. It is made up of companies with a low valuation (PE around 10x/FCF 10%), with healthy balance statements and whose business should continue to grow over the next few years. The remaining portfolio is comprised of companies whose growth potential seems to have been underestimated by the market, in our opinion. These investments focus on companies that are benefiting from the digital manufacturing revolution, development of large urban centres and growth of international tourism.

DNCA INVEST - EUROPE GROWTH

2018 in review

The stock markets kicked off 2018 by broadening the bullish trends, powered by fiscal reform in the United States in late December and maintaining macro-economic indicators that are properly focussed on all four corners of the globe. The trend was reversed over the last few days of January, emphasised by fears of runaway inflation. Ever since, despite a good batch of first semester results, certain factors continued to weigh heavily: trade friction between the United States and China, a resurgence of political risk in Europe (tense situations in Italy, Angela Merkel's minority within her own party, social movements in France and a complete lack of visibility on the final outcome of Brexit), the progressive loss of impetus of macro-economic signals, particularly in Europe (worsened by new WLTP standards implemented in the automotive sector in the second semester) and in China. In this context, the Stoxx 600 a benchmark index for the DNCA Invest Europe Growth sub-fund, lost -10.77%, which is the worst performance since 2008.

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - Europe Growth posted the following results:

- I Share EUR: -10.72%

Versus -10.77% for the Stoxx 600 benchmark indicator, calculated with dividends reinvested.

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

Over the period, our high conviction stocks were the main contributors to the sub-fund's performance. We can cite Teleperformance, Thales, Alten and Amadeus. It is also necessary to comment on the over-performance of health securities such as Amplifon, Sartorius Stedim, Shire or even Merck Kgaa, that made the sub-fund more resilient in a turbulent market. Among the disappointments, we can cite Valeo, VAT and SFS. It is extremely difficult to assess the impact of protectionist measures resulting from trade friction but there can be no doubt that they will have a disruptive effect on certain sectors such as automotive, industry or even the semi-conductor sector.

The year 2018 was clearly frustrating. In fact, at the end of September, satisfactory performances were rewarding solid organic growth, supplemented by acquisitions that were more often than not accretive (Teleperformance/Intelenet, Amplifon/Gaes, IMCD/E.T Horn, etc.). This dynamic was shattered in the fourth quarter due to aforementioned reasons: trade friction, Chinese macro-economic slow-down, financial stringency in North America, increase of political risks in Europe (France, Brexit, etc.), the new WLTP standard. There is no shortage of reasons and, unfortunately, most of them will still be there in the first semester of 2019. In this gloomy context, we noticeably reduced our exposure on automotive parts manufacturers (Brembo, Norma, SFS, Stabilus) due to a clear deterioration of visibility on their growth in 2019. We are steering clear of very sensitive sectors in China (automotive, semi-conductors). The health and defence sectors seem, in our eyes, to be a rare oasis of stability that should still be prioritised this year.

The liquidity level stood at 5.37% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and its net assets stood at EUR 1,075 million.

Outlook for 2019

There can be no doubt that visibility suddenly deteriorated. However, some recent changes could sustain industrial companies' margins at the start of the 2019 financial year:

- A Euro/Dollar (USD) exchange rate currently approaching 1.14 versus 1.21 in the first
- semester of 2018, which is a drop of 6%
- A severe adjustment of raw material prices (Petrol -30% since early October 2018; Metals -16% since June 2018)
- Price levels (laboriously) raised over the 2018 financial year to face inflationist pressures (salaries, raw materials, logistics)

The stock markets kicked off 2018 by broadening the bullish trends, powered by fiscal reform in the United States in late December and maintaining macro-economic indicators that are properly focussed on all four corners of the globe. The trend was reversed over the last few days of January, emphasised by fears of runaway inflation. Following good sub-fund results in 2016 and 2017, progressing more than 40% between its launch and early 2018, this last year was difficult. Having reached a peak in January 2018, the sub-fund then lost around half of its gains in absolute terms and a large part of its relative over-performance (but not all of it) since it was set up.

Within the attractive segment of the European mid-caps, the sub-fund Archer Mid-Cap Europe concentrates on companies that demonstrate:

- 1. a competitive advantage
- 2. an alignment of shareholder/management interests
- a modest valuation.

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - Archer Mid-Cap Europe posted the following performances:

- N Share EUR: -19.64%

Versus -13.16% for their MSCI Europe Mid Cap benchmark indicator, calculated with dividends reinvested.

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

In our opinion, some of our positions were wrongly penalised, but certain mistakes were also made. We analysed the securities that under-performed, strengthening our positions when investors sanctioned the security too hard, and liquidating our lines when the fundamentals were significantly downgraded. We continue to improve the quality and the resistance of the portfolio, whilst keeping an eye on the valuations. In positive terms, the sub-fund benefited from two acquisitions in 2018 – Marsh & McLennan took over Jardine Lloyd Thomson and Orkla which made an offer for Kotipizza.

By the end of the period, the liquidity remuneration level stood at 3.26% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 101.2 million.

Outlook for 2019

As far as perspectives for 2019 are concerned, we consider that the fourth quarter adjustment of 2018 was fast and violent, and anticipate a rather negative economic scenario in the short term, persistent geopolitical friction and tighter monetary positions, although none of these events is certain. In the medium term, we are confident that our stock investments, which were rigorously selected from a portfolio of well-positioned businesses, creating value at a reasonable price, will bear their fruit for investors that are willing to look beyond short-term fluctuations in the financial markets.

Over the period, our high conviction stocks were the main contributors to the sub-fund's performance. We can cite Tomra, Coor Service, Tryg and Kotipizza (takeover operation), which were not particularly affected by macro-economic events and which continue to develop solid organic growth. Among the disappointments, we can cite Stabilus, VAT and SFS. It is extremely difficult to assess the impact of protectionist measures resulting from trade friction but there can be no doubt that they have a disruptive effect on certain sectors such as Auto, Industry or even Semi-Conductors.

The liquidity level stood at 2.19% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) at the end of the period, and net assets stood at EUR 67.2 million.

Outlook for 2019

The year 2018 was clearly frustrating. In fact, at the end of September, satisfactory performances were rewarding solid organic growth, supplemented by acquisitions that were more often than not accretive (Dustin/Vincere Groep, Tryg/Alka, Tomra/BBC Technologies, etc.). This dynamic was shattered in the fourth quarter due to aforementioned reasons: trade friction, Chinese macro-economic slow-down, financial stringency in North America, increase of political risks in Europe (France, Brexit), the new WLTP standard. In short, there is no shortage of reasons and, unfortunately, most of them will linger in the first semester of 2019. In this gloomy context, we noticeably reduced our exposure on automotive parts manufacturers (Norma, SFS, Stabilus) due to a clear deterioration of visibility on their growth in 2019. We are steering clear of very sensitive sectors in China (auto, semi-conductors). The health sectors seem, in our eyes, to be a rare "oasis" of stability that should still be prioritised this year.

There can be no doubt that visibility suddenly deteriorated. However, some recent changes could sustain industrial companies' margins at the start of the 2019 financial year:

- An exchange rate between the Euro and the US dollar, now close to 1.14 compared
- to 1.21 in the first semester of 2018, a drop of 6%
- A severe adjustment of raw material prices (Petrol -30% since early October; metals -16% since June)
- Price levels (laboriously) raised over the 2018 financial year to face inflationist pressures (salaries, raw materials, logistics)

DNCA INVEST - SERENITE PLUS

2018 in review

The financial markets are going through a phase of very strong turbulence in this last quarter of 2018, taking annual performance from most management strategies into the red zone. In the Eurozone, only the general index representing all sovereign borrowing, regardless of the duration, makes a gain of 0.8%.

Investors are thereby sinking into deep pessimism, particularly in Europe, in the light of the different political and trade risks plus the fear, unjustified at this stage, of a brutal end of cycle in the United States.

In 2018, DNCA Invest - Serenite Plus posted the following performances:

A Share: -1.70%
B Share: -1.89%
I Share: -1.36%
ID Share: -3.13%
AD Share: -3.46%

Versus -0.29% for its benchmark index (FTSE MTS 1-3 years calculated on coupons reinvested).

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

The semester's main movements included investments in Ferrari 2021, ThyssenKrupp 2020 and Casino 2020. Conversely, lines in Rallye 2020, Indra Sistemas 2018 and ThyssenKrupp 2018 were reimbursed.

Unless extreme events are envisaged, the average yield of the portfolio holdings seems attractive from now on (1.7%) with regard to average sensitivity of two years. By the end of the period, the liquidity remuneration level stood at 3.03% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 244.8 million.

Outlook for 2019

The macro-economic environment for 2019 could be characterised by a synchronised slow- down of major world economies: investment should be penalised by growing uncertainties but consumption should be resilient. The growth should remain greater than or close to the potential and a recession is not on the cards either in the United States or in Europe.

On European markets, share valuations are attractive, particularly value type shares and shares that are most exposed to the cycle; rates remain very low on sovereign borrowing, whilst certain credit margins were reconstituted.

DNCA INVEST - VENASQUO

2018 in review

The stock markets have retreated in 2018 within a context of progressive deterioration of the economic environment. While the start of the year was still sustained by US fiscal measures, political opposition have tipped the scale on several delicately balanced situations. Worldwide trade rules were openly questioned by President Trump who wishes to strengthen "made in America". While markets were driven by companies' capability, over the last few decades, to extend geographically, a change in taxation on trade exchanges creates uncertainty that is difficult to anticipate. It comes as no surprise that China was the first to be affected by this friction with the United States and several of its end markets falling since the summer (automotive, electronics). Europe was not spared new difficulties either, in the light of an Italian election won by Euro-sceptics and a chaotic divorce process with Great Britain that makes the region less attractive. Beyond these uncertainties regarding worldwide growth, we note that the central banks have not made inflation scenarios easier to read.

DNCA Invest - Venasquo's performance was affected over the year by a poor choice in purchasing securities. The sub-fund's substandard performance particularly revolves around securities for which the market either anticipated negative industrial markets for the coming quarters (construction, industry) or structural declines coming faster than anticipated (media, tobacco).

Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest - Venasquo posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: -17.38 %
- A Share EUR: -17.90%
- B Share EUR: -18.24 %
- Q Share EUR: -16.73 %
- N Share: share launched 28/02/2018

Versus -6.16% for the sub-fund benchmark indicator (50% EONIA+50% Eurostoxx 50 calculated with coupons and dividends reinvested).

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

The sub-fund continued to demonstrate volatility under its goal of 10%, coming out at 8.7%. Over the course of the year, DNCA Invest Venasquo particularly benefited from purchasing positions in Peugeot, Thales and Cap Gemini. As of 31 December 2018, the sub-fund is positioned on 33 securities and exposed to the market via futures on the Eurostoxx 50, DAX and CAC indices as well as sectoral indices. Publicis, Imperial Brands, Accor, Siemens are the main high conviction purchases in the portfolio.

The liquidity level stood at 19.84% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) at the end of the period, and net assets stood at EUR 89.5 million. Gross exposure (long + short to net assets) is 156% and net exposure (Shares + long CFD - short CFD - Futures to net assets) is 48.4 % (43.5% corrected from the beta).

Outlook for 2019

We will kick off the year with a net defensive exposure (under 50%) and continue to prioritise the choice of securities rather than the direction of the markets. The value part of DNCA Invest - Venasquo portfolio's represents almost 60% of the long portfolio. It is made up of companies with a low valuation (PE around 10x/FCF 10%), with healthy balance statements and whose business should continue to grow over the next few years. The remaining portfolio is comprised of companies whose growth potential seems to have been underestimated by the market, in our opinion. These investments focus on companies that are benefiting from the digital manufacturing revolution, development of large urban centres and growth of international tourism.

DNCA INVEST - GLOBAL CONVERTIBLES

2018 in review

The year 2018 came to a close on a bearish trend that persisted throughout the fourth quarter. Stock markets, particularly the European markets, did not meet a rebound threshold, no matter how technical. Volatility made a comeback, substantiating the nervous nature of investors regarding the main asset categories. The two main central banks could find it difficult to renew their unfailing support, from which the market will have benefited over this last decade (FED and ECB). These entities should initially clean up their balance sheet to recreate material fire-power that they will need for a turnaround in the cycle. This context is currently not topical in terms of macro-economic statistics. Restorative forces around the valuation of assets burst some bubbles with an almost complete lack of refuge assets. It should therefore be noted that pessimism is abound and this is bound to create investment opportunities during 2019. China, one of the main worldwide growth engines, is displaying the strongest signs of slowing down, which will be at the centre of everyone's attention. In this context, the primary convertible bond market was timid overall over the month but comes out looking good over the whole year, mainly led by the North American market.

In 2018, DNCA Invest - Global Convertibles posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: -5.62%
- A Share EUR: -6.32%
- B Share EUR: -6.52%
- Q Share EUR: -4.96%

Versus -5.45% for its benchmark index UBS Thomson Reuters Global Focus CB, calculated on coupons reinvested.

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

In the period, the best performers in the portfolio were, Twilio 2023, Cyberagent 2025, Etsy 2023 et Okta 2023. Conversely, Vallourec 2022, Rallye 2022, AMS 2025, Air France KLM et Econocom 2023 bonds were not so good.

Over this period, the seven most important positions for the portfolio were: Telecom Italia 2022, Carrefour 2023, Indra 2023, Sika 2025, Cellnex 2026, Total 2022 and STM 2024.

By the end of the period, the liquidity remuneration level stood at 1.60% of the portfolio (including money markets funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 51.3 million.

Outlook for 2019

The drop in stock markets, coupled with a deviation from the spreads meant the convertible bonds did not withstand the main asset categories. The primary market posted mixed statistics. The European pool set the pace with all issues well under the historical average, thereby causing the size of the pool to drop (-0.8 billion Euro). Presently, there is an overall more bond-friendly profile with a reconstitution of the premiums that allow it to offer a rising actuarial yield. The renewed awareness regarding stock markets will therefore involve either a substantial rebound in warrant shares or consequent primary issues in 2019. The sub-fund remains prudent regarding the current environment with a delta-yield value of 33% and 2.4%, versus 28% and -2.1% respectively overall. The drop in prices of certain valuations seems to be healthy and could allow a progressive return to the stock markets on the condition that the macroeconomic discourse in the annual publications rejects the hypothesis of a substantial decrease in profit. The sub-fund holds a cash flow position close to 3% that will allow it to be agile during future volatile episodes.

DNCA INVEST - ALPHA BONDS

2018 in review

During the first semester, changes in worldwide growth remained positive but the global dynamic appeared less synchronous between different geographic zones. Economic indicators from the United States continued to gives us positive surprises, probably boosted by Donald Trump's taxation programme. In the Eurozone, conversely, published figures were below expectations, partly explained by unfavourable climatic conditions. In emerging countries, there were fundamentally few real surprises. Consequently, financial markets were mainly dominated by political considerations, characterised by the rise to power in Italy of two anti-European parties following a surprise agreement, and by the US administration's measures to reduce the US trade deficit with the rest of the world by setting up customs barriers again.

The second semester of 2018 saw the first semester's economic divergences entrenched further. US growth remained dynamic, ever-boosted by the effects of Donald Trump's taxation programme. Conversely, European growth once again surprised us by being excessively poor, explained by many unfavourable factors (new anti-pollution standards brought in Germany, gilet jaunes protests in France, inevitable friction in Italy, Brexit risks, etc.). More recently, business also showed signs of slowing down in China, with the trade war generally being given as the main explanation. In this environment, the FED remained the only major central bank to continue to raise its base rates, while the ECB is happy to announce that Quantitative Easing will end by the end of the year, with a few easing measures from the PBOC (drop in bondholder reserves, TLTRO (Targeted longer-term refinancing operations) in exchange for loans to SME).

The second semester was above all marked by increasing market volatility. The drop in oil prices, the FED's intention to continue its financial stringency, initial rejection of the Italian budget by the European Commission, escalation of trade friction between the United States and China and reduction in market liquidity were the main catalysts for this. The price of all the risk assets (shares, credit, etc.) thereby diminished in the second semester, bringing with it a positive jump on State bonds from large developed countries.

Outside these geographic zones, investments focused on debts from New Zealand, Australia and in terms of emerging countries, from Poland and Chile, during the first semester, adding an investment on Hungarian debt in the second semester.

Global exposure to the rate risk was modulated during the year but the portfolio volatility, whether observed ex-post or calculated ex-ante, remained in the low part of its possible breadth (0-5%), around 2%.

In 2018, DNCA Invest - Alpha Bonds posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: +0.67%
- A Share EUR: -0.10%
- B Share EUR: -0.25%
- N Share EUR: +0.28%
- Q Share EUR: +1.17%

Versus +2.20% for its EONIA benchmark indicator, +2.5%.

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

DNCA Invest - Alpha Bonds made a profit on its flexible exposure on the bondholder markets based on its management process that relies on the managers' macroeconomic analysis and their quantitative model of asset valuation. This double approach led to excluding the private sector's debts that had become globally too expensive as well as to selecting assets considered at extreme valuation levels, be it for purchase or for sale. In general, debts from countries in the Eurozone and the North of Europe were prioritised and 10 year debts from Anglo-Saxon countries were sold. The long position on Italy was surrendered as soon as there was an agreement between Lega and the 5-star movement. Conversely, the position on Portugal was kept and the position on Spanish debt was strengthened.

Although performance was positive in the first semester despite almost generalised rebound on yields, DNCA Invest - Alpha Bonds' performance is slightly negative in the second semester. The decline in the net asset value is concentrated on the last two months of the year, when turbulence in the financial markets brought about an abrupt change in the economic scenario. The sub-fund was also significantly affected by the drop in inflation anticipation, resulting from falling energy prices, the drop in anticipation for rising base rates in the Eurozone, and holding long Canadian yields on which the sub-fund was positioned for sale. In the light of these unfavourably evolving positions, we initiated sales positions in the CDS HY US and profited from the drop in this rate during the last quarter of the year.

By the end of the period, the liquidity remuneration level stood at 11.5% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 2,450 million.

Outlook for 2019

For early 2019, the very aggressive positioning of the financial markets, predicting the strong possibility of a coming recession, seemed excessive to us. Although there is no lack of evidence supporting this thesis, we do not agree with this analysis, particularly because of the expected rebound in purchasing power. This should be significant in most developed countries where positive momentum was recorded on salaries, and should be boosted by the falling energy prices.

While the economic environment thereby seems a little less buoyant, the already very low level of bondholder yields leaves very little room for extra easing off. In management, we will remain selective in our investments, always guided by the approach that makes full use of our macroeconomic assessment of the environment and our investment attractivity model.

The second semester was above all marked by increasing market volatility. The drop in oil prices, the FED's intention to continue its monetary tightening, the initial rejection of the Italian budget by the European Commission, escalation of trade friction between the United States and China and reduction in market liquidity were the main catalysts for this. The price of all the risk assets (shares, credit, etc.) thereby diminished in the second semester, bringing with it a positive jump on State bonds from large developed countries.

On the whole, total exposure to the portfolio rate risk was quite broadly modulated over the year, registering a minimum of 3% for a maximum of 13%.

In 2018, DNCA Invest - Flex Inflation posted the following performances:

- I Share EUR: -1.52%
- A Share EUR: -2.13%
- B Share EUR: -2.24%
- N Share EUR: -1.71%
- Q Share EUR: -0.91%
- SI Share EUR: launched 18/04/2018

Versus -2.62% for its benchmark index Bloomberg Barclays World Gov Inflation Hedged EUR calculated with coupons reinvested.

Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

DNCA Invest - Flex Inflation made a profit on its flexible exposure on the bondholder markets based on its management process that relies on the managers' macroeconomic analysis and their quantitative model of asset valuation. Throughout the semester, the portfolio kept bondholder exposure under its benchmark indicator. This under-exposure mainly comprised futures contract sales, in the light of exposure in indexed bonds revolving around a sensitivity level of 10. Regarding the benchmark, the under-exposures on the United Kingdom and the United States are the largest, even as an absolute value, and these positions are among the most significant in the portfolio. Conversely, the exposure on the New Zealand and Swedish indexed debts plus the fixed-rate Portuguese debts (not including the benchmark) was more significant than the management benchmark.

In view of the dynamic seen on salaries and changes in prices at the start of the year, in the second half of the year we strengthened our exposure to inflation, through holdings indexed on inflation covered by future positions, and inflation swaps.

In the United States, our investments in "TIPS" (Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities) were carried over maturities close to 5 years, presenting a really attractive yield, with said maturity also selected to take up a position upwards of inflation in the Eurozone. The sudden drop in energy prices at the end of the period makes a one-off contribution to the portfolio's relative under-performance versus its benchmark, with our under-exposure on the Gilts pegged to inflation constituting the other source of under-performance.

By the end of the period, the liquidity remuneration level stood at 6.40% of the portfolio (including money market funds and assimilated funds) and net assets stood at EUR 283 million.

Outlook for year 2019

For early 2019, the very aggressive positioning of the financial markets, predicting the strong possibility of a coming recession, seemed excessive to us. Although there is no lack of evidence to support this thesis, we do not agree with this analysis, particularly because of the expected rebound in purchasing power. This should be significant in most developed countries where positive momentum was recorded on salaries, and should be boosted by the falling energy prices. For the same reasons, inflation expectations seem too conservative to us. Our portfolio should thereby be significantly sensitive to inflation break-even points over the coming months in order to make the most of expected normalisation.

REPORT OF THE REVISEUR D'ENTREPRISES AGREE

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of DNCA INVEST (the "Fund") and of each of its sub-funds, which comprise, the statement of net assets and the statement of investments and other net assets as at December 31, 2018 and the statements of operations and the statement of changes in net assets of each of its sub-funds for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Fund and of each of its sub-funds as at December 31, 2018, and of the results of their operations and changes in their net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July, 2016 on the audit profession and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" (CSSF). Our responsibilities under those Law and standards are further described in the "Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé" for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our report. We are also independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our report of the Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we concluded that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report this fact. We have nothing to report in this regards.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Fund for the Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a report of Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of July 23, 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July, 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identity and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report of Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Note 2. Significant accounting policies

The financial statements of the Fund are presented in accordance with Luxembourg regulations relating to undertakings for collective investment in transferable securities. They are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting policies in Luxembourg.

2.1 Combined financial statements

The combined financial statements of DNCA INVEST are expressed in euro and are equal to the sum of the corresponding in the financial statements of each Sub-Fund converted into euro at the exchange rate prevailing at the end of the financial year.

2.2 Valuation rules

The value of the following assets is determined as follows:

- a) The value of any cash in hand or on deposit, bills and demand notes and accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, cash dividends and interest declared or accrued as aforesaid and not yet received is deemed to be the full amount thereof, unless in any case the same is unlikely to be paid or received in full, in which case the value thereof is arrived at after making such discount as may be considered appropriate in such case to reflect the true value thereof, validated by the Board of Directors of the Fund.
- b) The value of securities and/or financial derivative instruments, which are listed or dealt in on any stock exchange, is based on the last available price on the stock exchange, which is normally the principal market for such assets.
- c) The value of assets dealt in any other Regulated Market is based on the last available price.
- d) In the event that any assets are not listed or dealt in on any stock exchange or on any other Regulated Market, or if, with respect to assets listed or dealt in on any stock exchange, or other Regulated Market as aforesaid, the price as determined pursuant to sub-paragraph (b) or (c) is not representative of the fair market value of the relevant assets, the value of such assets are based on the reasonably foreseeable sales price determined prudently and in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Fund.
- e) The liquidating value of options contracts not traded on stock exchanges or on other Regulated Markets means their net liquidating value determined, pursuant to the policies established by the Board of Directors of the Fund, on a basis consistently applied for each different variety of contracts. The liquidating value of futures, forward or options contracts traded on exchanges or on other Regulated Markets is based upon the last available closing or settlement prices of these contracts on exchanges and Regulated Markets on which the particular futures, forward or options contracts are traded by the Fund; provided that if a futures, forward or options contract cannot be liquidated on the day with respect to which net assets are being determined, the basis for determining the liquidating value of such contract shall be such value as the Board of Directors of the Fund may deem fair and reasonable.
- f) Investments in UCITS and other UCIs are taken at their latest official net asset values or their latest unofficial net asset values (i.e. which are not generally used for the purposes of subscription and redemption of shares of the target funds) as provided by the relevant administrators if more recent than their official net asset values and for which the Administrative Agent has sufficient assurance that the valuation method used by the relevant administrator for said unofficial net asset values is coherent as compared to the official one.
- g) Non-listed money market instruments held by the Fund with a remaining maturity of ninety days or less are valued at the amortised cost method which approximates market value.
- h) All other securities and other assets are valued at fair market value as determined in good faith pursuant to the procedures established by the Board of Directors of the Fund.
- i) Contracts for Difference ("CFD") are over-the-counter financial instruments which allow an investor to take advantage of the share price movements without having to hold such shares or to manage the holding constraints (custody, financing, loan for shorts). Indeed, a "CFD" is a contract entered into between two parties to exchange, at the end of this contract, the difference between the opening and the closing prices of the contract, multiplied by the number of units of the underlying asset as specified in the contract. The settlement of these differences is completed through a cash payment, not through a physical delivery of the underlying assets. Contracts for Difference are valued at their market value according to the closing price of the underlying securities on the valuation day. The market value of the corresponding line indicates the difference between the market value and the strike price of the underlying securities. Net realised gain or (loss) and net change in unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) on CFD are recorded in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. The net unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) are recorded in the Statement of Net Assets. The valuation of a CFD shall reflect at all times the difference between the latest known price of the underlying security and the valuation that was taken into account when determining the transactions. Realised gain or (loss) and the Changes in unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.
- j) Futures contracts are valued based on the last available market price. Net realised gain or (loss) and net change in unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) on futures contracts are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. The net unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) are recorded in the Statement of Net Assets. For the calculation of net holdings by currency on financial instruments, the holdings are converted at the exchange rate prevailing at the year-end.

k) The forward foreign exchange contracts represent obligations of purchase or the sale of foreign currency on the basis of future exchange rates determined at a fixed price at the time of conclusion of the contracts. The unexpired forward foreign exchange contracts are valued at the last "forward" rate available on the valuation dates or at the balance sheet date and unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) are recorded. Realised gain or (loss) and the Changes in unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. The net unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) are recorded in the Statement of Net Assets.

1) Interest rate swaps contracts and Inflation linked swaps contracts are bilateral agreements in which each party agrees to exchange a series of interest payments for another series of interest payments on the basis of a notional amount serving as the basis of calculation that is generally not exchanged.

Interest rate swaps contracts and Inflation linked swaps contracts are valued at their last known closing price of the underlying security. Net realised gain or (loss) and change in unrealised are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets under caption Net realised gain or (loss) on options contracts and swaps contracts and Net change in unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) on options contracts and swaps contracts.

The net realised gain or (loss) and net change in unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) on Interest rate swaps and Inflation linked swaps contracts are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets under the caption swaps contracts. The net unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) are recorded in the Statement of Net Assets.

2.3 Foreign currency translation

The accounts of each Sub-Fund of the Fund are denominated in the currency in which its net asset value is calculated.

The cost of investments denominated in currencies other than the Sub-Fund's accounting currency is converted into that currency at the exchange rate prevailing at the purchase date.

Income and expenses in currencies other than the Sub-Fund's accounting currency are converted into that currency at the exchange rate prevailing at the transaction date.

The foreign exchange gains and losses on investments are included in the net realised gain or (loss) on investments, in the statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

At the end of the year, the investments' market value (determined as noted previously), the receivables, cash at banks and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the Sub-Fund's accounting currency are converted into that currency at the exchange rates prevailing at that date. The net realised gain or (loss) and net change in unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) on foreign currencies transactions are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets under the caption.

2.4 Net realised gain or (loss) on of investments

The net realised gain or (loss) on sales of investments is calculated on an average cost basis and is included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

2.5 Expenses

Interest expenses are accounted for on accrual basis. Expenses are included to the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

2.6 Dividends and interests

Dividends and interest received or paid by the Fund on its investments are in many cases subject to recoverable withholding taxes at source. The value of any dividends and interest declared or accrued as aforesaid and not yet received or paid is deemed to be the full amount thereof, unless in any case the same is unlikely to be paid or received in full. Dividends are recognised as income net of withholding tax on the date the securities are first quoted ex-dividend to the extent the information is reasonably available to the Fund. Interest is accrued at each net asset valuation.

2.7 Transaction costs

The Fund incurred transaction costs which have been defined as brokerage fees, certain taxes and certain depositary fees relating to the purchase and sale of transferable securities, money market instruments or other eligible assets. The global amounts of transaction costs are all taken into account through the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.
