F&C Portfolios Fund Chairman's Statement

Dear Shareholders

This report summarises the results of the portfolios of F&C Portfolios Fund (each a "Portfolio" and together the "Portfolios") for the financial year to 30 September 2017. Details of the Portfolios together with the Investment Managers' comments can be found later in the report.

During the year the size of the Fund increased by EUR 576 million to EUR 2,499,195,936 (EUR 1,923,242,099 as at 30th September 2016). This was primarily due to the increase in the net assets of BMO Global Absolute Return Bond, with net subscriptions of approximately EUR 381 million. BMO Responsible Global Emerging Markets Equity and F&C Responsible Global Equity also increased in size with net subscriptions of some USD 76 million and EUR 57 million respectively. Conversely the net assets of F&C European SmallCap decreased following net redemptions of some EUR 139 million.

During the year, F&C European High Yield Bond was also put into liquidation with effect from 22 September 2017.

Renewed optimism on the outlook for global growth drove increased risk appetite in what was an eventful year. Underpinned by generally supportive economic data, global equities shrugged off interest rate rises in the US, as well as elections in the US, Germany, France and the UK, to finish higher in the twelve month period under review.

The election of Donald Trump, as President of the Unites States, was a surprise but one that boosted equity markets which expected his proposed policies of increased spending and tax cuts to spur growth. These policies proved more difficult to enact than many envisaged but the US economy accelerated anyway, prompting the Federal Reserve to raise interest rates three times.

In Europe, politics was in the spotlight with important elections in France, Germany and the UK, where despite worries about the rise of popular nationalism, centralist politicians remained in charge albeit in some cases with reduced majorities. In Germany, Angela Merkel's CDU party was returned to power but short of an absolute majority. Likewise in the UK, Theresa May remained at the helm but only with the support of a Northern Irish party. This loss of majority left May's government in a weaker position from which to negotiate on Brexit. In France, political newcomer Emmanuel Macron swept to victory as President and his party, along with their allies, went on to secure a comfortable majority in the National Assembly. Economic growth in Europe picked-up, and while interest rate rises were not yet on the agenda, the withdrawal of financial stimulus moved closer.

In the bond markets, as US interest rates were increased, from 0.5% to 1.25%, Treasury yields rose. In Europe, where the European Central Bank extended its quantitative easing programme to the end of 2017 but reduced monthly asset purchases, from €80 billion to €60 billion, German bund yields moved out of negative territory. In the UK, with inflation rising above the Bank of England's target in the second half of the period and an interest rate rise moving a step closer, gilt yields were also higher.

Looking ahead, overall, we remain cautious about the prospects for government bonds as a co-ordinated cycle of monetary policy tightening has commenced across global markets. However, the possibility of spikes in risk aversion most likely fuelled by domestic political or geopolitical tensions, particularly with regard to North Korea, have the capacity to send bond markets higher from time to time.

With regard to the stock markets, we believe European equities remain attractively valued compared to the relatively expensive US stock market and that Japanese equities offer good prospects for the remainder of the year. We are also optimistic about emerging markets equities, which have benefited from positive earnings growth.

Audit report

To the Shareholders of F&C Portfolios Fund

Our opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of F&C Portfolios Fund and of each of its sub-funds (the "Fund") as at 30 September 2017, and of the results of their operations and changes in their net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

What we have audited

The Fund's financial statements comprise:

- the Combined Statement of Net Assets as at 30 September 2017;
- the Schedule of Investments as at 30 September 2017;
- the Combined Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 on the audit profession (Law of 23 July 2016) and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" (CSSF). Our responsibilities under those Law and standards are further described in the "Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our audit report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Fund and those charged with governance for the financial statements

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Fund's financial reporting process.

Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an audit report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit.

We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control;
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund;
- conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our audit report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

F&C Portfolios Fund BMO Global Absolute Return Bond

Performance

Over the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the Class F Acc Shares - GBP Hedged returned +0.2%. Over the same period, the Libor GBP 1-month return was +0.3%. Performance is total return, net of fees and in sterling terms.

In the first part of the reporting period, we actively reduced the exposure to rising interest rates, most notably through US government bond markets. The Portfolio also benefited from the yield of the corporate bond holdings, although this was tempered by the decision to dampen overall risk.

During the 12 months as a whole, we actively managed both the interest rate risk and credit risk exposure of the portfolio. This helped the Portfolio to achieve a return profile characterised by a relatively low level of volatility versus a "traditional" bond allocation. We actively added to the core portfolio, maintaining a bias to lower-rated bonds in order to enhance the yield. Sectorwise, we held a tilt towards financials whilst also looking to harness new issue premia.

Market Review

November 2016 proved to be a pivotal period for global bond markets. The unexpected victory of Donald Trump in the US presidential elections led to a reassessment of US Treasury valuations by the market, as his fiscal programme of tax cuts and infrastructure spending pointed to rising inflationary pressures. This led to an upward surge in US Treasury yields, which was replicated across global bond markets. Economic data confirmed US growth was indeed gaining traction, spurring the Federal Reserve to embark on a series of interest rate rises throughout the period under review. In Europe, while rate hikes were not yet on the agenda they moved a step closer as the European Central Bank President Mario Draghi referenced a broadening recovery. This was supported by strong and improving eurozone data, eliminating the need to reduce interest rates any further. In the UK, the Bank of England ("BoE") highlighted concerns about the pace at which UK inflation was accelerating after it reached 2.9% in May 2017. In the final month of the review period, rhetoric from the BoE suggested a rate rise could come much sooner that markets had been anticipating.

Portfolio positioning and outlook

The majority of the Portfolio is invested in global corporate bonds with relatively short terms to maturity. This helps to limit the volatility of the Portfolio whilst providing an income that is expected to be higher than that of cash. These holdings are supplemented by smaller investments in markets that we expect to add value, including government bonds, currency positions and other corporate bonds.

The Federal Reserve (Fed) has already started to tighten monetary policy. The conundrum they face is that inflation is not coming through as expected and hence they do not want to tighten too quickly for fear of stalling the recovery. However, if left too late, inflation could rise too quickly. If this were to happen, then an aggressive policy response could be required. The Fed is also looking to unwind their massive balance sheet; the timing and mechanics of how they will achieve this has been clearly communicated to the market. Therefore we do not expect any market shock when it actually starts. The European Central Bank is also considering tapering, and although they are clearly well behind the US, it is another potential tightening of monetary conditions. Looking at a third key central bank, the Bank of Japan, there is further potential for disruption. If the snap election, called in September 2017 by Prime Minister Abe, goes the same way as the UK general election, Abenomics could be under threat. Even with our constructive base case, for a manager looking to limit drawdowns we believe we should always be prudent and keep on challenging our current views.

Performance

Over the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the Class I Acc Shares - USD returned +7.3%, compared to a return of 1.1% for 3-month USD Libor. Performance is total return, net of fees and in US dollar terms.

The Portfolio provides investors with exposure to five equity factors or "styles": Value, Size, Momentum, Low Volatility and Growth At a Reasonable Price ("GARP"). The twelve month period saw quite diverse performance from the five factors, reinforcing the argument for incorporating a number of factors into a Portfolio. The Low Volatility factor struggled in the "reflationary" environment that followed Trump's election win, as did Momentum, although both subsequently staged recoveries towards the start of the latter half of the twelve month period. The size allocation, which was only implemented in December 2016 and January 2017, had a minimal impact upon the aggregate portfolio performance. The fundamental factors, Value and Growth at a Reasonable Price (GARP), enjoyed a good first part of the period, but struggled somewhat in the latter half.

Market Review

Global equities rose strongly over the review period. Risk appetite was generally boosted by Donald Trump's surprise win in November's presidential election as markets priced in faster US economic growth, underpinned by hopes of tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending. Against the backdrop of robust economic data, the Federal Reserve (Fed) raised interest rates in December and again in March and June. Later, the Trump administration's failure to get healthcare reform through Congress raised questions about its ability to deliver on other plans. Fed Chair Janet Yellen also adopted a less hawkish tone than previously. In the eurozone, the economy moved into recovery mode and economic data strengthened as the period progressed. The Japanese economy saw slow but steady improvement, bolstering the confidence of Prime Minister Shinzo Abe who called for an early general election, in October. The oil price briefly rose to above $50 per barrel, as the dynamics of supply and demand swung in oil's favour, and on the political front, tensions were heightened by nuclear missile tests by North Korea.

Outlook

The Portfolio pursues a systematic strategy which, using the MSCI World as its universe and employing a long/short market neutral approach, targets five recognised equity styles: Value, Size, Momentum, Low Volatility and Growth At a Reasonable Price ("GARP"). The Portfolio is expected to perform regardless of the prevailing macroeconomic and financial market conditions.

Performance

Over the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the Class I Acc Shares - EUR returned +0.7%, compared to the Barclays Global Aggregate (EUR Hedged) Index, which returned -2.1%. Performance is total return, net of fees and in euro terms.

In the first part of the reporting period, we actively reduced the exposure to rising interest rates, most notably through US government bond markets. The Portfolio also benefited from the yield of the corporate bond holdings, although this was tempered by the decision to dampen overall risk.

During the 12 months as a whole, we actively managed both the interest rate risk and credit risk exposure of the portfolio. This helped the Portfolio to achieve a return profile characterised by a relatively low level of volatility versus a "traditional" bond allocation. We actively added to the core portfolio, maintaining a bias to lower-rated bonds in order to enhance the yield. Sector-wise, we held a tilt towards financials whilst also looking to harness new issue premia.

Market Review

November 2016 proved to be a pivotal period for global bond markets. The unexpected victory of Donald Trump in the US presidential elections led to a reassessment of US Treasury valuations by the market, as his fiscal programme of tax cuts and infrastructure spending pointed to rising inflationary pressures. This led to an upward surge in US Treasury yields, which was replicated across global bond markets. Economic data confirmed US growth was indeed gaining traction, spurring the Federal Reserve ("Fed") to embark on a series of interest rate rises throughout the period under review. In Europe, while rate hikes were not yet on the agenda they moved a step closer as the European Central Bank President Mario Draghi referenced a broadening recovery. This was supported by strong and improving eurozone data, eliminating the need to reduce interest rates any further. In the UK, the Bank of England ("BoE") highlighted concerns about the pace at which UK inflation was accelerating after it reached 2.9% in May. In the final month of the review period, rhetoric from the BoE suggested a rate rise could come much sooner that markets had been anticipating.

Portfolio positioning and outlook

The majority of the Portfolio is invested in global corporate bonds with relatively short terms to maturity. This helps to limit the volatility of the Portfolio whilst providing an income that is expected to be higher than that of cash. These holdings are supplemented by smaller investments in markets that we expect to add value, including government bonds, currency positions and other corporate bonds.

The Fed has already started to tighten monetary policy. The conundrum they face is that inflation is not coming through as expected and hence they do not want to tighten too quickly for fear of stalling the recovery. However, if left too late, inflation could rise too quickly. If this were to happen, then an aggressive policy response could be required. The Fed is also looking to unwind their massive balance sheet; the timing and mechanics of how they will achieve this has been clearly communicated to the market. Therefore we do not expect any market shock when it actually starts. The European Central Bank is also considering tapering, and although they are clearly well behind the US, it is another potential tightening of monetary conditions. Looking at a third key central bank, the Bank of Japan, there is further potential for disruption. If the snap election, called in September by Prime Minister Abe, goes the same way as the UK general election, Abenomics could be under threat. Even with our constructive base case, for a manager looking to limit drawdowns we believe we should always be prudent and keep on challenging our current views.

BMO Responsible Global Emerging Markets Equity

Performance

Over the 12 months to 30 September 2017, the Class A Shares - USD returned +20.6%. By comparison, the MSCI Emerging Markets NR Index returned +22.5%. Performance is net of fees and in US dollar terms.

The Portfolio delivered a solid absolute return over the 12-month period in review but was a small way behind its benchmark on a net basis after fees. The actions we took in late 2016, following the election of Donald Trump as US President and demonetisation in India, began to reap rewards in the second half of the reporting period. In the aftermath of the US election and expectations of major stimulus to the US economy, we added to our high conviction positions in Mexico. These went on to materially benefit the Portfolio from around March onwards. In India, it was more a case of retaining our nerve and holding our positons amid a major sell-off after Prime Minister Modi's government withdrew high denomination notes from circulation, in a move to flush out "black money". By the second quarter of 2017, when the markets had normalised, our security selection in India delivered strong performance. In the latter months of the review period, while the Portfolio's absolute gains remained positive we conceded some relative performance as increased inflows into the asset class, by international investors tracking short-term trends, bid up the price of large blue chip stocks. Company engagement forms an integral part of our investment approach, and we maintained our engagement activities throughout the review period. An illustration of this is our holding in AIA Group, a pan-Asian life insurance company. Whilst we were satisfied with its overall commitment, we identified some areas for potential improvement including on governance and responsible marketing. We focused on the steps it is taking to ensure its agents are incentivised to sell appropriate products, in order to avoid the risks around misselling that have affected many other companies in the financial sector. Having reviewed their progress, we were particularly pleased with the significant progress in corporate governance. All members of the audit committee are now well-qualified independent nonexecutives, and there are no longer any executives serving on the remuneration committee. These measures, which we asked for during our engagement with the company, are important to enhance the effectiveness and credibility of the committees and their role as safeguards for shareholders.

Market Review

Emerging market ("EM") equities generated a strong positive return over the 12-month period. The markets were not without volatility as events including the surprise election of Donald Trump as US president, prompted several about-turns on expectations for US policy. US interest rate hikes also influenced sentiment around EM markets. The fundamental environment remained supportive, however, with a better global growth outlook backed by generally robust macroeconomic data from the US, China and the eurozone. Poland was the top-performing market in the first half of the period. In South America, Chile found support in higher copper prices while Mexico was lifted by the more optimistic US growth outlook. Brazil performed well initially, on hopes that new political leadership could help the economy emerge from its severe recession, before sentiment turned with the emergence of corruption allegations against President Temer. Russia found support from an improvement in sentiment for its domestic economy and for a period of time, firmer oil prices. After a short hiccup, following the demonetisation program, Indian equities resumed their strong, steady, climb.

Outlook

The long-term structural investment case for less developed markets remains firmly in place. Their secular growth story is underwritten by some very powerful and predictable trends such as urbanisation, increasing incomes and improving education levels; factors that combine to create wealthier populations. We continue to believe that our approach of investing in high-quality companies is the right strategy for a long-term investor in the asset class. We invest in companies with strong business models, robust balance sheets, proven management teams, and a fair alignment between majority and minority shareholders, across a number of markets. In addition, these companies must contribute to or benefit from the sustainable economic development of those countries, based on our six investment themes (Infrastructure for Development, Financing the Future, Rise of the Low Income Consumer, Human Capital, Access to New Technologies and Energy for Growth).

Performance

Over the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the Class X Shares - EUR returned +4.3%. The Class A Shares - EUR returned +2.7%. By comparison, 1 month Euribor +400 basis points, rose by 3.6% over the same period. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

Over the twelve months, the alternatives allocation produced positive performance, as did the allocation to developed market equities. Going into the end of the period, our tactical tilts in favour of emerging markets, Europe and Japan added value, as did thematic trades, in particular "aero and defence".

In terms of activity, the increased risk stance that had been held after Trump's election success into 2017 proved to be correct and we were happy to hold this position until March. At this point, a slightly more cautious viewpoint was taken. Exposure to equities was reduced slightly and high quality fixed income was increased to provide protection in case of a market correction. During the latter half of the reporting period, there were some significant changes made within the fixed income exposures. Inflation linked securities exposure was cut in half as the market priced in reduced inflation expectations, thus tempering potential gains from this asset class. As credit spreads continued to tighten, investment grade bonds and emerging market debt were reduced on the back of skewed risk-reward payoff potential. Government bond allocation was increased, partially offsetting the change in duration (the sensitivity to movements in interest rates) from the reduced inflation linked security exposure.

Market Review

Global equity markets made gains over the twelve months to the end of September 2017. Donald Trump's surprise victory in the US presidential election drove markets higher amid hopes that the administration would deliver on pledges to cut taxes and regulation while raising spending on infrastructure. A more optimistic outlook for global economic growth drove increased risk appetite, while improving economic data and diminishing political risk helped European markets perform strongly. Austria and Italy were the top-performing global equity markets over the period. Certain emerging European markets − Poland, Hungary and Greece − were also top performers. Greece was boosted by the International Monetary Fund and European Union approval of another €8.5 billion tranche of bailout funds. Over the 12-month period, Brent oil futures rose from around $49 to $57 per barrel. As the period progressed, there was improvement for oil on both the supply and demand side; Chinese crude imports picked up, while OPEC and Russia claimed to be making good progress on cutting production. An improving global growth outlook helped industrial metals such as copper to rally.

Outlook

After the slight flicker of concern shown across global capital markets in August due to geopolitical risks, normal service quickly resumed, with fundamental factors pointing to an improving global economy, equity markets posting all-time highs and credit spreads continuing to tighten. In the US, ten-year Treasury yields returned to roughly their starting point of 2017, around 2.35%, after briefly threatening to drop below 2% in August. Our economic base case remains constructive, even though valuation levels appear high relative to history. Given our focus on downside protection, we are asking ourselves what could destabilise the pervading confidence that keeps pushing equity markets ever higher. Actions by central banks is one example of potential concern. The Federal Reserve ("Fed") has already started to tighten monetary policy. The conundrum they currently face is that inflation is not coming through as expected and hence they do not want to tighten too quickly for fear of stalling the recovery. The flip side is that if left too late, inflation could rise too quickly. If this were to happen, then an aggressive policy response could be required. The Fed is also looking to unwind their massive balance sheet; the timing and mechanics of how they will achieve this has been clearly communicated to the market. Therefore we do not expect any market shock when it actually starts. However, it is a further tightening of monetary policy and needs to be considered in the context of an interconnected global market. Furthermore, the European Central Bank is also considering tapering, and although they are clearly well behind the US and do not appear to be close to their first rate rise, it is another potential tightening of monetary conditions. Looking at a third key central bank, the Bank of Japan, there is further potential for disruption. If the snap election, called in September by Prime Minister Abe, goes the same way as the UK general election, Abenomics could be under threat. Even with our constructive base case, for a manager looking to limit drawdowns we believe we should always be prudent and keep on challenging our current views.

Performance

In the 12 months to 30 September 2017 the Class A Shares - USD returned 4.1%. By comparison, the EMBI Global Diversified Index returned 4.6%. Performance is net of fees and in US dollar terms.

Our positioning in Argentina and Brazil contributed particularly strongly to performance. Our exposure to the former was notably positive in the third quarter of 2017. Argentines went to the ballot box in August to elect party candidates for the October mid-term elections, and the results were interpreted positively by markets as it was confirmed that President Macri's Cambienos coalition continues to consolidate its position as the main political force in the country, with robust support even in provinces traditionally hostile to non-Peronist candidates. Long-dated Argentine sovereign bonds performed particularly well. With regards to Brazil, security selection added to performance in the middle part of the reporting period. The performance of Petrobras quasi-sovereign bonds and longer-dated sovereign bonds was particularly strong at the start of 2017. At the beginning of the reporting period, the outlook for Brazil was positive because President Temer's centrist government was pressing ahead with an ambitious economic reform programme and a landmark law limiting future increases in budget spending to the rate of inflation was passed. Now, however, it remains unclear whether the government will galvanize the necessary support in Congress to approve a deeply unpopular pension reform which is necessary to stabilize Brazil's fiscal position over the medium-term. Elsewhere, it was the correct decision to be underweight the Philippines. Generally speaking, the performance of investment grade countries has been comparatively weak, and the spreads of Philippine government bonds have lagged the general spread tightening since the beginning of the year. Being underweight oil-exporting Ecuador detracted from performance in periods when the oil price rallied. In addition, being underweight Ghana had a negative impact on performance. The country has benefited from stronger commodity exports as well as positive election results, which delivered a market-friendly government.

Market review

Emerging market debt ("EMD") yields initially rose against the backdrop of Federal Reserve tightening and Donald Trump's surprise win in the US presidential election, which led to higher US bond yields and fears of a more protectionist agenda. In early 2017, yields fell back, however, and the US dollar weakened as President Trump faced a number of policy setbacks, from which investors extrapolated that many of his proposed tax reforms and protectionist measures could be delayed and watered-down. Furthermore, even though the Federal Reserve delivered a second interest rate hike in March (the first was in December), it adopted a less hawkish tone than many investors anticipated. The market turned positive again later in the period, as investment inflows increased and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) gave further support to a number of emerging market countries. A steady improvement in the outlook for global growth was also helpful, and commodity prices climbed.

Market Outlook

Emerging market ("EM") fundamentals should continue to benefit from steady growth in the world economy. In particular, demand from the rebounding eurozone should support exports, while inflation in most EM countries should stay relatively low. We expect growth in Central Europe and South East Asia to remain resilient, while commodity-dependent countries such as Russia, Nigeria and Brazil are gradually recovering from recession. Commodity prices are rebounding from last year's low, but crude oil prices are capped by technological change, and uncertainty about the continuation of the OPEC deal to reduce global production. In China, where massive financial stimulus has driven the economy, less credit intensive growth is likely to be prioritised over the coming few years. We expect momentum in structural reforms will be maintained in India, while IMF programmes provide policy anchors in a plethora of smaller EM countries including Iraq, Ukraine, Egypt, Honduras, Mongolia, and Sri Lanka. Sovereign spreads in most cases are cushioned by strong sovereign external balance sheets and limited near-term financing needs. The main short-term risk is that unexpected progress on US tax reform or strong inflation data could lead to a US dollar rebound and more Federal Reserve rate hikes than the market is currently pricing in.

Performance

In the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the Class A Shares - EUR returned +16.7%. This compared to a return of +16.2% for the FTSE All-World Developed Europe NR Index. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

Italian banking group Intesa Sanpaolo was the strongest contributor to performance, its share price lifted by the acquisition of performing assets from Veneto Banca and Banca Popolare di Vicenza. Financial services group Intermediate Capital Group, also added to gains. Its shares rallied on confidence in the company's asset base, revenue and profits outlook. Among the stocks that detracted over the period was textile maintenance services provider Berendsen, as UK operational challenges hurt sentiment, and DIY group Kingfisher, which saw challenges in some of its regional businesses, despite reporting financial results that met expectations.

Market Review

The European Central Bank ("ECB")'s decision to extend quantitative easing (QE) for an additional nine months, albeit with monthly asset purchases reduced from €80 billion to €60 billion, boosted investor sentiment. At the same time, eurozone economic data was generally robust, growth accelerated to 0.6% in the second quarter, inflation ticked up and unemployment fell to its lowest level since February 2009. While the ECB maintained its loose monetary policy, it began to strike a more hawkish tone as the period went on and speculation about how it would taper its asset purchase programme, from the beginning of 2018, increased. On the political front, risk abated considerably until right at the end of the period in review; the far-right were defeated in the Dutch general election, centrist Emmanuel Macron was victorious in the French presidential election and Angela Merkel's Christian Democrats emerged as the largest party in Germany's federal elections. However, at period-end, tensions in Spain escalated with the Catalan secessionist movement calling for a referendum on independence in contravention to requests for unity from the Spanish government.

Outlook

A generally more stable political environment, sustainable economic conditions and accommodative central bank monetary policy underpin a positive outlook for European equity markets. Whilst overall European valuations have increased over the past year, they remain attractively priced compared to US equities. Further gains should continue to be driven by earnings growth. Markets have little to fear from the initial stage of central bank policy normalisation as any such steps are likely to be gradual and tentative until inflation becomes a more pressing issue, which seems unlikely over the next few quarters. We believe that political developments on the horizon are unlikely to produce shocks.

Performance

Italian banking group Intesa Sanpaolo was the strongest contributor to performance with its share price lifted by the acquisition of performing assets from Veneto Banca and Banca Popolare di Vicenza. Norwegian financial services group DNB Asa rallied on news of a share buy-back programme while UK-based financial services provider Intermediate Capital Group climbed on the back of growing confidence in the company's asset base, revenue and profits outlook. Among the stocks that detracted over the period was DIY group Kingfisher, which saw challenges in some of its regional businesses despite reporting financial results that met expectations, global pharmaceutical giant GlaxoSmithkline, which fell on concerns about the unknown strategic plans of its new CEO, and textile maintenance services provider Berendsen, which saw sentiment dented by UK operational challenges.

Performance

Over the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the Class A Shares Euro returned +13.9%. By comparison, the Euromoney Smaller European Companies Index (NR), returned +20.3%. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

Gerresheimer, the German manufacturer of speciality glass and plastic products for medical use, was the biggest detractor from performance. Uncertainty surrounding the healthcare industry in the US resulted in some caution from customers, which, alongside some timing issues, resulted in weaker growth. Sporting goods company Amer Sports also hindered, following disappointing financial results and late in the period in the review, Irish convenience foods producer Greencore saw its shares marked down following a listeria scare at one of its US facilities. On a positive note, SpareBank, a Norwegian regional bank, and Storebrand, a Norwegian life insurance company, both added to relative performance as Norway experienced rising inflation expectations and bond yields as the oil price saw some recovery.

Market Review

The European Central Bank ("ECB")'s decision to extend quantitative easing (QE) for an additional nine months, albeit with monthly asset purchases reduced from €80 billion to €60 billion, boosted investor sentiment. At the same time, eurozone economic data was generally robust, growth accelerated to 0.6% in the second quarter, inflation ticked up and unemployment fell to its lowest level since February 2009. While the ECB maintained its loose monetary policy, it began to strike a more hawkish tone as the period went on and speculation about how it would taper its asset purchase programme, from the beginning of 2018, increased. On the political front, risk abated considerably until right at the end of the period in review; the far-right were defeated in the Dutch general election, centrist Emmanuel Macron was victorious in the French presidential election and Angela Merkel's Christian Democrats emerged as the largest party in Germany's federal elections. However, at period-end, tensions in Spain escalated with the Catalan secessionist movement calling for a referendum on independence in contravention to requests for unity from the Spanish government. Smaller European companies outperformed their larger cap counterparts over the 12 months.

Outlook

The backdrop for European smaller companies is encouraging. Economic growth appears embedded and this growth is now filtering through to company profits. That is not to say, however, that there are not challenges for investors in Europe. Valuations, particularly for quality companies, do not look obviously attractive to us. For a number of reasons, quality businesses have led the market since the global financial crisis. Consequently it is becoming increasingly challenging for stock pickers to justify new investments in this area unless you believe valuations do not matter, which we of course do not. This is why we believe that a portfolio that balances quality and valuation makes sense, particularly as market leadership can transition to areas of the market that have not participated as strongly in the market recovery, namely attractively valued domestically orientated businesses.

This transition can be accelerated by a change in attitude from central bankers. We do not predict the ECB's actions, but such levels of economic growth mean they are unlikely to resist the pressure for "tapering" much longer, particularly as the current interest rates are becoming increasingly inappropriate for Germany. The markets could look very different under this scenario. We do, however, try not to get too distracted by this. We focus on finding businesses we think can deliver good levels of return on capital, which are run by managers we trust, and that are trading at attractive valuations. Investing with this philosophy should give us the best chance to deliver attractive long-term returns for our shareholders.

Performance

In the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the return on the Class A Shares EUR was +1.1% compared to a return of +2.1% for the Thomson Reuters Global Focus Combined Index. The Class A shares EUR Hedged share class returned +4.2% and the Class I shares EUR Hedged share class returned +4.6% over the same period. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

The portfolio underperformed early in the period due to being underweight in some low credit quality convertibles which enjoyed strong returns. These positions included having no exposure to Advanced Micro Devices (CCC-rated) in the electronics sector, Chesapeake Energy (CCC-rated) and Weatherford International (B-rated) in the oil & gas sector, all due to credit quality concerns. The portfolio made back much of the earlier relative losses, notably within the oil & gas sector, with a strong final three months. For the full year, being underweight in lower credit quality convertibles Advanced Micro Devices (CCC-rated), Tesla (B-rated), Sirius Minerals and Air France-KLM had a notable negative impact on relative returns. Also not owning strong performing Airbus and Safran, which are restricted for investment due to their defence businesses, was negative for relative returns. For the unhedged currency share classes, the overweight positioning in US dollar denominated convertibles depressed returns on the back of the dollar depreciation versus the euro.

On a positive note, strong performance in some off-benchmark positions in services, steels/metals, property, and insurance contributed an outperformance. Being underweight some weaker performing convertibles in retail/wholesale and oil & gas was also helpful. Within services, Deutsche Post contributed strongly to relative returns, benefiting from secular growth trends in parcel delivery and meetings its long-term growth plans. In property, Aroundtown Property produced a strong return. The German real estate investment trust ("REIT"), which focuses on turnaround opportunities, delivered on rental growth expectations, driven by higher rents and increased occupancy. In the US, single-family REIT Starwood Waypoint Homes announced its intentions to merge with Invitation Homes. The anticipated scale and synergy potential was well received by investors. Within steels/metals, Allegheny traded up strongly as investors appreciated the long-term revenue growth and margin potential of its jet engine business, whilst stainless steel producers Aperam and Outokumpu benefited from improving end markets. In media, owning convertibles into TimeWarner, which was subject to a take-over bid by AT&T was positive, whilst in retail/wholesale, overweight positioning in online travel agent Priceline was notably positive and the underweight in troubled home products distributor Steinhoff added to relative returns. Finally, positioning in oil & gas stood out due to strong performing Royal Dutch and Cheniere, whilst being underweight in US drillers Ensco and Nabors.

Market Review

Convertibles benefited from rising share prices over the 12-month period in review. The rally gained momentum in the aftermath of Trump's win in the US presidential election, as markets priced in stronger US economic growth, underpinned by tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending. Later, this optimism waned as implementing the policies proved rather more difficult than either the Trump administration or investors had expected. In Europe, political risk increased and subsided as elections took place in a number of countries and investors had concerns about the rise of populism. In the UK, the Conservative Party gave away its majority in a snap general election, complicating the negotiations for Brexit. On the world stage, towards the end of the period, geopolitical tensions with North Korea intensified following its staging of nuclear missile tests. Economic data generally remained positive, with steady growth and low inflation in most regions. The oil price remained under pressure, on continuing fears of a supply glut despite a deepening of production cuts by OPEC and Russia. Company revenues and earnings were solid.

New issuance was relatively strong over the period, amounting to around US$75 billion, with major deals from the likes of BASF, Vinci, LVMH, Kering, Carrefour, diagnostic equipment maker Qiagen, and a number of German REITs revisited the market for financing. In the US, internet-based companies ServiceNow, Workday, Wayfair and IAC/Interactive issued convertible bonds. Semiconductor companies such as Microchip and On Semiconductor revisited the market, as did Tesla and Dish Network. In Japan, airline ANA, Mitsubishi Chemical and utility Kyushu Electric Power provided worthwhile additions to the convertible universe. Asia also featured, with names such as Chinese biotech 3Sbio and Zhejiang Expressway.

Outlook

Global economic data has generally remained supportive, with improving growth, low inflation and better corporate earnings all positive drivers for financial markets. We anticipate reasonable economic growth across major global equity markets, although there are risks which could shock markets and cause disruption to expected growth. We consider the lack of execution on US President Trump's policy plans, in particular a less-than-anticipated tax revision, to be a key risk. Such news has not hurt markets substantially thus far but could start to weigh. We have previously cited longer-term risks from the US presidency due to potential uncertainties arising from protectionism and international relations. The increasing tensions with North Korea are a further concern.

There has been a fundamental change in policy from central banks, with the Federal Reserve looking to unwind its balance sheet and reduce holdings of assets purchased through quantitative easing. Given higher eurozone inflation and the ongoing strengthening across the region, we believe the European Central Bank policy is likely to be less accommodative going forward and that some form of tapering will be announced. This will reduce one of the strongest technical factors in the markets as central banks will no longer be buyers of either government bonds or corporate bonds. Whilst the accommodative central bank policies have been supportive for the increased risk appetite of investors, we view tapering as a key risk.

Conscious of potential risks, we will continue with our strategy of gradually securing profits on deep in-the-money positions and search for opportunities in more balanced issues.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C Global Smaller Cap Equity

Performance

Over the 12 months to 30 September 2017, the Class I Shares - USD returned +20.8%. By comparison, the MSCI World Small Cap Index returned +19.8%. Performance is net of fees and in US dollar terms.

The portfolio outperformed its benchmark over the 12-month period. The initial few months of the period were challenging due to our underweight to the US market on valuation grounds. The Portfolio subsequently recovered and consolidated its gains. The US equity market and currency rallied strongly in the wake of Donald Trump's surprise election victory, on expectations that he would increase infrastructure spending and cut taxes, boosting growth. Later, as hurdles in policy implementation emerged the optimism was somewhat reigned in. In Europe, economic growth indicators turned positive and the region continued to show steady improvement. The combination of a supportive macro backdrop and favourable individual company fundamentals, meant that our European small cap exposure made a good contribution to relative performance. In the UK, stock selection added to relative performance. The market retraced around the time of the general election in June, which delivered a hung parliament, before picking up again as a coalition government was formed with Theresa May staying at the helm. Towards the end of the review period, the Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe also called a snap election (to take place on 22 October). He was expected to be elected for a second term, thus enabling a continuation of his reform agenda. Our small cap Japanese exposure contributed positively.

Market Review

Smaller company equities rose solidly in US dollar terms over the review period. Global risk appetite was generally buoyed by improving economic data in most regions alongside subdued inflationary pressures. The international price of oil remains depressed, on a historical comparison, as supply remained abundant despite deeper cuts by OPEC and Russia. On the monetary policy front, the US embarked on a cycle of interest rate hikes but the Federal Reserve's tone turned less hawkish in the latter months. Meanwhile in Europe, monetary stimulus is expected to be slowly withdrawn as growth indicators strengthen. Political pressures surfaced from time to time, with elections in several European countries most notably France, Germany and the UK. Despite an uptick in popular nationalism, France elected centrist politician Emmanuel Macron as President and went on to give his party and its allies a comfortable majority in the National Assembly elections. On the international stage, geopolitical tensions intensified towards the end of the period as North Korea conducted missile tests.

Outlook

Equity markets have so far shrugged off geopolitical risks on the whole. In the US, investors have been cheered by the signs of some progress towards tax reforms promised during President Trump's election campaign, while in the UK, the focus shifted to domestic issues and the political risks associated with a weak government and rising Brexit negotiation uncertainty. In Europe, neither the appreciation of the euro nor the prospect of fading monetary stimulus appear to be damaging the economic recovery to any great extent. Against this backdrop, central banks have continued to signal to markets that they are intent on monetary tightening, prompting a rise in bond yields. Nevertheless equities remain a relatively attractive asset class and with our selection of stocks driven by bottom-up analysis, we remain comfortable with our portfolio's positioning.

F&C Portfolios Fund F&C Japanese Equity

Performance

In the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the Class I Shares - EUR returned +10.5%. By comparison, the FTSE World Japan NR Index returned +9.1%. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

Over the twelve month period in review, sector allocation made a strong positive contribution to the Portfolio's relative performance while stock selection had a negative effect. In particular, the Portfolio benefited from being underweight general retailers, tobacco and automobiles. The auto sector made the largest contribution to relative performance as stock selection was also strongly positive. Among individual stocks, Keyence Corporation was the top performer, its shares rallying on solid results and continuing opportunities for automation globally. Conversely, relative performance was conceded in banks, and software and computer services. Adverse regulation developments hindered the outlook for loan growth, dampening sentiment for financial stocks. Within the Portfolio, Suruga Bank was the largest detractor within this sector.

Market Review

A weaker yen aided exports and underpinned support for Japanese equities over the twelve month review period. Donald Trump's victory in the US presidential elections and expectations that his policies would boost US growth prompted optimism about the global economy and supported equities generally. Japanese economic data improved slowly. The economy grew at an annualised rate of 2.5% in the second quarter of 2017, a pick-up in pace from 1.0% annualised growth in the first quarter. Consumer spending increased, core consumer price inflation accelerated (although it remained some way below the Bank of Japan's 2.0% target) and the labour market tightened to levels not seen since 1974. Towards the end of the period, geopolitical tensions surrounding North Korea intensified and against the backdrop of a more resilient economy, Prime Minister Shinzo Abe requested a change to the constitution regarding Japan's defence capability and called for a general election in October to give him the mandate to achieve this, and to continue with his economic reform agenda.

Outlook

We continue to believe that Japan offers good prospects for equity investors. Domestic economic activity remains resilient, with a number of major national infrastructure initiatives being implemented and the labour market tightening. Although the rising geopolitical tensions in the region is a clear risk factor, it looks set to extend Shinzo Abe's tenure as Prime Minister, which equity investors should welcome. Corporate earnings remain healthy, supported by a stable exchange rate. The trajectory of corporate governance reform remains positive, unlocking latent value in Japan's cash-laden corporate balance sheets. Against this backdrop, we retain a bias towards higher quality growth companies that can prosper in spite of near-term economic and policy-driven volatility that appears to be an ever-present factor.

Performance

Over the twelve months to 30 September 2017, the Class I Shares - EUR returned +3.8% (net of fees, in euro terms).

The Portfolio continued to diversify within the European bond spectrum but maintained a clear bias towards Portuguese issuers, particularly government-related entities. The participation in the primary market was important to the re-investment of maturing bonds, as market liquidity is scarce and yields very low. As European long-term interest rates increase, our fixed income duration (sensitivity to movements in interest rates) was kept below three years, with most of the duration risk held in Portuguese government bonds where long-term yields are still attractive.

In order to maximise returns in a low yield environment, the equity allocation was of major importance. Preferred markets were Europe and Japan, with stock picking within Portuguese stocks providing positive returns.

Market Review

Global growth continued to surprise on the upside with unusual synchronicity. On the back of a "goldilocks" context, in which healthy global economic growth is side-by-side with smooth inflation figures, "risk" assets continued to performed well, led by equities and non-investment grade credits. Earnings were also revised upward as Purchasing Managers' Index ("PMI") numbers continued to post above 50 - clearly pointing to economic expansion. Central banks maintained ample liquidity for markets; while the Federal Reserve is already tapering and raising interest rates, the Bank of Japan and the European Central Bank ("ECB") are still expanding their balance sheets and, we believe, are some time away from starting the rate normalisation cycle. On the political front, the initial surprise effect from the US elections dissipated, while in Europe, a set of benign election outcomes provided good support for European Union stability. Of the many political events that occurred, we highlight the French elections where not only was the far right unable to produce a major impact, the significant victory for Macron was viewed as a step forward for a more robust European Union.

Against this scenario, in the 12 months ending 30 September 2017, equities outperformed bonds, with Japanese equities returning 26%, the Eurostoxx index posting a 22% gain and the S&P 500 Index close to 19%. European government bonds lost 3% in the same period but peripheral eurozone countries outperformed, with Portuguese sovereign debt returning a notable 9.2%.

Outlook

With the main economic indicators pointing to an acceleration in global growth and inflation remaining relatively subdued, which allows central banks to maintain a loose approach to monetary policy, we expect that equities will continue to outperform in the near future.

However, with talk of monetary policy normalisation starting to unfold, specifically the ECB with a more limited quantitative easing in 2018, rates and fixed income assets could be impacted, which consequently will lead to risk repricing. Also important are elections and political outcomes still to be held across the world, and specifically in Europe, with Italy and Spain being the main concern.

Nevertheless, the coming quarters should still be benign for risk assets given the positive economic assessment, earnings growth and still abundant liquidity.

Performance

Over the 12 months to 30 September 2017, the Class A Shares - EUR returned +12.5% (net of fees, in euro terms). By comparison, the MSCI World NR Index, returned +12.3%.

The Portfolio was marginally ahead of the benchmark over the period. The period began with performance dented by the election of Donald Trump and a rotation out of both growth and quality stocks globally, in favour of equities with stronger value characteristics. Relative performance improved markedly in 2017, at first benefiting from an underweight exposure to energy and an overweight exposure to IT, and later from strong stock selection. Over the year as a whole, positive contributions were led by commercial banking group SVB Financial, which rallied on expectations for higher US interest rates, technology company Cognex, boosted by strong results, and analytical instruments manufacturer Mettler-Toledo, again on better-than-expected earnings and a raise in full-year guidance. Conversely, stocks that detracted from relative returns included LED lighting manufacturer Acuity Brands, which underperformed after supply chain issues impacted results, and pharmaceutical Cardinal Health, where generic pricing pressure weighed on quarterly earnings and prompted disappointing guidance for 2018.

Review

Global equities rose strongly over the review period. Risk appetite was generally boosted by Donald Trump's surprise win in November's presidential election as markets priced in faster US economic growth, underpinned by hopes of tax cuts and increased infrastructure spending. Against the backdrop of robust economic data, the Federal Reserve ("Fed") raised interest rates in December and again in March and June. Later, the Trump administration's failure to get healthcare reform through Congress raised questions about its ability to deliver on other plans. Fed Chair Janet Yellen also adopted a less hawkish tone than previously. In the eurozone, the economy moved into recovery mode and economic data strengthened as the period progressed. The Japanese economy saw slow but steady improvement, bolstering the confidence of Prime Minister Shinzo Abe who called for an early general election, in October. The oil price briefly rose to above $50 per barrel, as the dynamics of supply and demand swung in oil's favour, and on the political front, tensions were heightened by nuclear missile tests by North Korea.

Outlook

The global macroeconomic backdrop remains supportive for equity markets to continue their climb higher. Fears that the US would run into capacity constraints are not materialising and the gradual increase in interest rates and planned tapering of the Fed's balance sheet have failed to derail markets. Elsewhere, the improvement in global economic growth, largely without any pick up in inflationary pressures, means we are seeing coordinated policy actions allowing volatility to remain at subdued levels. These factors remain supportive for global equities to continue to make new all time-highs, despite the raised geopolitical risks and potential liquidity withdrawal by central banks.

Performance

Over the 12 months to 30 September 2017, the Class A Shares - USD returned +12.5% (net of fees, in US dollar terms). By comparison, the Russell 2000 NR Index, returned +20.3%.

The Portfolio underperformed the Russell 2000 NR Index over the period. Amongst the detractors from relative performance was the portfolio's cash position, energy exploration and production company Carrizo Oil & Gas, which suffered from a lower oil price, and Sabre, a provider of technology to the travel industry, which saw an unexpected increase in costs. On a positive note, ICON (a provider of pharmaceutical contract research) reported good operating results during the year, Upland Software (cloud based infrastructure software) made progress on its acquisition strategy and Vail Resorts (an owner and operator of high-end ski resorts) announced attractive acquisitions and reported strong season pass sales.

Market Review

Over the 12-month period, US smaller companies, as represented by the Russell 2000 Index, generated strong positive returns. The surprise election of Donald Trump as US President in November prompted a strong rally in equities as investors priced in faster US growth, on the expectation of increased spending on infrastructure and potential tax cuts. Going into 2017, a pickup in global growth coupled with benign inflation provided a very favourable market backdrop. The best performing sectors were producer durables, health care and technology. The laggards were energy, consumer staples and consumer discretionary. The Federal Reserve raised interest rates three times in the financial year.

Outlook

US economic growth has picked up recently and is now running at around 2%. Retail and auto sales have been sluggish but housing continues to improve and exports have benefited from a lower dollar and improving global growth. Business optimism remains strong. Jobless claims are at low levels and indicate a healthy labour market. The Federal Reserve recently announced its intention to reduce the size of its balance sheet, starting in October. A further interest rate rise before the end of the year is also expected. Some progress has been made by the new administration on deregulation but nothing significant has been achieved so far on the major initiatives of tax reform and increased spending on infrastructure. Earnings growth in calendar year 2017 is still on course for meaningful improvement. The market remains on a high valuation and given the risks, a cautious approach seems sensible.

1. F&C PORTFOLIOS FUND, (THE "FUND")

The Fund is a "Société d'Investissement à Capital Variable" and is qualified as a Luxembourg investment company. Under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, the Fund is registered as an undertakings for collective investment pursuant to Part I of the amended Law of 17 December 2010, relating to undertakings for collective investment (the "Law").

FundRock Management Company S.A. was designated by the directors of the Fund as management company by an agreement dated 30 December 2005 as amended and restated by an agreement dated 25 February 2016 (the "Management Company"). The list of the investment funds managed by the Management Company may be obtained, on request, at the registered office of the Management Company.

The Management Company was incorporated as a "société anonyme" under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg on 10 November 2004 and its articles have been amended for the last time on 1 July 2014 which was published in the Mémorial on 3 October 2014. The Management Company is approved as a management company and regulated by chapter 15 of the Law.

The Fund's board of directors (the "Board") has adopted the ALFI Code of Conduct, which sets out the principles of good governance, and considers that the Fund has been in compliance with it in all material respects throughout the financial year ended 30 September 2017.

UCITS V came into effect in March 2016. UCITS V aims to increase the level of protection already offered to investors in UCITS and to improve investor confidence in UCITS. It aims to do so by enhancing the rules on the responsibilities of depositaries and by introducing remuneration policy requirements for UCITS fund managers. It also aims to ensure that all EU regulators responsible for the supervision of UCITS funds and their managers have a common minimum set of powers available to investigate infringements.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Presentation of financial statements

The financial statements have been presented in accordance with the reporting requirements of the Luxembourg supervisory authorities and Luxembourg generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP").

Combined accounts

The combined financial statements have been presented in Euro, the functional currency of the Fund. Where a Portfolio is denominated in a currency other than Euro, the average exchange rate has been used for the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. The exchange rate ruling as at the reporting date has been used for the Statement of Net Assets.

Investments

As per the Prospectus and for the purpose of determining the Net Asset Value used for subscriptions and redemptions, the quoted investments and those traded in other regulated markets are valued on the basis of the last available price at 30 September 2017.

Securities which are not quoted on, or dealt, in an official or another regulated market, or securities which are so quoted or dealt in but in which the last sale price is not available, and securities for which the last sale price is not representative of the fair market value, the value of such securities will be determined based on an agreed pricing basis and the reasonably foreseeable sales price determined prudently and in good faith, upon the advice of the Investment Manager, by the Directors. Purchases and sales of investments are recognised on the trade date. Gains or losses on sales of investments are computed on the average cost basis and include transaction costs.

Investment income

Dividends are recognised in income, net of irrecoverable withholding tax, on the date upon which the relevant securities are declared "ex-dividend". Interest income, net of irrecoverable withholding tax, is accrued on a daily basis and includes the amortisation of premiums and accretion of discounts.

as at 30 September 2017

Translation of foreign currencies

Assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the Portfolios' reporting currencies have been translated at the rates of exchange ruling at 30 September 2017. Cost of investments and income and expenditure which are denominated in currencies other than the Portfolios' reporting currency have been translated at the exchange rates ruling on the day of transaction. The exchange gain or loss arising from the translation of these items is taken into account in the determination of the results of operations. The average USD/EUR exchange rate during the year was 0.9060. The USD/EUR exchange rate as at 30 September 2017 was 0.8459.

Cross portfolio investments

At 30 September 2017, the total cross portfolio investment (held by F&C Diversified Growth) amounted to EUR 3,802,578. The total combined net assets of F&C Portfolios Fund at year-end, excluding the swing pricing adjustment and without cross portfolio investments amounts to EUR 2,495,393,358.

Futures contracts on securities and indices

Initial margin deposits are made upon entering into futures contracts and can be made either in cash or securities. During the year the futures contract is open, changes in the value of the contract are recognised as unrealised gains or losses by "marking-to-market" on a daily basis to reflect the market value of the contract at the end of each day's trading. Variation margin payments are made or received, depending upon whether unrealised losses or gains are incurred. When the contract is closed, the Fund records a realised gain or loss equal to the difference between the proceeds from (or cost of) the closing transaction and the Fund's basis in the contract.

Forward foreign exchange contracts

The unrealised gain or loss on open forward foreign exchange contracts is calculated as the difference between the contracted rate and the rate to close out the contract. Realised profit or loss includes net gains or losses on forward foreign exchange contracts which have been settled or offset by other contracts with the same counterparty.

Options Purchased and Options Written

The premium paid for options purchased is recorded as an investment and is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option. Premiums paid for the purchase of options which expire unexercised are treated as realised losses on the expiration date. If a purchased put option is exercised, the premium is subtracted from the proceeds of the sale of the underlying security, foreign currency or index, in determining whether the relevant Portfolio has realised a gain or a loss. If a purchased call option is exercised, the premium increases the cost basis of the security, foreign currency or index purchased by the Portfolio.

For a written option, an amount equal to the premium received by the relevant Portfolio is recorded as a liability and is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option written. Premiums received from written options which expire unexercised are treated by the relevant Portfolio as realised gains on the expiration date. If a written call option is exercised, the premium is added to the proceeds from the sale of the underlying security in determining whether the relevant Portfolio has realised a gain or a loss. If a written put option is exercised, the premium reduces the cost basis of the security purchased by the relevant Portfolio.

Future style options

In the case of options on futures, no premium margin is required as a daily profit and loss adjustment (variation margin) is made by the procedure known as "marking-to-market". The profit of one party to the contract is the loss of the other party. The resulting gains and losses are either debited or credited to the appropriate account on a daily basis via the mark-to-market process. The final valuation is made at the final settlement price of either the expiration date of the option or the day on which it was exercised.

Total Return Swaps

The Fund may enter into swap contracts in which the Fund and the counterparty agree to exchange payments (periodically throughout the life of the contract) where one or both parties pay the returns generated by a security, index commodities, or instruments on an agreed upon notional amount. The relevant indices include, but are not limited to, currencies, interest rates, prices and total return on interest rates indices, fixed income indices and stock indices.

as at 30 September 2017

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and other liquid assets are valued at their face value, including interest accrued, where applicable. Interest is also accrued on bank overdrafts. All cash at bank are held either directly with a sub-depositary or by State Street Bank Luxembourg S.C.A., on overnight deposit with a third party institution which has been approved by the Board.

Income from securities lending

The Fund may lend its portfolio securities to specialised banks and credit institutions and other financial institutions of high standing, and highly qualified registered brokers/dealers, or through recognised clearing institutions such as Clearstream or Euroclear, subject to complying with the provisions set forth in the ESMA guidelines (CSSF 14/592). The collateral received by the Fund in relation to these transactions would mainly consist of securities and other liquid assets authorised from time to time by the Luxembourg regulator. Any cash collateral is not reinvested. Each counterparty will possess an industry standard credit rating that is acceptable to the Investment Manager with reference to the market conditions prevailing at the relevant time.

3. EQUALISATION

The Fund follows the accounting practice known as "equalisation" by which a portion of the issue and redemption price representing, on a per share basis, accrued distributable investment income (excluding capital gains or losses), is credited or charged to distributable income. The amounts attributable to this income equalisation account are included in the proceeds from subscriptions to the Fund's shares or in the payment for the Fund's shares redeemed, and in the Net equalisation, items of the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

4. INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEES

The Fund entered into an agreement with FundRock Management Company S.A. and F&C Management Limited ("FCM") appointing FCM to act as investment manager to the Fund for a monthly fee calculated on the average of the net asset value of each Portfolio during the preceding month at the following rates:

The Investment Manager may pass on to the Fund certain approved expenses incurred in the marketing of the Fund. The maximum chargeable during any accounting period is 0.025% of the net asset value of the Fund as the respective Portfolio(s).

The Investment Manager will also charge a fee to the Fund to cover the costs incurred in the distribution of the Fund in the various jurisdictions in which it is registered. The amount to be charged during any accounting period is 0.05% of the net asset value of the Fund or the respective Portfolio(s).

No marketing expenses or distribution fee will be charged to the Hong Kong Share Classes of any Portfolio. Any costs incurred in relation to the distribution of the Hong Kong Share Classes (if any) will be borne by the Investment Manager.

The Investment Manager is entitled to an annual service fee of 0.015% of the equity and bond investments of the Fund for its Responsible Engagement Overlay services as described in the Prospectus. This service is not charged to the Hong Kong Share Classes for any Portfolio.

11. STATEMENT OF CHANGES IN INVESTMENTS

A list, specifying for each Portfolio the total purchases and sales which occurred during the year under review, may be obtained, upon request, at the registered office of the Fund and the Fund's Registrar/Administrative Agent, Depositary, or Paying Agent in the relevant jurisdiction.

12. PERFORMANCE FEE

There was no performance fee charged on the Portfolios during the year.

13. USE OF DEALING COMMISSION

The Investment Manager is regulated by the UK Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA") for the conduct of its business in the United Kingdom. The rules of the FCA restrict the use of dealing commission to execution and research services. Services are only eligible for payment with commission if they qualify as substantive research by meeting specific criteria set by the FCA. These are known as "permitted services".

The Investment Manager executes transactions on behalf of the Fund with a number of selected brokers. In the normal course of business, the Investment Manager has entered, or may enter into, arrangements ("Commission Sharing Arrangements") whereby research credits accrued to the broker through trading can be recovered and redirected to one or more third parties, as payment for the provision of investment research to the Investment Manager.

The services received under such arrangements are directly relevant to and assist in the cost-effective provision of management services generally by the Investment Manager and are consistent with practices in the markets in which the Investment Manager does business.

14. SECURITIES LENDING

The volume of the securities lending transactions will be kept at an appropriate level. The Fund will be entitled to request the return of the securities lent in a manner that enables it, at all times, to meet its redemption obligations. It will be ensured that securities lending transactions do not jeopardise the management of the Fund's assets in accordance with the investment policy.

The income earned from the securities lending program is reflected net of fees in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets as disclosed in the "Securities Financing Transactions (unaudited)" section.

State Street Bank GmbH, London Branch as the securities lending agent receives a 15% fee for their services. The Investment Manager as the Fund's securities lending coordinator receives an administration fee of 10% to cover operational costs. As a result, the Fund receives 75% of the gross revenues generated from securities lending. It is the Investment Manager's policy to return all revenue to the Fund less direct and indirect operational costs.

The table below shows the market value of securities on loan as well as the market value of collateral held as at 30 September 2017. The collateral held at this date provided coverage of 105.74%.

15. DIVIDENDS DISTRIBUTION

For all distributing classes of shares which have registered for United Kingdom Reporting Fund Status it is intended to distribute 100 per cent of reportable income (computed in accordance with the definition of reportable income under the United Kingdom Offshore Funds (Tax) Regulations 2009 (as amended)) which accrues to the Portfolio or distributing class, however it should be noted that this cannot be guaranteed. It may be that the Directors consider in certain cases that the amounts available for distribution are so minimal that a distribution is not commercially viable. Where share classes have not been registered for UK Reporting Fund Status, the directors will determine an alternative basis for determining the level of any dividend.

The Board may decide to make dividend payments to Shareholders once a year or more frequently provided that no payment will be made as a result of which the total net assets of the Fund would become less than the minimum required by Luxembourg law.

During the year ended to 30 September 2017, dividends with an ex-dividend date of 5 January 2017 were paid out to shareholders on 31 January 2017 as follows:

16. SWING PRICING

Under certain circumstances (for example, large volumes of deals), investment and/or disinvestment costs may have an adverse effect on the shareholders' interests in a Portfolio. In order to prevent this effect, called "dilution", the Board may determine that a "swing pricing" methodology applies so as to allow for the net asset value per share to be adjusted upwards or downwards by dealing and other costs and fiscal charges which would be payable on the effective acquisition or disposal of assets in the relevant Portfolio if the net capital activity exceeds, as a consequence of the aggregate transactions in that Portfolio on a given Valuation Date (as defined in the Prospectus), a threshold set by the Board from time to time.

as at 30 September 2017

Description of the swing pricing methodology:

If the net capital activity on a given Valuation Date leads to a net inflow/outflow of assets in excess of the Threshold in the relevant Portfolio, the net asset value used to process all subscriptions, redemptions or conversions in that Portfolio is adjusted upwards/downwards by the swing factors set by the Board from time to time.

In any case, the swing factors shall not exceed 2% of the net asset value per share of the relevant Portfolio. Further, for the purpose of calculating the expenses of a Portfolio which are based on the net asset value of the relevant Portfolio (including any applicable performance fee), the Administrative Agent will continue to use the un-swung net asset value.

The following Portfolio has adjusted the net asset value per share at year end:

- F&C Diversified Growth

The Net Assets as at 30 September 2017, as disclosed in the statement of net assets, exclude the swing price adjustment. The net asset value per share as at 30 September 2017, as disclosed in the Comparative Table, include the swing price adjustment.

17. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

There were no material events which occurred after the end of the financial year, which would have a bearing on the understanding of the financial statements.

19. SOCIALLY RESPONSIBLE INVESTMENT

F&C Management Limited is convinced that investors increasingly care about environmental, social and corporate governance (ESG) issues and that these may have a material impact on the companies in which we invest. Therefore the Fund has appointed F&C's specialist Governance & Sustainable Investment team to engage with companies held by the portfolios in order to improve the ESG performance and safeguard investor value. The Responsible Engagement Overlay service, known as reo®, aims to encourage companies to enhance their business performance by adopting better corporate governance, social and environmental practices. reo® does not directly prevent the Fund from investing in specific companies, but over the long term is expected to lead to more sustainable companies and investment returns. reo® is about using the Investment Manager's ability, as manager of the Fund's equity and corporate bond portfolios, to encourage investee companies, through a constructive dialogue, to manage effectively their ESG risks and opportunities. In the Investment Manager's view, reo® may contribute towards business success and therefore increase the value of the investee companies and consequently the value of the Fund's investments. More information on specific companies engaged via the reo® service within each portfolio is available in the semi-annual engagement activity report on the BMO Global Asset Management website at:

20. NOTICE TO INVESTORS OF F&C DIVERSIFIED GROWTH FUND

The target return of F&C Diversified Growth has been changed. Rather than intending to get a target return of Euribor +4% within a 5 year period, the Portfolio is now targeting a return of 1mth Euribor (or the equivalent local currency 1mth libor rate per hedged share class) +4% over a rolling 3 year period. This change does not entail a change of the way the Portfolio is managed, the composition of its portfolio, its risk profile nor of its Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator (SRRI). The prospectus has been updated to reflect this point.

21. APPROVAL OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Board approved the financial statements on 29 December 2017.
