

The way you decide to invest matters

It is possible today to combine your concerns for a more sustainable future with your way of investing. You may choose to make investments according to criteria that are no longer purely financial, but include longer-term concerns for the well-being of the planet and society. The collective internal fund Baloise Eticx Conservative addresses these concerns and is part of a range of 5 fully sustainable funds distributed by the Baloise Group in Luxembourg.
