F&C Portfolios Fund BMO Global Absolute Return Bond

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class F GBP Hedged shares returned +0.3%. Over the same period, the Libor GBP 1 Month return was +0.13%. Performance is total return, net of fees and in sterling terms.

The Portfolio outperformed cash despite the unsupportive global backdrop for bonds (the Bloomberg Barclays Global-Aggregate Total Return Index Value Hedged GBP dropped 2.4% over the period). This was primarily because the Portfolio actively reduced the exposure to rising interest rates, most notably through US government bond markets, during the first half of the reporting period. The Portfolio also benefited from the yield of the corporate bond holdings, although this was tempered by the decision to dampen overall risk during the period.

Within other positions, there were positives from tactical yield curve positions in US and German sovereign bond markets, as well as corporate bond security selection and our preference for the financial and insurance sectors. In currencies, the fund initially benefited from a general bias to the US dollar, but this later cost some relative performance.

Market Review

November 2016 proved to be a pivotal period for global bond markets. The unexpected victory of Donald Trump in the US presidential elections led to a reassessment of US Treasury valuations by the market, as his fiscal programme of tax cuts and infrastructure spending pointed to rising inflationary pressures. This led to an upward surge in US Treasury yields, which was replicated across global bond markets. In addition, OPEC's decision to rein in oil production for the first time in 8 years created a further inflationary pressure point. The Federal Reserve raised interest rates at its December meeting on the back of strengthening economic growth, while the European Central Bank extended its asset purchase programme to December 2017. Although credit valuations were negatively impacted by the rise in global interest rates, credit spreads continued to tighten. The start of 2017 saw renewed strength in the US bond market. This reflected concern in the market that the new US administration may struggle to push through its pro-growth programme through Congress following its failure to reform US healthcare. The more cautious mood in markets, alongside largely unchanged forecasts for growth and inflation from the Federal Reserve, meant there was little real reaction to the 0.25% increase in US interest rates in March. In Europe, the market continued to dwell on the negative consequences of any lurch to populism in the imminent French presidential elections, despite positive economic data. An increase in perceived political risk led to losses for French sovereign debt and peripheral eurozone markets such as Italy. In contrast, European credit markets continued to perform well, benefiting from a supportive growth environment, central bank purchases and the continuing hunt for yield.

Portfolio positioning and outlook

The majority of the portfolio is invested in global corporate bonds with relatively short terms to maturity. This helps to limit the volatility of the Portfolio whilst providing an income that is expected to be higher than that of cash. These holdings are supplemented by smaller investments in markets that we expect to add value, including government bonds, currency positions and other corporate bonds.

In terms of outlook, we expect interest rates across the US and Europe to rise, so we had hedged some of the interest rate risk at the end of the reporting period. In addition, we had hedged some of the credit risk within the Portfolio to soften the impact of any potential downturn in market sentiment caused by events such as the French presidential elections.

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class I Acc USD shares returned +3.9%, compared to a return of 0.5% for 3 Month USD Libor. Performance is total return, net of fees and in US dollar terms.

The six month period saw quite diverse performance between the five factors, highlighting the argument for incorporating a range of factors. The Low Volatility factor struggled in the 'reflationary' environment that followed Trump's election win, as did Momentum, which subsequently staged a solid recovery. The size allocation, which is only implemented in December and January, had a minimal impact upon the aggregate portfolio performance, whilst the most fundamental factors, Value and Growth at a Reasonable Price ("GARP"), enjoyed a good six months. As the period drew to a close, confidence in the Trump reflation story waned and Value in particular gave up a significant portion of its prior gains.

Market Review

Global equities rose strongly in US dollar terms over the review period. Risk appetite was generally boosted by Donald Trump's surprise win in November's presidential election as markets priced in faster US economic growth, underpinned by tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending. Against the backdrop of robust economic data, the Federal Reserve ("Fed") hiked interest rates in December and forecast three further interest rate increases for 2017. The Fed subsequently raised interest rates for a second time in March. However, towards period-end the Trump administration's failure to get healthcare reform through Congress raised questions over the legislative path of its plans to increase infrastructure spending and cut taxes. In the final month of the period, Fed Chair Janet Yellen also adopted a less hawkish tone than many investors had expected. US and eurozone economic data strengthened as the period progressed. For instance, US consumer confidence climbed to its highest level for 16 years in March. While global inflation rose over the six-month period, oil prices began to ease towards period-end, with higher US crude stockpiles counteracting some of the earlier positive price impact from OPEC's agreement to cut production in November.

Outlook

The Portfolio pursues a systematic strategy which, using the MSCI World as its universe and employing a long/short approach, targets five recognised equity styles: Value, Size, Momentum, Low Volatility and GARP. Therefore, we expect the Portfolio to perform regardless of the prevailing macroeconomic conditions.

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class I Acc EUR shares returned +0.5%, compared to the benchmark, the Barclays Global Aggregate (EUR Hedged) Index, which returned -2.8%. Performance is total return, net of fees and in euro terms.

The Portfolio achieved a positive return despite the unsupportive global backdrop for bonds (the Bloomberg Barclays Global-Aggregate Total Return Index Value Hedged GBP dropped 2.4% over the period). This was primarily because the Portfolio actively reduced the exposure to rising interest rates, most notably through US government bond markets, during the first half of the reporting period. The Portfolio also benefited from the yield of the corporate bond holdings, although this was tempered by the decision to dampen overall risk during the period.

Within other positions, there were positives from tactical yield curve positions in US and German sovereign bond markets, as well as corporate bond security selection and our preference for the financial and insurance sectors. In currencies, the Portfolio initially benefited from a general bias to the US dollar, but this later cost some relative performance.

Market Review

November 2016 proved to be a pivotal period for global bond markets. The unexpected victory of Donald Trump in the US presidential elections led to a reassessment of US Treasury valuations by the market, as his fiscal programme of tax cuts and infrastructure spending pointed to rising inflationary pressures. This led to an upward surge in US Treasury yields, which was replicated across global bond markets. In addition, OPEC's decision to rein in oil production for the first time in 8 years created a further inflationary pressure point. The Federal Reserve raised interest rates at its December meeting on the back of strengthening economic growth, while the European Central Bank extended its asset purchase programme to December 2017. Although credit valuations were negatively impacted by the rise in global interest rates, credit spreads continued to tighten. The start of 2017 saw renewed strength in the US bond market. This reflected concern in the market that the new US administration may struggle to push through its pro-growth programme through Congress following its failure to reform US healthcare. The more cautious mood in markets, alongside largely unchanged forecasts for growth and inflation from the Federal Reserve, meant there was little real reaction to the 0.25% increase in US interest rates in March. In Europe, the market continued to dwell on the negative consequences of any lurch to populism in the imminent French presidential elections, despite positive economic data. An increase in perceived political risk led to losses for French sovereign debt and peripheral eurozone markets such as Italy. In contrast, European credit markets continued to perform well, benefiting from a supportive growth environment, central bank purchases and the continuing hunt for yield.

Portfolio positioning and outlook

The majority of the Portfolio is invested in global corporate bonds with short to medium terms to maturity. This helps to limit the volatility of the Portfolio whilst providing an income that is expected to be higher than that of cash. These holdings are supplemented by smaller investments in markets that we expect to add value, including government bonds, currency positions and other corporate bonds.

In terms of outlook, we expect interest rates across the US and Europe to rise, so we had hedged some of the interest rate risk at the end of the reporting period. In addition, we had hedged some of the credit risk within the fund to soften the impact of any potential downturn in market sentiment caused by events such as the French presidential elections.

F&C Portfolios Fund

BMO Responsible Global Emerging Markets Equity

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class A USD shares returned +5.2% (net of fees). By comparison, the Portfolio's benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets NR Index, returned +6.8%.

The Portfolio underperformed the benchmark over the six-month period, with exposure to India the key contributor to the underperformance, along with an overweight in consumer staples and the financial sector. Also among the negative contributors were AIA Group, which was hurt by general 'risk-off' sentiment to Chinese/Hong Kong equities during the fourth quarter of 2016 despite reporting strong third-quarter financial results; retailer Bim Birlesik Magazalar, also trailed the benchmark along with the wider Turkish market. Finally, a lack of exposure to a strong rally in Korea was also a detractor from relative performance over the six-month period, in particular having no exposure to Samsung Electronics. However, the Portfolio's performance improved significantly as the period progressed with a notably strong return in March. At the country level, security selection in India rebounded strongly during the second half of the period, with Yes Bank performing well as it passed central bank stress tests unscathed. Stock selection also turned positive in Mexico following lacklustre performance in the prior quarter, with the holding in retailer Walmart de Mexico rallying on improving investor sentiment after having previously suffered from Donald Trump's election win.

Market Review

Emerging market ("EM") equities generated positive returns over the six-month period. EM equities lagged global equites during the first half of the period, against the backdrop of Donald Trump's win in the US presidential election, higher US interest rate expectations and the Federal Reserve's December rate hike. However, an improving global growth outlook backed by generally robust macroeconomic data from the US, China and the eurozone helped emerging markets to outpace global equity markets over the first quarter of 2017. Investors largely shrugged off another rate increase from the Federal Reserve ("Fed") in March, with comments from Fed officials less hawkish than many had expected. Poland was the top-performing market over the period as sentiment was boosted by accelerating economic growth. Chile was propelled by higher copper prices. Russia also performed well, supported by some improvement in sentiment on its domestic economy and firmer oil prices. Brazil was also one of the best-performing markets on hopes that new political leadership could help the economy emerge from its severe recession. Egypt was by the far the weakest-performing market given the government's decision to float the currency, which subsequently sold off sharply.

Outlook

The long-term structural investment case for less developed markets remains firmly in place. Their secular growth story is underwritten by some very powerful and predictable trends such as urbanisation, increasing incomes and improving education levels; factors that combine to create wealthier populations. We continue to believe that our approach of investing in high-quality companies is the right strategy for a long-term investor in the asset class. We invest in companies with strong business models, robust balance sheets, proven management teams, and a fair alignment between majority and minority shareholders, across a number of markets. In addition, these companies must contribute to or benefit from the sustainable economic development of those countries, based on our six investment themes (Infrastructure for Development, Financing the Future, Rise of the Low Income Consumer, Human Capital, Access to New Technologies and Energy for Growth).

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class X EUR shares returned +2.0%. The class A shares (EUR) returned +1.2%. The benchmark index, 1 month Euribor +400 basis points, rose by 1.8% over the same period. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

Over the six-month period both the traditional and alternatives allocations provided notable positive performance. The relative value strategies generated strong gains initially, with style premia and theme trades, such as US homebuilders, performing well through the latter part of the period. Developed market equities contributed positively to performance, with US equities dominating returns after the Trump election victory. Sovereign debt had a tough half of the review period as yields rose sharply, however, losses were reduced in the second half as geopolitical risk increased and yields fell.

In terms of activity, the increased risk stance that had been held after Trump's election success into 2017 proved to be correct and we were happy to hold this position until March. At this point, a slightly more cautious viewpoint was taken. Exposure to equities was reduced slightly and high quality fixed income was increased to provide protection in case of a market correction. At period end, we continued to hold our view that Japanese and European equities would outperform. We took a less favourable view on US and UK equities and a relatively more positive view on emerging markets.

Market Review

Global equities rose strongly over the review period. Risk appetite was generally boosted by Donald Trump's surprise win in November's presidential election as markets priced in faster US economic growth, underpinned by tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending. Against the backdrop of robust economic data, the Federal Reserve ("Fed") hiked interest rates in December and forecast three further interest rate increases for 2017. The Fed subsequently raised interest rates for a second time in March. However, towards period-end the Trump administration's failure to get healthcare reform through Congress raised questions over the legislative path of its plans to increase infrastructure spending and cut taxes. In the final month of the period, Fed Chair Janet Yellen also adopted a less hawkish tone than many investors had expected. US and eurozone economic data strengthened as the period progressed. For instance, US consumer confidence climbed to its highest level for 16 years in March. While global inflation rose over the six-month period, oil prices began to ease towards period-end, with higher US crude stockpiles counteracting some of the earlier positive price impact from OPEC's agreement to cut production in November.

Outlook

As recessionary risks receded and growth prospects improved, both inflation and rate expectations have been revised upwards. The magnitude of moves so far is small but this has lent weight to the prevailing view that a 'goldilocks' environment for the US economy (with growth not too hot, nor too cold) will persist in coming quarters. There now seems reduced downside risk on the US economy which means that we can expect more tightening as the year progresses. The narrative in recent quarters, therefore, has been one of a synchronised upturn in the global economy. Nonetheless, there is now a marked divergence between hard (reported) economic data and soft (survey and expectations based) survey data. There is also greater questioning over whether optimism over Trump's victory has now gone too far. Outside of the US, a source of significant risk still relates to politics in Europe. The French Presidential elections, with the first round in late April and the second round run-off in early May, will cause near-term angst as we navigate through the process. Aside from politics, the eurozone is performing well. Economic data has continued to improve, inflation is firming and we may well see a slightly less accommodative stance (at least in terms of forward guidance) from the European Central Bank before too long. To conclude, there is evidence of a synchronised upturn in the global economy although near term expectations have perhaps become somewhat too optimistic. The picture is positive fundamentally, with low but improving growth rates and a relatively robust and consistent outturn expected. This, combined with modest (but slightly rising) rates of inflation and some policy normalisation bodes well for risk assets in general and should continue to support the reflationary theme. However there are still several geo-political risks that can have a significant impact on asset prices.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C Emerging Markets Bond

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2017 the Class A USD shares returned -0.7% (net of fees). By comparison, the EMBI Global Diversified Index returned -0.3%.

The Portfolio modestly underperformed the benchmark over the six-month period. Over the course of the review period, underweights in Lebanon and Venezuela proved detrimental to performance. In the case of the former, government bonds have rallied due to the prospect of a more stable situation in Syria. With regards to Venezuela, the Portfolio's exposure to the country was increased in February, but the underweight prior to this point had an adverse impact on performance. Venezuela's President, Nicholás Maduro, has tightened his grip on power by using military support and exploiting the divided opposition. The Portfolio's overweight in Brazil contributed positively to performance, however. President Temer's centrist, pro-business government has been pressing ahead with an ambitious economic reform programme. A landmark law limiting future increases in budget spending to zero in real terms has already been passed, and pension reform is underway. Security selection in Chile also added to performance. Positions in LATAM Airlines and Codelco, the state-owned copper mining company, performed strongly.

Market review

Emerging market debt ("EMD") yields ended the six-month period little changed. Yields initially rose against a backdrop of Federal Reserve tightening and Donald Trump's surprise win in the US presidential election. The possibility of more rapid US economic growth in conjunction with tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending fuelled US dollar strength. However, in the first quarter of 2017, EMD yields fell and the US dollar weakened as President Trump faced a number of setbacks, including the legal block of his immigration ban and his failure to repeal Obamacare, developments which investors extrapolated into concerns that proposed tax reforms may not happen. Furthermore, even though the Federal Reserve followed on from its December interest rate hike with another in March, a less hawkish tone than many investors anticipated was adopted.

Market Outlook

Stronger growth in developed economies is supporting emerging market ("EM") exports, but larger EM economies such as Russia, Turkey, Mexico and Brazil continue to suffer from domestic weakness. In China, the ongoing massive quasi-fiscal stimulus should support the economy. Meanwhile, structural reforms are progressing in countries such as Brazil, India and Peru, while International Monetary Fund ("IMF") programmes are providing policy anchors in a growing list of EM countries. Sovereign spreads in most cases are cushioned by strong external balance sheets and limited near-term financing needs. Investors will be closely monitoring developments to see whether Donald Trump's proposed fiscal stimulus will lead to more hawkish monetary policy. The main risk is that the Trump administration will adopt a more protectionist stance, thereby damaging global growth prospects.

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class A shares returned +11.1%. This compared to a return of +12.3% for the benchmark, the FTSE All-World Developed Europe NR Index. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

On the positive side, watchmaker Swatch was boosted by hopes that Swiss watchmakers could see improvement in exports during 2017. Engineer Sandvik was another positive contributor over the period, with the market rewarding a change in management and improving fundamentals. Among the stocks that detracted over the period was sporting goods company Amer Sports, which was hindered by disappointing financial results. Meanwhile, textile maintenance services provider Berendsen lagged as UK operational challenges hurt sentiment. Shares in DIY group Kingfisher fell after the company revealed persistent challenges in some of its regional businesses, despite reporting financial results that met expectations.

Market Review

The European Central Bank ("ECB")'s decision to extend quantitative easing ("QE") for an additional nine months, albeit with monthly asset purchases to be reduced from €80 billion to €60 billion, boosted investor sentiment. At the same time, eurozone economic data was generally robust with household and business surveys pointing to an acceleration in growth, while inflation also ticked up. While the ECB maintained its loose monetary policy, towards period-end it appeared to strike a more hawkish tone given the increasingly favourable macroeconomic backdrop. European markets largely shrugged off the negative outcome to the Italian referendum on constitutional reform and subsequent resignation of Prime Minister Matteo Renzi. Elsewhere, the defeat of far-right candidate Geert Wilders in the Dutch general election boosted risk appetite. However, the triggering of Article 50 by the UK and strong polling by far-right French presidential candidate Marine Le Pen remained sources of political risk.

Outlook

Fundamentals look good and valuations attractive versus other major equity markets, with European earnings, in aggregate, still around 40% below the previous peak. Improving economic growth means that Europe is now seeing earnings upgrades and a genuine corporate recovery. We believe the biggest challenge for investors, and the greatest threat to the upward trajectory in European equity markets, is the eventual withdrawal of central bank monetary support. Inflation has risen in recent months and we have started to see interest rate increases in the US. During a period of exceptionally low volatility, the inevitable normalisation of monetary policy is likely to cause disruption. As stock pickers, we must mitigate this risk by avoiding the stocks with valuations or business models that have been artificially supported during this extraordinary period.

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2017, the Portfolio's Class A EUR shares returned +12.4%. This compared with the benchmark FTSE All-World Developed Europe NR Index return of +12.3%. All figures are net of fees and in euro terms.

Among the stocks that contributed positively to performance over the period was Dutch paints and coatings specialist Akzo Nobel, which was buoyed by a takeover approach, despite choosing to reject it. Meanwhile, insurer Allianz was boosted by strong financial results. Likewise, shares in fashion name Hugo Boss also rallied after it reported better-than-expected quarterly results. In contrast, the holding in CTT Correios de Portugal, Portugal's national postal service, fell on the back of disappointing results. Shares in DIY group Kingfisher slipped after the company revealed persistent challenges in some of its regional businesses, despite reporting financial results that met expectations.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C European High Yield Bond

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class A EUR shares returned +3.1% (net of fees). By comparison, the Portfolio's benchmark, the Merrill Lynch European Currency High Yield BB-B rated, ex-Finance Index, returned +3.3%.

After fees, the Portfolio performed broadly in line with the benchmark over the six-month period. In terms of positioning, the Portfolio's underweight to banking was a boost to performance as was the relative overweight in chemicals. We also benefited from not owning one of the worst performing bonds in the European high yield market, Agrokor. The Portfolio's underweight to the energy sector was a detractor from performance, although this remains one of the more volatile parts of the market. Meanwhile, the overweight to single-B rated bonds and underweight in sterling-denominated bonds had a mixed impact. As the period progressed, the triple-C exposure contributed positively to performance.

Market Review

European high-yield bonds generated positive returns over the six-month period. Donald Trump's surprise win in November's presidential election generally boosted risk appetite, as markets priced in faster US economic growth, underpinned by tax cuts and increased spending. Meanwhile, generally robust economic data from the US, China and the eurozone also provided impetus for spread tightening. The Federal Reserve ("Fed") hiked interest rates at its December meeting, its only rate increase of 2016, but also forecast it would raise rates on three more occasions during 2017. Although the Fed increased interest rates at its March meeting by 0.25%, Fed officials adopted a less hawkish tone than many investors had expected, raising hopes of a more gradual approach to rate tightening. While keeping interest rates on hold, the European Central Bank ("ECB") announced an extension to its quantitative easing programme to the end of 2017, albeit with monthly asset purchases to be reduced from €80 billion to €60 billion from April 2017. Meanwhile, as the eurozone economy showed signs of accelerating further ECB President Mario Draghi indicated that the threat of deflation had been removed. A landmark OPEC agreement to cut oil supply boosted sentiment in energy-related names, however, this was offset to some degree towards period-end as record high US crude stockpiles weighed on prices.

Outlook

High-yield bonds continue to attract investors due to the higher level of income they generate and their relatively low level of interest rate sensitivity. We also believe that high-yield bonds are attractively valued from a spread perspective, as markets price in a relatively high level of defaults. Indeed, most recent defaults have been in the energy sector, despite many such issuers benefiting from the stabilisation in commodity prices. While some degree of spread tightening will be needed to offset against any future rate hikes, merger and acquisition (M&A) activity is on the rise in this expansionary phase of the credit cycle, with high-yield issuers often becoming takeover targets and their bonds viewed as beneficiaries.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C European SmallCap

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class A EUR shares returned +8.6%. Its benchmark, the Euromoney Smaller European Companies Index (NR), returned +11.6%. Performance is net of fees, in euro terms.

Primarily it was our UK holdings that detracted from performance over this period including home furnishings retailer Dunelm, which is suffering from consumer uncertainty and costs associated with turning around their new acquisition. Textile maintenance services provider Berendsen lagged as operational challenges hurt sentiment. Shares in technology provider Laird were hit after the company issued a profit warning as a result of price cut demands from Apple. Elsewhere, sporting goods company Amer Sports was hindered by disappointing financial results. With the exception of Laird we continue to hold these positions and believe in the long-term investment theses.

Notably, as the period progressed, there was improved contribution to fund performance from financial holdings. Among the best performers were SpareBank, a Norwegian regional bank, and Storebrand, a Norwegian life insurance company, which both benefited from increased inflation expectations, rising bond yields and the region benefiting from the oil price recovery. Elsewhere, builders' merchant Grafton was boosted by better-than-expected results. Industrial equipment manufacturer Interpump benefited from organic growth, with improved trading in the US.

Market Review

The European Central Bank ("ECB")'s decision to extend quantitative easing (QE) for an additional nine months, albeit with monthly asset purchases to be reduced from €80 billion to €60 billion, boosted investor sentiment. At the same time, eurozone economic data was generally robust with household and business surveys pointing to an acceleration in growth, while inflation also ticked up. While the ECB maintained its loose monetary policy, towards period-end it appeared to strike a more hawkish tone given the increasingly favourable macroeconomic backdrop. European markets largely shrugged off the negative outcome to the Italian referendum on constitutional reform and subsequent resignation of Prime Minister Matteo Renzi.

The market entered 2017 concerned about three big political hurdles in the form of the Dutch, French and German elections as well as the triggering of Article 50 by the UK and the ensuing negotiations. So far, the Dutch election passed without eurosceptic Geert Wilders winning a large number of seats and although Marine Le Pen has got through the first round of the French elections she is facing a more palatable europhile competitor in Macron than the worst case scenario. These outcomes have led to the return of risk appetite in the region but political uncertainty remains with the new addition of a UK general election in June.

Outlook

The year 2017 started particularly well for smaller companies, which outperformed their larger counterparts. This is perhaps because the European economy, which they are principally exposed to, made good progress through the first quarter, offsetting investor concerns over political uncertainty in the region. It is particularly encouraging for European investors that this economic performance appears to be filtering through to company results, with earnings expectations now rising. In contrast to the US, European profits on aggregate have made little progress since the global financial crisis, however, with leading indicators continuing to be supportive, we see an opportunity for sustained profit progress to deliver further good equity returns for investors.

We must, however, balance this optimism with a note of caution. Europe faces a number of political hurdles this year, and whilst it appears that these concerns may be overdone, recent history suggests that predicting political outcomes, or indeed the impact on markets of these outcomes, is not a sensible course of action. Additionally, valuations are not obviously attractive on basic measures and do need profit recovery to be sustained. We will therefore continue to execute our process of selecting good businesses on their individual merits and remain convinced that this is the best way to deliver long-term returns for our investors. Following a challenging 2016, our belief is bolstered by a positive start to the year 2017. We are also particularly pleased that the stocks added to the Portfolio over the last 15 months have in aggregate contributed positively to the Portfolio's performance, demonstrating the strength of our idea generation process.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C Global Convertible Bond

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2017, the return on the Class A EUR shares was +5.0% compared to a return of +5.4% for the benchmark, the Thomson Reuters Global Focus Combined Index. The Class A EUR Hedged shares returned +2.4% and the Class I EUR Hedged shares returned +2.5% over the same period. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

The Portfolio slightly underperformed its benchmark over the six-month period. The main reason that the Portfolio lagged the benchmark was being underweight in some strong returning, low-credit quality convertibles, which contributed significantly to index returns. Having no exposure to Advanced Micro Devices (CCC-rated) in the electronics sector, and Chesapeake Energy (CCC-rated) and Weatherford International (B-rated) in the oil & gas sector, hurt returns as the convertibles traded up on turnaround expectations. We have no exposure to these bonds due to credit quality concerns. Within the telecommunications sector, the underweight position in Dish Network (B-/Ba3 rated) also held back relative returns. We were underweight as the company had been acquiring a vast amount of wireless spectrum over the years, whilst it is yet unclear how valuable this is.

On the positive side, the Portfolio benefited from our positioning in steels/metals, with various holdings such as Outokumpu and Aperam gaining from the cost-cutting measures conducted in previous years as well as improving end-market conditions. Within media, the Portfolio benefited from AT&T's take-over bid for TimeWarner. Positioning in online travel agent Priceline and Deutsche Post were further drivers of positive returns.

Market Review

Convertibles benefited from rising share prices over the six-month period. Equities staged a rally in the aftermath of Trump's win in the US presidential election, as markets priced in stronger US economic growth, underpinned by tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending. Global corporate bonds generated modestly positive returns over the period. While returns were held back during the first half of the period as global interest rate expectations rose, spread tightening and a more benign environment in major government bond markets during the first quarter of 2017 enabled global credit to generate positive absolute returns over the six-month period as a whole. The Federal Reserve ("Fed") hiked interest rates at its December meeting, its only rate increase of 2016, but also forecast it would raise rates on three more occasions during 2017. While keeping interest rates on hold, the European Central Bank ("ECB") announced an extension to its quantitative easing programme to the end of 2017, albeit with monthly asset purchases to be reduced from €80bn to €60bn. Although the Fed hiked interest rates at its March meeting from 0.75% to 1%, Fed officials adopted a less hawkish tone than many investors had expected, raising hopes of a gradual approach to rate tightening.

New issuance was relatively strong over the period, amounting to just under US$39 billion, with major deals from the likes of Bayer, Michelin, Fresenius, Vinci, Deutsche Wohnen, Snam, Microchip Technology, Dish Network and Tesla.

Outlook

US President Trump is expected to stimulate the US economy via tax cuts, infrastructure spending and possible cash repatriation for US companies. This is likely to support US economic growth, whilst higher inflation should lead to higher US yields and rate increases. We expect the US to grow by around 2% to 2.5% in the year ahead. We anticipate Europe to grow by 1.5% to 2%, with continued support from monetary policy to the end of this year whilst declining unemployment and an improving housing market should be further positives. For Japan, a growth rate of around 1% is expected, whilst China should grow by around 6.5%.

Despite the improving macroeconomic backdrop, within our strategy we are cognisant of the risks posed by potential market disruptions. Growth expectations have driven equity markets higher and the good news is largely known, making markets vulnerable to setbacks. We see a lack of execution on Trump policy plans as a major risk, for example in disappointments or delayed agreements on tax plans or US budget spending. Longer-term risks remain from Trump's presidency, which implies notable policy changes, with uncertainty surrounding protectionism and international relations. The upcoming elections in France may provide further volatility. Current polls suggest, however, that Marine Le Pen is less likely to win the second round of voting. In our view, higher bond yields against a stronger macroeconomic growth backdrop should not hurt equities. However, in the absence of a notable improvement in the macroeconomy, we believe a scenario of a 'taper tantrum' from major central banks (Bank of Japan, Fed, ECB), where quantitative easing is reduced and interest rates rise, has the potential to adversely impact equity markets.

One a one-year horizon, for a +20%/-17.5% equity market move, we expect convertibles to return +12.3%/-6.9% respectively.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C Global Smaller Cap Equity

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class A Acc USD shares returned +6.2% (net of fees). By comparison, the Portfolio's benchmark, the MSCI World Small Cap Index, returned +8.1%.

The Portfolio underperformed its benchmark over the six-month period. This was very much a period of two halves, with the underperformance coming through in the first half and a recovery in portfolio performance over the latter half. We are underweight the US versus the benchmark and so the rally in US equities around the US election result in November hurt relative performance. There was also a negative currency impact from our low exposure to the US dollar. Among the stocks detracting from performance over the quarter was the US-listed oil and gas company Carrizo, which was hit by the decline in oil prices. Elsewhere, Finnish sporting goods company Amer Sports was held back by disappointing financial results. US-listed auto parts company LKQ was hindered by the general rotation out of quality stocks and the retirement of its Chief Executive Officer. Over the period, the top-performing contributor for the Portfolio was ski resorts operator Vail Resorts, with the shares boosted by strong financial resorts and upbeat guidance. Italian industrial equipment manufacturer Interpump benefited from organic growth, with improved trading in the US.

In terms of activity over the period, we sold US house builder WCI Communities post the bid from Lennar, and we continue to trim the position in premium carbonated drinks manufacturer Fevertree in the run of strong performance. Buys included Canadian auctioneer Ritchie Brothers and Kosuri Holdings, a Japanese drug store business.

Market Review

Smaller company equities rose solidly in US dollar terms over the review period. Global risk appetite was generally buoyed by Donald Trump's surprise win in November's presidential election as markets priced in faster US economic growth, underpinned by tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending. Against the backdrop of robust economic data, the Federal Reserve ("Fed") increased interest rates in December and again in March. However, towards period-end, the Trump administration's failure to get healthcare reform through Congress raised questions over the legislative path of its plans to increase infrastructure spending and cut taxes. In the final month of the period, Fed Chair Janet Yellen also adopted a less hawkish tone than many investors had expected. At the same time, both US and eurozone economic data continued to generally strengthen as the period progressed. For instance, US consumer confidence climbed to its highest level for 16 years in March. While global inflation rose over the six-month period, oil prices began to ease towards periodend, with higher US crude stockpiles counteracting some of the earlier positive price impact from OPEC's agreement to cut production in November.

Outlook

Small-cap equities have begun the year on a positive note, with ongoing evidence that the global economy is continuing to deliver robust growth. While it remains to be seen whether the new US administration can deliver on its campaign policies, there are also bright spots elsewhere, with growth in Europe continuing to pick up. We expect ongoing tightening of monetary policy in the US to increase risks to the economy as the year progresses, having already witnessed deterioration of credit in areas such as autos constraining growth. Elsewhere, economic indicators continue to suggest further recovery. The portfolio is underweight to US equities, where we view valuations as having expanded well above historic norms, despite not being supported by the current level of economic growth.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C Japanese Equity

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class I EUR shares returned +12.0%. By comparison, the benchmark, the FTSE World Japan NR Index, returned +10.0%. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

The Portfolio's positive relative performance over the six-month period was driven by sector allocation, though stock selection also contributed positively. In particular, the Portfolio benefited from being overweight in the energy and industrial metals and mining sectors. Among the top individual contributors to performance over the period was oil refiner Idemitsu Kosan, which benefited from improvement and stabilisation in oil prices. Meanwhile, shipping company Mitsui O.S.K. Lines beat earnings expectations as it was boosted by an upturn in iron ore shipments to China. Hitachi Metals was a beneficiary of improving sentiment on the global economy as the demand outlook firmed. On the negative side, performance was hindered by overweights in financials, with holdings such as banking name Suruga Bank and securities exchange operator Japan Exchange among the laggards.

Market Review

The six-month period saw the yen sell off against major currencies, providing support for the shares of Japanese exporters. Donald Trump's victory in the US presidential election and the subsequent sharp rise in the dollar went some way to assuaging the ongoing concerns over yen strength. In November, the Bank of Japan ("BoJ") extended its estimate for the time when it will achieve its 2% inflation target, forecasting it would reach the goal during 2018. As the period progressed, Japanese economic data generally continued to indicate sluggish domestic consumer demand. Japan's third-quarter growth was downwardly revised to 1.3%, versus an earlier 2.2% estimate, owing to weaker business investment, although it still represented a significant improvement versus the prior quarter. In December, the BoJ kept its monetary policy unchanged while signalling that the recent sharp fall in the yen made it more upbeat on the nation's economic outlook in 2017. Robust exports supported by a weaker yen enabled the Japanese economy to grow at an annualised 1.2% rate over the fourth quarter of 2016, though domestic consumption remained relatively muted. Earlier increases in energy costs fed through to the first rise in consumer prices in a year in January.

Outlook

Our research points to a favourable risk-return profile for Japan, even though the domestic labour market has tightened further and wage inflation is set to become a recurring theme, potentially crimping profit margins at those companies with less pricing power. While market expectations are still muted, we expect Japan to remain a compelling opportunity for equity investors during 2017, with the provisos that Prime Minister Abe can ride out his current dip in approval ratings and the BoJ maintains its current policy. In our view, the outlook for Japanese equities is supported by robust near-term earnings prospects, attractive valuations, evidence of further corporate governance reform and ongoing financial re-engineering of Japan's cash-rich balance sheets.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C Plus Fund

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Portfolio returned +1.3% (net of fees, in euro terms).

During the 6 months, the Portfolio continued to have a preference for low duration (i.e. a lower sensitivity to movements in interest rates) as well as floating rate bonds in expectation of higher yields in the near future. Within fixed income, we continued to hold an overweight allocation to peripheral Europe, in both government and corporate bonds. We have increased diversification in bond allocation by adding more names to the portfolio in order to reduce single name exposure risk.

In order to maximize returns, the fund continued to hold a small allocation to equities, especially through European equities, where we see more value on a fundamental basis.

Market Review

The most important event for markets was the election of Donald Trump as US President. The fears of protectionism were superseded by the expectation of banking deregulation, tax relief and a strong infrastructure investment plan. These expectations triggered a rally in US equities and emerging markets, and also on European equities. This relief rally was tempered by renewed expectation of a rate increase by the Federal Reserve, which become more hawkish on the back of strengthening economic indicators and corporate earnings – becoming an eventuality at their December meeting. With US unemployment dropping to fresh historically low levels and economic data continuing to post strong figures, US 10-year Treasuries climbed on anticipated higher inflation and stronger growth.

In Europe, political themes continued to drive the agenda with elections in France, Netherlands, Germany and possibly also in Italy. The vote by the UK to leave the European Union also weighed on investor sentiment and markets trended sideways for some time, underperforming their US peers but still posting positive total returns. The European Central Bank ("ECB") extended its quantitative easing programme but left a question mark about tapering in the future. This led to an increase in yields in German government bonds, with Italian and French bonds also underperforming on the back of political issues.

Throughout the period, markets priced in stronger global growth, higher inflation and double-digit earnings growth. This explains the negative return of European government bonds, at -4.4%, and the strong positive returns of equities, both in Europe (+15.6%) and in the US (+ 8.97%), while commodities also posted gains within the period.

Outlook

An improvement in economic data needs to materialise in order for markets to maintain a "risk on" stance. In fact, sentiment indicators should now be validated by hard (actual) data with sales, manufacturing and investment needing to report on the upside.

Brexit is likely to make the headlines once again and investors will assess the likely impact on European markets. Geopolitical factors are likely to increase as tensions mount in North Korea, Turkey and Syria, as well as some Latin American countries.

Expectations of global growth will probably continue to favour higher rates, and central banks will try to promote policy normalisation. We believe risk assets will outperform government bonds, while credit markets could become more volatile as central banks such as the ECB attempt to communicate some sort of tapering.

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2017, the Class A EUR shares returned +10.4% (net of fees). By comparison, the Portfolio's benchmark, the MSCI World NR Index, returned +13.8%.

The Portfolio lagged the benchmark over the period, driven primarily by negative stock selection in the run up to, and in the wake of, the surprising outcome to the US presidential election. The fourth quarter saw a powerful rotation out of both growth and quality stocks globally in favour of names with stronger value characteristics. However, the Portfolio's relative performance improved markedly during the second half of the review period, when the portfolio benefited from underweight exposure to energy and an overweight exposure to IT.

Among the detractors from relative performance over the six-month period was the holding in wind turbine manufacturer Nordex, which suffered from the outcome of the US election, disappointing third-quarter earnings and weaker-than-expected guidance. Shares in LED lighting manufacturer Acuity Brands underperformed after unforeseen supply chain issues and short-cycle business weakness led to lower-than-forecast quarterly results. Sporting goods company Amer Sports was another stock to be held back by disappointing financial results. Positive contributors to performance included commercial banking group SVB Financial, with the shares rallying on higher US interest rate expectations. Meanwhile, technology name Cognex was buoyed by strong financial results.

Review

Global equities rose strongly over the review period. Risk appetite was generally boosted by Donald Trump's surprise win in November's presidential election as markets priced in faster US economic growth, underpinned by tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending. Against the backdrop of robust economic data, the Federal Reserve ("Fed") hiked interest rates in December and forecast three further interest rate increases for 2017. The Fed subsequently raised interest rates for a second time in March. However, towards period-end the Trump administration's failure to get healthcare reform through Congress raised questions over the legislative path of its plans to increase infrastructure spending and cut taxes. In the final month of the period, Fed Chair Janet Yellen also adopted a less hawkish tone than many investors had expected. US and eurozone economic data strengthened as the period progressed. For instance, US consumer confidence climbed to its highest level for 16 years in March. While global inflation rose over the six-month period, oil prices began to ease towards period-end, with higher US crude stockpiles counteracting some of the earlier positive price impact from OPEC's agreement to cut production in November.

Outlook

Investors are now questioning the US administration's ability to deliver stimulus via tax reform and infrastructure spending, and whether it can do this in a manner that will satisfy the expectations that have helped propel equity markets to record highs. As European economic data continues to improve, we should see the valuation discount on European equities narrow further. By contrast, in the UK, the triggering of Article 50 and higher inflation have raised concerns about the political and economic challenges ahead, including the resilience of consumer spending. In Japan, accelerating real exports support our view that competitive exporters offer an attractive investment opportunity. Overall, we still believe that sustainable growth companies will outperform over the long term, due to their robust cash flows, focus on growing franchise value and commitment to improving total shareholder returns.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C US Smaller Companies

Performance

Over the six months to 31st March 2017, the Class A USD shares returned +6.4% (net of fees). By comparison, the Portfolio's benchmark, the Russell 2000 NR Index, returned +11.3%.

The Portfolio underperformed the benchmark over the period. Amongst the detractors from relative performance was Sabre, a provider of technology to the travel industry, it announced disappointed earnings guidance because of an unexpected increase in costs. Alternative car parts distributor LKQ lagged because of a slowdown in organic growth. Oil and gas company Carrizo suffered from a lower oil price. On the positive side, Leucadia National (a diversified financial services company) reported encouraging financial results. CDW, a value-added reseller of technology products, benefited from stronger end-market demand.

Market Review

Over the six-month period, US smaller companies, as represented by the Russell 2000 Index, generated strong positive returns. US equities rallied following Donald Trump's surprise win in November's presidential election as markets priced in faster US economic growth, driven by potential tax cuts, deregulation and increased spending on infrastructure and defence. The US dollar strengthened as bond yields rose in response to Trump's victory and the Federal Reserve hiked interest rates in December 2016 and March 2017.

However, towards period-end the Trump administration's failure to get healthcare reform through Congress raised questions over the successful passage of other items on the agenda such as tax cuts and infrastructure spending. Survey data from consumers, manufacturers and small businesses continued to strengthen as the period progressed but has not yet translated into more tangible evidence of improvement in economic growth. Low initial jobless claims and rising wages suggest a healthy labour market. Inflation appears to be under control and given the backdrop we expect US interest rates to rise only gradually over the coming years.

Outlook

After a period of strong performance, equity markets have been range bound as investors await progress from the new administration on the delivery of its pro-growth agenda. Considerable political uncertainty remains, and with the backdrop of high valuations and leverage, we believe a cautious approach is sensible.

Notes to the Financial Statements

as at 31 March 2017

1. F&C PORTFOLIOS FUND, (THE "FUND")

The Fund is a "Société d'Investissement à Capital Variable" and is qualified as a Luxembourg investment company. Under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, the Fund is registered as an undertakings for collective investment pursuant to Part I of the amended Law of 17 December 2010, relating to undertakings for collective investment (the "Law").

FundRock Management Company S.A. was designated by the directors of the Fund as management company by an agreement dated 30 December 2005, as restated and amended by an agreement dated 25 February 2016 (the "Management Company"). The list of the investment funds managed by the Management Company may be obtained, on request, at the registered office of the Management Company.

The Management Company was incorporated as a "société anonyme" under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg on 10 November 2004 and its articles have been amended for the last time on 1 July 2014 which was published in the Mémorial on 3 October 2014. The Management Company is approved as a management company and regulated by chapter 15 of the Law.

The Fund continues to be run and valued on available market prices; based on the current liquidity conditions and the nature of the investments held. The below Portfolios would not achieve a greater than 90% liquidity, within 30 days, if the Fund had to be disposed of:

F&C Emerging Markets Bond

F&C Global Convertible Bond

F&C Plus Fund

The Fund's board of directors (the "Board") has adopted the ALFI Code of Conduct, which sets out the principles of good governance, and considers that the Fund has been in compliance with it in all material respects throughout the financial period ended 31 March 2017.

UCITS V came into effect in March 2016. UCITS V aims to increase the level of protection already offered to investors in UCITS and to improve investor confidence in UCITS. It aims to do so by enhancing the rules on the responsibilities of depositaries and by introducing remuneration policy requirements for UCITS fund managers. It also aims to ensure that all EU regulators responsible for the supervision of UCITS funds and their managers have a common minimum set of powers available to investigate infringements.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Presentation of financial statements

The financial statements have been presented in accordance with the reporting requirements of the Luxembourg supervisory authorities and Luxembourg generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP").

Combined accounts

The combined financial statements have been presented in Euro, the functional currency of the Fund. Where a Portfolio is denominated in a currency other than Euro, the average exchange rate has been used for the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. The exchange rate ruling as at the reporting date has been used for the Statement of Net Assets.

Investments

As per the Prospectus and for the purpose of determining the Net Asset Value used for subscriptions and redemptions, the quoted investments and those traded in other regulated markets are valued on the basis of the last available price at 31 March 2017.

Securities which are not quoted on, or dealt, in an official or another regulated market, or securities which are so quoted or dealt in but in which the last sale price is not available, and securities for which the last sale price is not representative of the fair market value, the value of such securities will be determined based on an agreed pricing basis and the reasonably foreseeable sales price determined prudently and in good faith, upon the advice of the Investment Manager, by the Directors. Purchases and sales of investments are recognised on the trade date. Gains or losses on sales of investments are computed on the average cost basis and include transaction costs.

Investment income

Dividends are recognised in income, net of irrecoverable withholding tax, on the date upon which the relevant securities are declared "ex-dividend". Interest income, net of irrecoverable withholding tax, is accrued on a daily basis and includes the amortisation of premiums and accretion of discounts.

Translation of foreign currencies

Assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the Portfolios' reporting currencies have been translated at the rates of exchange ruling at 31 March 2017. Cost of investments and income and expenditure which are denominated in currencies other than the Portfolios' reporting currency have been translated at the exchange rates ruling on the day of transaction. The exchange gain or loss arising from the translation of these items is taken into account in the determination of the results of operations. The average USD/EUR exchange rate during the period was 0.9334. The USD/EUR exchange rate as at 31 March 2017 was 0.9350.

Cross portfolio investments

At 31 March 2017, the total cross portfolio investment (held by BMO Global Total Return Bond and F&C Diversifed Growth) amounted to EUR 7,692,463. The total combined net assets of F&C Portfolios Fund at period-end, excluding the swing pricing adjustment and without cross portfolio investments amounts to EUR 2,417,312,059.

Futures contracts on securities and indices

Initial margin deposits are made upon entering into futures contracts and can be made either in cash or securities. During the year the futures contract is open, changes in the value of the contract are recognised as unrealised gains or losses by "marking-to-market" on a daily basis to reflect the market value of the contract at the end of each day's trading. Variation margin payments are made or received, depending upon whether unrealised losses or gains are incurred. When the contract is closed, the Fund records a realised gain or loss equal to the difference between the proceeds from (or cost of) the closing transaction and the Fund's basis in the contract.

Forward foreign exchange contracts

The unrealised gain or loss on open forward foreign exchange contracts is calculated as the difference between the contracted rate and the rate to close out the contract. Realised profit or loss includes net gains or losses on forward foreign exchange contracts which have been settled or offset by other contracts with the same counterparty.

Options Purchased and Options Written

The premium paid for options purchased is recorded as an investment and is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option. Premiums paid for the purchase of options which expire unexercised are treated as realised losses on the expiration date. If a purchased put option is exercised, the premium is subtracted from the proceeds of the sale of the underlying security, foreign currency or index, in determining whether the relevant Portfolio has realised a gain or a loss. If a purchased call option is exercised, the premium increases the cost basis of the security, foreign currency or index purchased by the Portfolio.

For a written option, an amount equal to the premium received by the relevant Portfolio is recorded as a liability and is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option written. Premiums received from written options which expire unexercised are treated by the relevant Portfolio as realised gains on the expiration date. If a written call option is exercised, the premium is added to the proceeds from the sale of the underlying security in determining whether the relevant Portfolio has realised a gain or a loss. If a written put option is exercised, the premium reduces the cost basis of the security purchased by the relevant Portfolio.

Total Return Swaps

The Fund may enter into swap contracts in which the Fund and the counterparty agree to exchange payments (periodically throughout the life of the contract) where one or both parties pay the returns generated by a security, index commodities, or instruments on an agreed upon notional amount. The relevant indices include, but are not limited to, currencies, interest rates, prices and total return on interest rates indices, fixed income indices and stock indices.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and other liquid assets are valued at their face value, including interest accrued, where applicable. Interest is also accrued on bank overdrafts. All cash at bank balances are held either directly with a sub-custodian or by State Street Bank Luxembourg S.C.A., on overnight deposit with a third party institution which has been approved by the Board.

Income from securities lending

The Fund may lend its portfolio securities to specialised banks and credit institutions and other financial institutions of high standing, and highly qualified registered brokers/dealers, or through recognised clearing institutions such as Clearstream or Euroclear, subject to complying with the provisions set forth in the ESMA guidelines (CSSF 14/592). The collateral received by the Fund in relation to these transactions would mainly consist of securities and other liquid assets authorised from time to time by the Luxembourg regulator. Any cash collateral is not reinvested. Each counterparty will possess an industry standard credit rating that is acceptable to the Investment Manager with reference to the market conditions prevailing at the relevant time.

3. EQUALISATION

The Fund follows the accounting practice known as "equalisation" by which a portion of the issue and redemption price representing, on a per share basis, accrued distributable investment income (excluding capital gains or losses), is credited or charged to distributable income. The amounts attributable to this income equalisation account are included in the proceeds from subscriptions to the Fund's shares or in the payment for the Fund's shares redeemed, and in the Net equalisation, items of the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

4. INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEES

The Fund entered into an agreement with FundRock Management Company S.A. and F&C Management Limited ("FCM") appointing FCM to act as investment manager to the Fund for a monthly fee calculated on the average of the net asset value of each Portfolio during the preceding month at the following rates:

8. FORMATION EXPENSES

Formation expenses of the Fund and each Portfolio have been amortised over a five year period.

9. TAXATION

The Fund is not subject to taxation in Luxembourg on its income, profits or gains.

The Fund is not subject to net wealth tax in Luxembourg.

No stamp duty, capital duty or other tax will be payable in Luxembourg on the issue of Shares in the Fund.

The Portfolios are, nevertheless, in principle, subject to a subscription tax (taxe d'abonnement) levied at the rate of 0.05 per cent per annum based on their net asset value at the end of the relevant quarter, calculated and paid quarterly.

A reduced subscription tax rate of 0.01 per cent per annum is however applicable to:

- any Portfolio whose exclusive object is the collective investment in money market instruments, the placing of deposits with credit institutions, or both;
- any Portfolio or Class of Shares provided that their shares are only held by one or more Institutional Investor(s).

A subscription tax exemption applies to:

- The portion of any Portfolio's assets (prorata) invested in a Luxembourg investment fund or any of its portfolio to the extent it is subject to the subscription tax;
- Any Portfolio (i) whose securities are only held by Institutional Investor(s), and (ii) whose sole object is the collective investment in money market instruments and the placing of deposits with credit institutions, and (iii) whose weighted residual portfolio maturity does not exceed 90 days, and (iv) that have obtained the highest possible rating from a recognised rating agency. If several Classes of Shares are in issue in the relevant Portfolio meeting (ii) to (iv) above, only those Classes of Shares meeting (i) above will benefit from this exemption;
- Any Portfolio, whose main objective is the investment in microfinance institutions; and
- Any Portfolio, (i) whose securities are listed or traded on a stock exchange and (ii) whose exclusive object is to replicate the performance of one or more indices. If several Classes of Shares are in issue in the relevant Portfolio meeting (ii) above, only those Classes of Shares meeting (i) above will benefit from this exemption.

To the extent that the Fund would only be held by pension funds and assimilated vehicles, the Fund as a whole would benefit from the subscription tax exemption.

Withholding tax

Interest and dividend income received by the Fund may be subject to non-recoverable withholding tax in the source countries. The Fund may further be subject to tax on the realised or unrealised capital appreciation of its assets in the countries of origin. The Fund may benefit from double tax treaties entered into by Luxembourg, which may provide for exemption from withholding tax or reduction of withholding tax rate.

Distributions made by the Fund as well as liquidation proceeds and capital gains derived therefrom are not subject to withholding tax in Luxembourg.

Dividend and interest income are recognised in the Combined Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets on a net basis.

As from 1 April 2007, investment vehicles listed in article 44, 1, d) of the Luxembourg VAT law (SICAVs, SICAFs and management companies of FCPs) should be registered as taxable persons for VAT purposes. #### 15. DIVIDENDS DISTRIBUTION

For all distributing classes of shares which have registered for United Kingdom Reporting Fund Status it is intended to distribute 100 per cent of reportable income (computed in accordance with the definition of reportable income under the United Kingdom Offshore Funds (Tax) Regulations 2009 (as amended)) which accrues to the Portfolio or distributing class, however it should be noted that this cannot be guaranteed. It may be that the Directors consider in certain cases that the amounts available for distribution are so minimal that a distribution is not commercially viable. Where share classes have not been registered for UK Reporting Fund Status, the directors will determine an alternative basis for determining the level of any dividend.

The Board may decide to make dividend payments to Shareholders once a year or more frequently provided that no payment will be made as a result of which the total net assets of the Fund would become less than the minimum required by Luxembourg law.

16. SWING PRICING

Under certain circumstances (for example, large volumes of deals), investment and/or disinvestment costs may have an adverse effect on the shareholders' interests in a Portfolio. In order to prevent this effect, called "dilution", the Board may determine that a "swing pricing" methodology applies so as to allow for the net asset value per share to be adjusted upwards or downwards by dealing and other costs and fiscal charges which would be payable on the effective acquisition or disposal of assets in the relevant Portfolio if the net capital activity exceeds, as a consequence of the aggregate transactions in that Portfolio on a given Valuation Date (as defined in the Prospectus), a threshold set by the Board from time to time.

Description of the swing pricing methodology:

If the net capital activity on a given Valuation Date leads to a net inflow/outflow of assets in excess of the Threshold in the relevant Portfolio, the net asset value used to process all subscriptions, redemptions or conversions in that Portfolio is adjusted upwards/downwards by the swing factors set by the Board from time to time.

In any case, the swing factors shall not exceed 2% of the net asset value per share of the relevant Portfolio. Further, for the purpose of calculating the expenses of a Portfolio which are based on the net asset value of the relevant Portfolio (including any applicable performance fee), the Administrative Agent will continue to use the un-swung net asset value.

The following Portfolio has adjusted the net asset value per share at period end:

- F&C Diversified Growth

The net assets as at 31 March 2017, as disclosed in the statement of net assets, exclude the swing price adjustment. The net asset value per share as at 31 March 2017, as disclosed in the Comparative Table, include the swing price adjustment.

understanding of the financial statements.

18. SOCIALLY RESPONSIBLE INVESTMENT

F&C Management Limited is convinced that investors increasingly care about environmental, social and corporate governance ("ESG") issues and that these may have a material impact on the companies in which we invest. Therefore the Fund has appointed F&C's specialist Governance & Sustainable Investment team to engage with companies held by the Portfolios in order to improve the ESG performance and safeguard investor value. The Responsible Engagement Overlay service, known as reo®, aims to encourage companies to enhance their business performance by adopting better corporate governance, social and environmental practices. reo® does not directly prevent the Fund from investing in specific companies, but over the long term is expected to lead to more sustainable companies and investment returns. reo® is about using the Investment Manager's ability, as manager of the Fund's equity and corporate bond portfolios, to encourage investee companies, through a constructive dialogue, to manage effectively their ESG risks and opportunities. In the Investment Manager's view, reo® may contribute towards business success and therefore increase the value of the investee companies and consequently the value of the Fund's investments. More information on specific companies engaged via the reo® service within each Portfolio is available in the semi-annual engagement activity report on the BMO Global Asset Management website at:

http://www.bmogam.com/documents/reo-report-fandc-portfolios-fund/

19. NOTICE TO INVESTORS OF F&C DIVERSIFIED GROWTH

The target return of the sub-fund F&C Portfolios Fund – F&C Diversified Growth has been changed. Rather than intending to get a target return of Euribor +4% within a 5 year period, the sub-fund is now targeting a return of 1mth Euribor (or the equivalent local currency 1mth libor rate per hedged share class) +4% over a rolling 3 year period. This change does not entail a change of the way the sub-fund is managed, the composition of its portfolio, its risk profile nor of its Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator (SRRI). The prospectus has been updated to reflect this point.

20. NOTICE TO INVESTORS OF BMO GLOBAL EQUITY MARKET NEUTRAL (SICAV)

At the last update of the prospectus, the description of the investment objective and policy BMO Global Equity Market Neutral (SICAV) has been completed so as to clarify (i) that the Portfolio will only invest in investment grade debt securities, such as bonds or certificates of indebtedness (i.e. BBB by Standard & Poor's or Baa by Moody's, or higher, or unrated but considered by the Investment Manager to be comparable in quality) and (ii) that the Portfolio will not invest in asset backed securities or credit linked notes. This addition does not constitute a change to the investment objective and policy of the Portfolio but only a clarification for transparency purposes.

21. APPROVAL OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Board approved the financial statements on 29 May 2017.

The above maturity tenor analysis has been based on the contractual maturity date of the securities lent, and of the relevant TRS transaction.

All securities lending transactions entered into by the Portfolios are subject to a written legal agreement between the Portfolios and the Lending Agent, and separately between the Lending Agent and the approved borrowing counterparty. Collateral received in exchange for securities lent is transferred under a title transfer arrangement. Collateral received is delivered to and held in an account in the name of the Depositary on behalf of the Portfolios. Collateral received is segregated from the assets belonging to the Fund's Depositary or the Lending Agent.

All OTC derivative transactions are entered into by the Portfolios under an International Swaps and Derivatives Associations, Inc. Master Agreement ("ISDA Master Agreement") or similar agreement. An ISDA Master Agreement is a bilateral agreement between the Portfolios and a counterparty that governs OTC derivative transactions (including TRS) entered into by the parties. The parties exposures under the ISDA Master agreement are netted and collateralised together, therefore any collateral disclosures provided in the report are in respect of all OTC derivative transactions entered into by the Portfolios under the ISDA Master agreement, not just TRS.

All collateral received/posted by the Portfolios under the ISDA Master Agreement is transferred bilaterally under a title transfer arrangement. Collateral received by the Portfolios is held in an account in the name of the Depositary on behalf of the Portfolios. Collateral received is segregated from the assets belonging to the Fund's Depositary.

Data on return and cost

For the securities lending transactions the breakdown of return and cost by portfolio is disclosed in the Notes. Please refer to the note Securities lending.

All returns from OTC derivative transactions (including TRS) will accrue to the portfolio and are not subject to any returns sharing agreement with the portfolio's manager or any other third parties.

For TRS transactions costs are not separately identifiable. For these investments, transaction costs are included in the purchase and sales price and are part of the gross investment performance of each portfolio. Returns are identified as the realised gains and change in unrealised appreciations on swaps contract during the reporting period.
