Market review

Global equity markets started 2018 strongly as improving global economic growth and US corporate tax cuts buoyed investor confidence. However, following this period of strong equity gains, markets reversed direction in February due to a perceived weakness in the rally, inflation concerns and a bout of price volatility. Investors also became increasingly unnerved by President Trump's trade policy towards America's major trade partners, leading to another equity sell-off in March and sustained weakness throughout the rest of the period. In addition to trade tensions, Europe saw a return of political uncertainties, such as the formation of a governing body by the antimigrant League and anti-establishment populist Five Star movement in Italy. These political events re-ignited investors' concerns and pushed the market lower with the Euro Stoxx 600, an index comprised of the 600 largest companies in Europe and a bell-weather for European stock market performance, falling 2.4% during the first half.

Strategy review

Man GLG European Alpha Alternative IN EUR delivered a net performance of +5.3%1 during H1 2018. Over 90% of the strategy's performance was generated by stock specific drivers. The top three positive contributions emanated from:

- Ambu Performance was driven by strong results and the revelation that management expect a full suite of devices for Gastrointestinal by 2020.
- 2. Tesco Delivered consensus beating Fiscal Year results, greater detail on their revenue aspiration for Booker and then a particularly strong first trading update post the Booker merger.
- 3. Teleperformance Handsomely beat forecasts with their Q1 results and went onto announce an acquisition that the market looked upon highly favourably.

The three largest detractors to performance were:

- Sainsbury's Detracted from portfolio performance somewhat but provided a hedge (i.e. it offset some risk) to our Tesco Long<sup>2</sup>.
- 2. Rubis The group released a weak set of results due to the US sanctions imposed on Iran, and an inability to extract produce via Turkey. This marked a turn in the earnings revision trend.
- 3. Pearson While Pearson detracted from portfolio performance slightly, it provided the portfolio with a factor hedge against its UK and momentum exposure (factors are big, persistent return drivers that are evident across global markets for example, Value, Momentum and Quality are all factors). However, the group went onto produce a reassuring set of numbers during a period when many investors in this area are concerned with the sector's growth prospects.

Market and Fund outlook

We tend not to take market views, although we like to remain attuned to market trends so as to enable an understanding of risks in the portfolio and appropriately size positions. Furthermore, we also tend to believe that political events are nothing more than noise and so tend to discard these.

That being said, we are conscious that we may be approaching the end of the investment cycle. This does compel us to become more defensive with our portfolio positioning.

Against this, there are a number of elements that enrich the environment for us:

- 1. A substantial increase in inter-sector dispersion (the gap between the best and worst performing stocks in a sector).
- 2. A rise in volatility which has forced the reduction of the funds' gross exposure (gross exposure equals the value of both a fund's long and short positions).
- 3. Rising investor fear.
- 4. The inadvertent consequences of MIFID II (Markets in Financial Instruments Directive).

All in all, we believe this environment lends itself particularly well to the strategy's ability to perform.

Market Update

Global equity markets started 2018 strongly as improving global economic growth and US corporate tax cuts buoyed investor confidence. However, following this period of strong equity gains, markets reversed direction in February due to a perceived weakness in the rally, inflation concerns and a bout of price volatility. Investors also became increasingly unnerved by President Trump's trade policy towards America's major trade partners, leading to another equity sell-off in March and sustained weakness throughout the rest of the period. In addition to trade tensions, Europe saw a return of political uncertainties, such as the formation of a governing body by the antimigrant League and anti-establishment populist Five Star movement in Italy. These political events re-ignited investors' concerns and pushed the market lower.

In the UK, Brexit negotiations have been frustrating in their lack of obvious progress. If the issues of the Irish border, customs union and migration could be resolved there is the potential for further meaningful progress, however this is proving challenging. Ironically, the issue has as much to do with the UK finding it impossible to agree on the best united approach to this issue to present to the European negotiators as it is about the European negotiators being unwilling to engage. A disorderly Brexit remains unappealing to both negotiating teams. This is even more so in Europe now that there are a number of political cracks appearing (Italy, Spain and Germany have all had to deal with domestic political instability during 2018) as well as dealing with the US being more aggressive on terms of trade. We continue to believe that the process will take longer than the market expects but that the likelihood of a disorderly Brexit is limited by the above.

Fund update

The fund delivered a positive return of 4.7% (Man GLG Alpha Select Alternative IL GBP, net of fees) during the first half of 2018.

A key stock within the Fund during this period was Informa. We believe that the market has underestimated the improvements that the current management team has made to the core Informa business and also the potential merits of the UBM acquisition. We anticipate that the acquisition of UBM should improve the growth rate of Informa, the synergies should accelerate profit growth and we believe the combined entity should rerate given the higher exposure to the events industry. Despite some initial scepticism surrounding the deal, further education from company management on how the deal benefits shareholders, as well as a solid first quarter trading statement, helped propel the stock higher.

Another key stock in the fund during H1 was Tesco. We have been holding onto Tesco as we believe that earnings expectations have troughed and sales are showing favourable momentum. On top of this, we also believe that the recently closed Booker deal has compelling industrial logic and brings best in class management to Tesco. The market reacted positively to the second quarter results, reaffirming to us that not only is the management's plan on track, but that there is further evidence regarding the material growth opportunity that Booker opens up for the group. Another significant holding over the period was Royal Dutch Shell and during the period we shifted the Fund's commodity exposure away from mining towards oil as we believed that the lower costs and improving returns on capital would be positive for the share prices of oil companies. We also thought it was return on capital and free cash flow generation that was key for the performance of oil companies, not just the oil price, and we believed the market had not reflected this as efficiently in the energy sector as it had done in the mining sector.

The Fund's gross exposure increased from 133% to 176% over the course of the first quarter as we increased exposure to some of our highest conviction ideas and also added to some positions as a result of higher conviction after full year results. However, gross exposure was reduced from 176% to 138% in the second quarter, as a result of profit-taking in some positions and our more cautious outlook. This was especially the case in the Fund's financial exposure where a number of issues combined with strong performance meant that the risk reward in many of these positions deteriorated significantly.

Looking ahead, the issues facing global markets have become more numerous and wide-ranging over the period. Trade tensions have increased, geopolitical tensions have escalated (particularly in Europe) and some market dynamics, such as the pressure on credit spreads, make us more cautious. The Fund currently has limited directional exposure to these issues and reduced gross exposure, as we expect volatility to remain elevated.

Overview

In the first six months of 2018, equity markets rose amid a backdrop of increased volatility and broadly supportive economic data. The Strategy delivered strong performance in the first month of 2018. This was followed by negative performance in February as a result of a dramatic increase in volatility. A strong US inflation reading led to growing concern that the US Federal Reserve would raise interest rates at a faster pace. While the Strategy initially handled the first few days of volatility well, it did experience losses in its space during the correction (when the market falls more than 10% from previous highs). Equity markets eventually bounced back from the correction and the Strategy produced strong performance in March. Geopolitical headlines in April, particularly those regarding the trade war between the US and China, created an uncertain environment that proved to be challenging for the Strategy. During this period, we adhered to the Fund's portfolio construction discipline by maintaining strict market neutrality and managing other factor exposures tightly. As a result, losses during this period were primarily driven by picking the wrong stocks rather than any issues with risk management. While the Strategy recovered in May and performed well despite the political risk unleashed by the inconclusive Italian election, June proved to be another difficult month for the Strategy.

Performance

The Man GLG European Equity Alternative Fund (the 'Fund') ended the first half of the year up 2.37 %1 net of fees.

Looking at the underlying book returns, we saw strong contributions from UK Core (+90bp), Europe Breakout (+82bp) and Mining (+70bp). Returns from specific risk once again dominated the contributions from Europe Breakout and Mining, while UK Core saw returns driven by a combination of industry and specific risk. The top performer, UK Core, found success with its short book year to date. The Europe Breakout book contributed to stock specific returns with a long position (a security that is bought with the expectation it will rise in value over time) in Tele performance following the announcement of a substantial acquisition. Finally, Mining's long position in BHP Billiton produced strong performance in the first half of the year. We also saw strong contributions from our Europe Midcap and Risk Arb books year to date. On the negative side, our Event Driven (-78bps) and Industrials US (-60bps) managers found the market environment challenging. Industrials US saw a long position in Knight-Swift Transport perform poorly after it warned in April of its struggle to recruit and retain drivers in a tight US labour market. Meanwhile Event Driven lost money on a long position in Akorn Inc after a broken merger agreement.

Turning to factor attribution (how much performance can be explained from Barra defined exposures<sup>2</sup>), our returns from Specific risk were strong year to date and were the primary driver of the Fund's return. The Fund also benefited from modest contribution from Industry risk, Country, and, Style risk factors.

Looking ahead

As we start the second half of 2018, we are highly optimistic about the prospects for the Man GLG European Equity Alternative Fund. We are excited about the ongoing enhancements to the European Long Short platform and the addition of new talent to the portfolio management team.

Man GLG European Mid-Cap Equity Alternative - Semi - Annual Report Commentary

Global Equity Markets provided a mixed backdrop for investors in the first half of 2018. In spite of a strong start in January (where we saw the third highest return in January for the MSCI All Country World Index since data began), February and March were much more turbulent months. In February investors were unnerved by a sharper than expected tick up in US Consumer Price Index and global inflation data and more hawkish comments from the Federal Reserve (the US central bank). In March we had the result of the Italian election where we saw the mainstream centre party cede voting share to the non-mainstream, more populist parties whilst the US President Trump announced a potential trade tariff on Chinese goods, resulting in a response by China of a potential retaliation.

During the second quarter markets muddled through in spite of heightened geopolitical tensions between US and North Korea at the start of the quarter and increased concerns over protectionism. Economic Surprise indices (indices which look at macro-economic data outcomes relative to expectations) moved into clear negative territory especially in Europe where economic growth rates decelerated sequentially. We also saw sustained higher oil prices in spite of increasing quotas from OPEC (Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries). Meanwhile in the UK, with less than 270 days to go until the Brexit deadline, little progress appears to have been made towards an agreement and there is now increased political uncertainty over the very survival of the government in the near term.

During the period we took an incremental step to increase stock specific exposure by adding style hedges such as price momentum, most shorted and size indices to the Fund. These are products that have been created by banks and index providers that have specific characteristics that we can use to help to neutralise these exposures in the fund. Overall, the style hedges on the Fund represent less than 5% of the Fund. We have also maintained our country hedges in France and Italy where we are short indices to neutralize the country exposure. The net market exposure also remains low at -2% (3% end of last year).

The gross exposure of the fund has also come down from 148% in the end of last year to 120% in June. This is a reflection of profit taking post a period of strong performance, and a degree of increased cautiousness given the recent market volatility.

During the first half of the year the Fund increased by 4.26% (net of fees)<sup>1</sup>. The Stoxx Europe Mid 200 Index (MCXP) increased by 1.5% in Euros (declined by 1.4% in Dollars).

The primary positive contributors to stock specific returns were the long position in French listed contact centre company Teleperformance (strong results and accretive acquisitions) and a short position in a listed postal operator (major profit warning in its recent US acquisition).

We were also a significant beneficiary of M&A activity in three long positions in the fund: UK listed Exhibitions Company UBM (acquired by Informa plc), UK and Irish listed packaging company Smurfit Kappa (approached by International Paper) and UK listed online classified company ZPG (acquired by private equity).

The primary negative contributors to stock specific returns were the long position in Italian listed cable manufacturer Prysmian (Italian election, contract write down), a short holding in a listed hearing aids manufacturer (upgraded guidance on audio and consumer devices business) and a short position in a UK listed education products and services company (relief rally on no further profit warnings).

Many of the fund's sector themes that we have written about previously are still valid including long positions in distribution companies and exhibitions and events businesses and short positions in supermarkets and bricks and mortar retailers and property companies. We have also held structural short positions for the last 18 months in automotive suppliers – specifically companies whose products have significant exposure to the internal combustion engine (ICE) as the transition to electrification gains pace. The Fund was a significant beneficiary from the weakness in these companies and, although we remain net short, we have recently taken profits on weakness. We have also recently entered into a new long position in the space, the German supplier Hella, where we believe the potential from increased LED penetration in cars is underappreciated by the market (both in headlamps and in interior and body lights) and the electronics business is also better than perceived.

We continue to believe our asset class is becoming increasingly inefficient. This is because of the structural changes that are taking place within the Equity Research functions of banks which means there are fewer analysts researching companies in the Mid Cap (companies whose market value of their outstanding shares is between €500 million and €10 billion) space. We believe that the introduction of the MIFID 2 is accelerating these changes and that this represents an ongoing opportunity for us.

Finally, during the period, we announced the promotion of Louise Pugh as a portfolio manager for the European Mid-Cap Equity Alternative Strategy. Louise continues to report to Moni Sternbach, strategy portfolio manager and Head of European Mid-Cap Equities. We also announced the appointment of Brentley Campbell as an analyst within the European Mid-Cap Equities team, working alongside Moni Sternbach and Louise Pugh.

Market Summary

1H2018 marked not only a weak absolute performance for Emerging Markets ('EM'), but also a significant underperformance of developed markets as measured by the MSCI World Index. This weak performance in EM is, we believe, the result of the factors below:

- US dollar strength and a continued tightening of US monetary policy, which has traditionally been punitive for EM and which has created an environment of global risk aversion.
- The threat to global trade represented by the announcement of US tariffs on China . EM is traditionally positively correlated to movements in world trade.
- A slight slowdown in the Chinese economy, with notably decelerations in credit creation and the housing market.
- Political uncertainty in various other EM's, notably in various degrees in Russia, Turkey, Mexico, Brazil and Argentina.

Key Positions

The Fund's investment style can be characterised as 'valuation opportunities in long-term winners', meaning that the fund managers seek out investment opportunities in businesses with good growth prospects and the ability to finance that growth through internal cash flow and solid balance sheets, but whose shares are in our view undervalued. Thus the average return on invested capital of the companies in the Fund is significantly higher than that of the benchmark, but on average they have less debt and produce more cashflow than the companies in the benchmark. These investments are made across a concentrated portfolio that comprised 49 companies at the end of the period, with the five largest positions being Check Point Software (security software, Israel), Indiabulls and ICICI (both financial services, India), Hollysys (engineering, China) and Moscow Exchange (stock exchange, Russia). The largest country allocation at the end of the period was to China (20.6% of the Fund), followed by India (15.7% of the Fund).

During 1H2018, the Fund maintained its commitment to socially-responsible investment in EM, excluding shares in tobacco producers and producers of military hardware, publishing the fund's carbon footprint and its record of voting and other engagement with management. Furthermore, the managers joined a working group of the Emerging Markets Investors' Alliance, an non-profit organisation committed to promoting socially-responsible investment.

Market and Fund outlook

The fund managers do not anticipate that the difficult market conditions of 1H18 will necessarily prevail. Outflows from emerging markets have become extreme and EM currencies have already declined markedly – classic signs of capitulation. At the same time, the majority of EM current accounts remain healthy in our view. Valuations in EM appear to us to be particularly attractive when adjusted for the cyclically low level of earnings in emerging markets. Thus, we remain fundamentally optimistic that investment in good emerging market companies at today's depressed prices should prove rewarding to the long-term investor.

Risks do remain, however – most notably a continuation of dollar strength and a worsening of the nascent US 'trade war'. In these circumstances, the fund managers feel that the portfolio, with its emphasis on cashflow and on long-term winners, should be well placed to withstand the worst of any fall-out.

The fund managers also anticipate that at some stage the narrowness of EM stock markets described above may reverse. The managers have seen such periods before and their experience is that such periods of intense style concentration could create certain contrarian opportunities to reinforce positions in existing position which appear to us 'out of favour'. This could possibly create opportunities to add relative value for a fund which is prepared to deviate substantially from the index. The fund managers remain positive on the opportunities of investment in a variety of EM markets.

Performance Summary

The Fund's unit price declined by 10.0% (IF share class, USD, net of fees) over the first half of 2018. By comparison, the fund's benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets TR index, declined by 6.7% (USD). This underperformance needs, in our view, to be seen in the context of a market whose breadth has become increasingly narrow. Thus, the equal-weighted version of the same MSCI Emerging Markets index lost 10.2% in USD over the same period – in other words, larger-weighted stocks in the index continued their significant outperformance of the index of the last 24 months. Given the Fund's clear style as non-benchmarked, concentrated and with a bias to mid-cap companies (the fund has almost 60% of NAV in companies with market cap more than $2.5bn and less than $12.5bn) it is of little surprise that this market style has penalised the Fund's relative performance.

Market Review

The first half of 2018, particularly the 2nd quarter, brought renewed world trade tensions and heightened political uncertainty in Europe, which combined with more hawkish tone from global central banks, fostered a risk-off sentiment and a stronger USD. Consequently, after receiving inflows of USD23.9bn in 2018 Q1, Emerging Markets (EM) bond funds recorded outflows of USD -3.1bn in 2018 Q2.<sup>1</sup>

The volatility in EM financial markets surged considerably as the year progressed and vulnerabilities in some EM external balances started to be tested by a strengthening US dollar and elevated US Treasury yields. In addition to Argentina and Turkey that had already been under pressure in May, South Africa, Indonesia and Brazil were caught in the cross-fire in June. All in all, in 2018 H1, the 50/50 Blend (comprised of 50% JPM EMBIG and 50% of JPM GBI-EM GD) was down by -5.8%, as JPM GBI-EM GD and JPM EMBIG returned -6.4% and -5.2%, respectively.<sup>3</sup>

The Local Currency (LC) correction was led by the Foreign Exchange (FX) component (-6.4%), while local rates corrected -3.0% as JPM GBI-EM GD yield increased +0.45% to 6.6%, which was only partially offset by carry return (+3.0%).<sup>5</sup> <sup>6</sup>Country wise, Argentina (-37%) and Turkey (-25%) were JPM GBI-EM GD bottom performers in the period, while Colombia (+4.2%), Mexico (+3.5%) and Malaysia (+0.7%) were the top performers and the only countries to record a positive return in the period.<sup>7</sup>

In Hard Currency (HC), the JPM EMBIG yield increased by 1.19% to 6.7%, while its spread widened by +0.77% to 3.88% <sup>8</sup> The investment grade segment (-3.6%) outperformed its, less liquid, high yield counterpart (-7.59%). EM HC debt supply had been keeping pace with last year's record issuance, but stalled in June amidst ongoing market volatility. <sup>10</sup> The segment presenting the biggest contraction was high yield (-25% YoY in 2018 H1), while investment grade was more stable (-7% YoY in 2018 H1).

Outlook

Country risk, across both developed and emerging markets, could remain high over the next coming months, with overall market liquidity prone to be tested. While trade tensions and the associate risk to global growth, particularly in China, may also linger for quite some time. Moreover, as the supply of US Treasuries increases throughout the curve (expected for 2018 H2 and 2019 if deficits rise and the Fed portfolio runoff reaches its maximum pace) we anticipate renewed pressure on yields and a likely increase in the steepness of the US yield curve. <sup>11</sup>

EM currencies experienced the brunt of the recent adjustment to the external shock posed by the tightening in the global liquidity conditions. We believe credit spreads and interest rates could lead the next leg of a correction.

In HC, spreads have corrected from the very stretched levels of a couple of months ago, and are currently trading just above the average for the last five years. However, given how managers are still exposed to the less liquid segments of the asset class (frontier markets and high yield corporates) and as the tightening of global financial conditions continues to unfold, we would expect spreads to widen to, at least, one standard deviation wide of this five-year average. 12 13 14

&lt;sup>2</sup> Risk-on risk-off is an investment setting in which price behaviour responds to changes in investor risk tolerance. It refers to changes in investment activity in response to global economic patterns. During periods when risk is perceived as low, the risk-on risk-off theory states that investors tend to engage in higher-risk investments; conversely, when risk is perceived to be high, investors have the tendency to gravitate toward lower-risk investments.

Outlook:

In LC, we believe central banks may raise rates to contain FX volatility and keep local bonds markets competitive enough to attract the required foreign capital to fund their current account deficits <sup>15</sup>. Regarding EM currencies we believe that over the coming weeks we could see speculative positions in EM currencies go shorter (ie go longer USD) and real money positions go from still long beta to neutral. We would expect at that point to be moving into long currency territory in our fund.

Fund Activity:

In the first half of 2018 we maintained a conservative positioning in the portfolio, however as EM FX corrected in May we gradually reduced our EM FX short to close June at -2%, versus the shorts of -5% and -22% at the end of May and April, respectively. <sup>16</sup> The FX exposure of the fund was comprised of a long to ARS (+7.8%) and short to IDR (-4.9%) and COP (-4.8%). In May, taking advantage of the sell-off we unwound the shorts to Brazilian Real (BRL), EUR and South African Rand (ZAR). <sup>17</sup>The long ARS position was set up in May in light of the monetary policy changes in the country and more attractive valuation. <sup>18</sup> We believe that the combination of ARS depreciation in real terms, high carry, expected improvement in the trade balance dynamics and the Central Bank management of the ARS bond maturities could help stabilize the Peso. <sup>19</sup>The COP short exposure was also added in May because the currency was among the most expensive in our universe from a valuation perspective, while the carry was among the lowest, and the performance of the external accounts on a trend basis was poor in spite of the fact that oil prices had been quite high (and at risk of falling). <sup>20</sup>Also, from a positioning perspective we viewed COP as one of the most crowded currencies.

On local rates, the fund is still -0.5 years short in local currency duration weighted exposure (DWE) to Brazil, because we expected the Central Bank to try and contain the BRL depreciation by raising rates. <sup>21</sup>

In HC, the DWE of the fund is 2.2 years (from which 2.1 years is via US Treasuries). The U.S. Treasury duration addition was done in June to bring the fund's beta to UST closer to neutral after the recent widening in UST rates. <sup>22</sup>The short credit spread DWE of the Fund stands at -2.3 years via CDS protection in Brazil, South Africa, Indonesia, Malaysia, Argentina, Lebanon, Russia, Turkey, Saudi Arabia, Kazakhstan, and South Korea. The short credit spread DWE of the fund increased 0.4-years in 2018H1 as the reductions in the shorts to Argentina and Turkey were offset by the increase in the shorts to Brazil and Malaysia. We added to our credit short exposure in Brazil, as Brazil CDS had not moved in line with the correction of local markets and in light of our negative outlook on the country's fundamentals. We think that substantial further market stress would be needed, especially as we are in a Presidential election year, to convince politicians to properly tackle the fiscal issue. In Malaysia fiscal balance and leverage came to the spotlight, following the surprise opposition coalition's victory in Malaysia's 14th General Election. We are concerned that their campaign pledges, notably the roll back of the Goods and Services Tax (GST), a critical source of government revenue, may have negative implications on the credit. The rising public sector debt level and the lack of clarity on the previous published debt data are another source of ongoing concerns.

Performance:

In 2018 H1, the fund estimated gross and net (USD Institutional share class) returns were 2.67% and 2.19%, respectively, contrasting with the 50/50 Blend that was down by -5.84%.<sup>23</sup>The annualised volatility of its returns was 2.7%, representing 50% of the volatility of the Blend in the same period (5.5%), in line with its objective of trying to reduce the volatility normally associated with emerging markets. The major reason for the outperformance to the Blend was the defensive position of the portfolio. This is tandem with its investment process, which we believes means the strategy may be more likely to outperform traditional benchmarked approaches during selloffs (as beta risk is decreased in response to deterioration in valuations, positioning, and return expectations) and the recoveries that follow such selloffs.

&lt;sup>15</sup> A country's current account is one of the two components of its balance of payments, the other being the capital account. The current account consists of the balance of trade, net primary income or factor income (earnings on foreign investments minus payments made to foreign investors) and net cash transfers, that have taken place over a given period of time.

The Fund's HC, LC and cash/US Treasury, exposures contributed in +1.65%, -0.24% and +1.25% to the gross performance.

In HC, the short credit spread exposures to Argentina, Brazil, Lebanon, Turkey and South Africa were the largest sources of positive returns, with the short exposure to Kazakhstan, Saudi Arabia, and South Korea being the only detractors from performance.

In LC, the short exposures to the BRL and Brazilian rates, IDR, EUR and COP contributed positively to performance. The negative contribution coming from the longs to ARS (position added in May) and TRY (position added and closed in May) more than offset the previous impact

Performance:

The fund returned 1.22%<sup>1</sup> during Jan '18 to June '18 which compares to the Equity Hedge fund index (HFRXEH Index) returning +0.24% over the same period.

Contribution: The fund generated a solid return from sector selection (+1.63%) which was partly offset by a weaker than usual stock selection solely due to the short book, which saw one take-out and several short squeezes especially in the US mid-cap (companies whose market value of their outstanding shares is between USD 2 bn and USD 10 bn) space on a rotation back to domestic stocks. Our top three long stock selection contributors for the period were Amazon, Adobe and Ubisoft. While shorts have been tough, we have had strong stock selection shorts in the areas of payment hardware, display technologies and a online UK real estate play .

Outlook:

We are currently focused on the second quarter earnings period and seeking to take advantage of situations where we believe market expectations are missing fundamental changes at a company specific level be they product or business model innovation driven. We are selectively using options when appropriate to further isolate the event and to be more capitally efficient in driving outperformance during earnings season when our theses are often tested.

Looking forward, there is a lot of discussion of bubble like conditions in some large and mega cap (companies whose market value of their outstanding shares is above USD 100 bn) secular growth US tech stocks<sup>2</sup>which have generally led the US market higher. This debate was easier to answer last year as stocks rose mainly on positive earnings revisions and some multiple expansion. So far this year we have seen the market leadership narrow and with a heavier move in multiple expansion. Along with trade tariff headlines and political uncertainty, we are actively managing risk. Nonetheless, having managed money before, during and after previous tech bubbles we will express our view that the absolute levels of valuation for most of these stocks (while elevated) remain far from previous bubble like multiples. In fact on some metrics like price/free cash flow, some of these same names still look cheap vs history.

As a long short fund, We tend not to take market views, although we like to remain attuned to market trends so as to enable an understanding of risks in the portfolio and appropriately size positions. Positioning rotations<sup>3</sup> remain an opportunity especially as we enter reporting season where stock specific factors should continue to dominate. This will be especially true of the many consensus short stocks that have seen significant squeezes YTD. Our strategy looks to monetise outperformance by focusing on areas where consensus expectations appear wrong both on the long book and the short book.

For the half year ended 30th June 2018 the Fund produced a return of  $+1.08\%^{1}$ .

During Q1 2018, the best performing sectors within the fund were Consumer Discretionary, Information Technology and Utilities and the worst performing sectors were Consumer Staples, Financials and Healthcare

During Q2 2018, the best performing sectors within the fund were Energy, Materials and Financials and the worst performing sectors were Information Technology, Industrials and Consumer Staples.

Equity markets have made little progress so far in calendar year 2018 despite the optimistic start to the year based on the consensus view of synchronised global economic growth and the tailwind from US tax cuts.

Our cautious stance has been based on the rising downside risk to equity valuations as the cost of capital increases and monetary conditions tighten with US central bank interest rate increases and the reversal of Quantitative Easing, the process whereby a central bank introduces new money into the money supply to purchase assets.

Whilst economic trends continue to look robust in the US, leading economic indicators have been somewhat disappointing in Europe & the UK. These are certain economic factors that are often thought to change before the rest of the economy begins to go in a particular direction. We look at aggregated leading indicator indices generated by investment banks. In addition politics in Southern Europe, the slow progress in Brexit negotiations and global free trade tensions have given cause for concern to financial markets. We continue to maintain risk levels within the Fund at low levels compared to history.

Man AHL Multi Strategy Alternative - Semi - Annual Report Commentary

The first half of 2018 was dominated by very sharp reversals at the beginning of February as the pronounced run-up in equity markets gave way to a sudden sell-off. This caused significant losses, primarily amongst the momentum and technical models. However, since then, the fund has recovered steadily and made its way back into positive territory before the end of June. Three of five styles were positive over the period with cash equity and momentum trading similarly down but technical, volatility and fundamental models all positive.

Cash equity models saw some regional dispersion with solid performance in Asia and Europe being overcome by losses in Japan and the US. In terms of individual models, value and quality models struggled so far this year whilst stock momentum models have performed well.

Momentum models saw equity and currency positions, which were profitable in January, hit hard in February as one of the sharpest market reversals in recent times took hold. Models cut risk in response to the turmoil and, in the following months, established significant long-dollar positioning which proved profitable, although choppy equity markets continued to be a drag on performance.

Technical trading was hit as hard as the momentum models in the February moves but has bounced back with more conviction to regain positive territory. The short-term models which were hit hardest have recovered consistently whilst the fixed-income relative value model was unaffected in February and has made persistent gains.

Volatility trading weathered the turmoil early in the year well and then profited from the subsequent volatility premium. Options trading across equities, currencies and bonds were all profitable with only VIX futures trading proving a drag on performance.

Fundamental models were the top performers over the first half of the year as they rebounded from a tough January. Fixed income carry, currency carry, stock index relative value and fundamental currency models were all positive. Fundamental currency models performed best, boosted by some well-timed long-dollar positions.

The fund generates its positions using proprietary computer-based models designed to capture market inefficiencies. Cash equity models trade equities in a market-neutral framework. Momentum models trade futures and forwards using price-based predictors which generally profit from persistence of returns. Technical models encompass a broad range of predictors which exploit recurring patterns in prices and include some relative-value models. Volatility models trade options (and VIX futures) and can profit from both falls and rises in volatility but primarily target the premium between realised and implied volatility. Fundamental models trade futures and forwards using economic information and carry (predictors derived from forward term structures).

Man AHL TargetRisk - Semi - Annual Report Commentary

The Fund made a profit over the 6 months to 30th June 2018, with gains in commodities, fixed income and stocks despite minor losses in credit.

The period started off as a continuation of 2017 with risk assets generally rising, accompanied by a low volatility environment. This all changed in the first week of February as volatility returned to markets with equities and other risky assets selling off. Markets remained volatile for the rest of the second half of the year as political tension and fears of a global trade war spread.

The largest gains came from stocks where the Fund benefitted from a second quarter recovery in equity markets. The main positive contributing markets were the FTSE 100 Index, the NASDAQ 100 Index and the S&P 500 Index.

Fixed income assets also fared well as investors moved their attention to safehaven instruments such as European and US government bonds following political fears in Italy. Gains came from positions in the UK, France and Germany.

Commodities were also a profitable asset class being largely supported by a rally in crude oil prices.

Positions in credit default swap indices resulted in a negative return as credit spreads widened over the period, particularly in Europe.

&lt;sup>1</sup> A credit default swap index is a credit derivative used to hedge credit risk or to take a position on a basket of credit entities. Unlike a credit default swap, which is an over the counter credit derivative, a credit default swap index is a completely standardized credit security and may therefore be more liquid and trade at a smaller bid-offer spread. This means that it can be cheaper to hedge a portfolio of credit default swaps or bonds with a CDS index than it would be to buy many single name CDS to achieve a similar effect. Credit-default swap indexes are benchmarks for protecting investors owning bonds against default, and traders use them to speculate on changes in credit quality.

&lt;sup>2</sup>Credit spreads refer to the price of a credit default swap index. As an example, if a credit default swap has a spread of 200.00 bp, or 2.00% it would mean you have to pay USD 2.00 per annum.

Market Overview

Global equity markets fell modestly during the first quarter, as the MSCI All Country World Index (MSCI ACWI) lost 1.0% in USD; however they rebounded during the second quarter, as the MSCI ACWI Index gained 0.6% in USD, though with significant currency moves and dispersion across all countries. While down from the first quarter's elevated levels, volatility remained heightened as the Volatility Index (the "VIX"), commonly referred to as the "investor fear gauge", averaged 15.3% during the second quarter, after averaging 11.1% through 2017 (and 17.4% during the first quarter of 2018). Underlying all of this was a general robust global growth environment with increased concerns over trade tensions and the prospective addition of several Emerging Market countries. During Q2, developed equities broke a five-quarter losing streak against Emerging Markets, as the MSCI World Index rose 1.7% while the MSCI Emerging Markets Index fell 8.0% in USD. The US Federal Reserve, which is the central banking system of the United States of America, raised interest rates for the seventh time this cycle, and expectations are for two more hikes this year.

Growth stocks, stocks whose earnings are expected to potentially grow, continue to outperform value stocks, stocks whose fundamentals are solid however is priced below its peers, within the MSCI World Index. In fact, since the beginning of 2007, growth stocks have outperformed value stocks in the MSCI World Index in 34 out of 46 quarters (74%). This compares to value outperforming growth 57% of the prior 106 quarters (dating back to 1980). Over the past six quarters, value has underperformed growth by nearly 20%. The only two times we have seen that happen prior to this period were in early 2000 (which was followed by a significant value rebound) and 2008 (which was followed by a more muted value recovery). The market is showing a clear preference for growth, both at the sector level and the stock level.

Performance Commentary

For the six month period ending June 30, 2018, the Man Numeric Market Neutral Alternative Fund (the "Fund") return was -1.69 net-of-fees. The fund is comprised of two complementary components: Diversified Market Neutral ("DMN"), which is Numeric's value with a catalyst approach, and the Innovation Portfolio ("IP"), which is Numeric's portfolio of our latest ideas. During this reporting period, DMN detracted from performance, while IP contributed to performance.

Numeric seeks to add value through a fundamentally-driven, quantitative, bottom-up stock selection process. Stocks are selected based on the output of our quantitative investment models. The Diversified Market Neutral (DMN) component finished in negative territory year-to-date, as six of the eight strategies produced negative returns. Performance was positive in Emerging Markets and Europe. The primary detractor within DMN was Japan, with US large, US small, EAFE small, World, and Concentrated all detracting as well. Model returns were positive in Asia ex Japan and Emerging Markets, led by positive performance in Momentum, Value, and Quality. Model returns were slightly positive in EAFE

Small and Europe, led by good performance in our Momentum model. Japan, US Large, and US Small, all had negative model performance, driven by poor performance from our Value model.

The Innovation Portfolio component contributed to performance during the year. Overall, eight of the fifteen sleeves, which consist of Numeric's latest ideas, produced positive returns, led by the Ecosystem Momentum (a strategy which seeks to exploit signals from the business network surrounding companies), Internet Activity (utilizes consumer search engine behavior as a leading indicator of business trends), and Sector Timing (a SPDR sector ETF timing strategy). The Country Timing (a country ETF timing strategy), Volatility Arbitrage (takes advantage of mispricing in the term structure of the Volatility Index ("VIX") futures), and Bond Momentum (a strategy that aims to exploit information from the corporate bond market for trading stocks) components were the most significant detractors within the strategy for the year.

Man Alternative Style Risk Premia – Semi - Annual Report Commentary

Market Summary

The first half of 2018 began with a forceful rally in developed market equities and emerging market debt and equities (collectively known as "risk assets") as major global indices raced to new highs. The early positive sentiment was disrupted in February in the wake of a higher wage inflation data in the US. This rattled markets, and caused the VIX index which measures the price of buying and selling options on the S&P 500 index to spike higher (including setting a record 1-day percentage move) and put several short volatility focused exchange traded funds out of business. Much of Q2 was dominated by news regarding the summit between US President Donald Trump and North Korea's Kim Jong-un which culminated in a meeting in Singapore. Additionally, the challenges within Italy to form a working government as well as ongoing rhetoric and implementation of a US-China trade war put downward pressure on Italian bond prices and risk asset markets and led to a sharp rally in the US Dollar against most major currencies.

Performance

The first half of 2018 saw the Fund post a negative return with February's spike in US equity market volatility proving particularly challenging. Two notable changes to the Risk Premia product family were made in Q2: we added an Equity Quality ('Quality') trading strategy which takes long positions in cash generative companies and shorts companies with more speculative future cash-flows; and we created a combined Foreign Exchange ('FX') strategy called "FX Premia" to house all FX strategies. This initiative saw the introduction of a new FX Value strategy which is designed to trade currencies based on the theory that foreign exchange rates adjust to equalize the price of everyday products in different currencies. We also eliminated our allocations to the Developed and Emerging Markets ('EM') FX Carry strategies which exploited interest rate differentials between countries as these strategies tend to underperform when interest rates are unstable. This latter change was beneficial as EM currencies depreciated sharply in the second half of the period.

Our Momentum strategy which follows price trends in equity, fixed income and currency markets by buying and selling futures produced a loss. Solid gains were made in January on the heels of strong equity and short USD performance. The strategy gave back nearly all of these gains in February and struggled to gain meaningful traction in the following months.

Our FX Premia strategy was flattish through June with Swedish krona shorts adding to performance and British pound longs detracting due to Brexit uncertainty. Our Volatility trading strategy which exploits the fact that futures on the VIX index tend to be overpriced by selling VIX futures on a regular basis, detracted in the first half of the year. Nearly all of the losses stemmed from the above mentioned volatility spike that occurred in February. Despite the fact that our models rapidly reduced our positions, the surge in the VIX index proved challenging to trade. Fixed Income was one of two positive performing strategies in June. The return produced from exploiting the fact that future interest rates tend to be overestimated by buying higher yielding longer maturity bond futures and selling futures in lower yielding shorter maturity bonds generated a negative return as the price of short duration bonds rose as a result of inflation fears. The return from exploiting 10-year bond yield differentials between countries was profitable with shorts in the US Treasury futures and longs in the French bond futures adding the most although we incurred losses from long positions in Italian bond futures in May.

Overall, our equity trading strategies were negative in the first half of 2018 with all but the Size strategy detracting. Our Equities model which takes long positions in low priced equities with positive earnings momentum and shorts expensive equities with negative earnings momentum produced negative returns as value factors as measured by the S&P Barra indices have struggled for the bulk of the year. The momentum component of the strategy helped to mitigate some of the losses but did not aid in June which was challenging due to a reversal in price momentum for widely held long and short positions. Our Low Beta and Quality strategies which take long positions in equities of defensive companies dragged on performance as trade tariffs imposed by the Trump administration in the second half of the period favoured cyclical technology names at the expense of defensive sectors. The bulk of our losses came from shorting expensive technology names that became even more expensive. Our only positive equity strategy was Size. Small caps continued to outperform large caps as protectionist policies benefitted local market firms at the expense of their larger international peers.

Outlook

Much of the research in the first half of the year was focused on the implementation of the new FX Premia and Quality sleeves. New research is currently focused on themes surrounding seasonality and how recurring patterns throughout the year can be harvested to generate returns. Another line of research revolves around potentially adding new content to the Fixed Income sleeve.

GLOSSARY

Annualised Return

An annualised total return is an average amount of money earned by an investment each year over a given time period. It is calculated to show what an investor would earn over a period of time if the annual return was compounded.

Annualised Volatility Volatility is the rate and extent at which the price of a portfolio, security or index, moves up and down. If the price swings up and down with large movements, it has high volatility. If the price moves more slowly and to a lesser extent, it has lower volatility. It is used as a measure of the riskiness of an investment. Annualised volatility is an average annual amount of volatility over a given time period.

Correlation A measure of the interdependence or strength of the relationship between two investments. A correlation of 1 means that the two investments are perfectly synchronised, -1 implies that they move in symmetrically opposite directions and 0 means no relationship between them.

Credit Default Swap

CDS)

A form of derivative between two parties, designed to transfer the credit risk of a bond. The buyer of the swap makes regular payments to the seller. In return, the seller agrees to pay off the underlying debt if there is a default on the bond (or reference bond). A CDS is considered insurance against non-payment and is also a tradable security. This allows a fund manager to take positions on a particular issuer or index, without owning the underlying security or securities.

Credit Rating (quality)

A score awarded by an independent rating agency or group of agencies to indicate the financial strength of the issuer of a bond, and the potential for a default on interest and principal payments. For example, according to the S&P rating scheme the top credit rating is 'AAA'. The lowest rating to be considered 'investment grade' is 'BBB'. Below 'BBB', bonds are termed 'sub investment grade' or 'high yield'. Where a bond is not rated, the rating of the legal entity has been used. Local currency ratings are derived from the long term, local currency rating of the relevant EM government. Includes securities used for cash management and duration hedging.

Debt Debt is inclusive of bonds, credit default swaps and interest rates swaps.

Duration Expressed in years and measures the sensitivity of a bond's price to a change in interest rates. There is an inverse relationship between bond prices and interest rates.

Entry Charge The entry charge shown is a maximum figure and in some cases you might pay less. Please refer to your financial advisor or the distributor for the actual charges.

Expected Life Bonds with embedded options may be exercised prior to maturity, therefore the term may be shorter than the maturity of the underlying bonds.

The issuer / holder may choose to call or put the bond respectively during the market cycle as interest rates fluctuate. Issuers may wish to exercise callable bonds in order to lock in a lower rate of borrowing (reducing the cost of capital) or a holder of a puttable bond may exercise in order to invest in higher yielding issuance. Expected life takes account of bonds with embedded options and is the expected time before the embedded option is exercised. Includes only fixed income cash instruments and bond futures as well as securities used for cash management and duration hedging.

Exposure This refers to the part of a portfolio that is subject to the price movements of a specific security, sector, market or economic variable. It is typically expressed as a percentage of the total portfolio, e.g. the portfolio has 10% exposure to the mining sector

External Debt Debt priced in a hard currency e.g. USD (not the currency of the issuer).

External/Local Duration The duration of external/local debt.

FX Forward An FX forward contract is an agreement to purchase or sell a set amount of a foreign currency at a specified price for settlement at a predetermined time in the future.

Hard Currency Hard currency widely accepted around the world as a form of payment for goods and services. A hard currency is expected to remain relatively stable through a short period of time, and to be highly liquid in foreign exchange markets. E.g.

USD, EUR, GBP.

Information Ratio A ratio of portfolio returns above the excess returns of a benchmark (usually an index) to the volatility of those returns. The ratio measures a portfolio manager's ability to generate excess returns relative to a benchmark. Volatility is measured using tracking error.

Local Currency Debt priced in the currency of the emerging market issuing country. Also includes currency exposure obtained through FX

forwards

Local Rates Debt priced in the currency of the emerging market issuing country. This excludes currency exposure from FX forwards.

Maturity Maturity is the length of time before a financial instrument ends, after which it must either be renewed or it will cease to exist.

NAV The Net Asset Value (NAV) represents the value per share. It is calculated by dividing the total net asset value of the fund (the value of the fund's assets less its liabilities) by the number of shares outstanding.

GLOSSARY (continued)

Ongoing Charge Figure

The OCF is based on expenses and may vary from year to year. It includes management fees but excludes performance fees (where applicable) and portfolio transaction costs, except in the case of an entry/exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling units in another sub-fund. The charges you pay are used to pay the costs of running the Fund, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.

Performance Fee

The payment made to an Investment Manager if certain performance levels are achieved (often over and above any levels set out in the investment objective) within a set time period. Please refer to the fund's prospectus for a complete description.

Quasi-Sovereign Debt

Bonds issued by companies with implicit or explicit government backing. These bonds tend to be associated with statebacked commodity producers and are typically seen as a way to get exposure to the governments themselves.

Sharpe Ratio

The Sharpe Ratio is a measure for calculating risk-adjusted return, and has become the industry standard for such calculations. The Sharpe Ratio is the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of volatility or total risk. The higher the ratio the better, with a number greater than 1 usually considered good, a number greater than 2 considered very good and a ratio of 3 or higher considered excellent. As it is an absolute measure of risk-adjusted return, negative Sharpe Batios can be misleading and are therefore shown as N/A

Sovereign Debt

Bonds issued by a national government in order to finance the growth and development of the issuing country.

Spread Duration

The sensitivity of a security against changes in the credit spread. Credit spread is the difference between a particular rating and the reference government security. When there is a narrowing or widening in the credit spread the resultant price of the

Synthetic Risk & Reward Indicator (SRRI)

Featured on the Key Investor Information Document (KIID), the SRRI is a measure of the overall risk and reward profile of a fund. Funds are categorised on a scale from 1 to 7 where 1 is the lowest risk and 7 is the highest. Typically, the SRRI is derived from the volatility of past returns over a 5-year period. Investors should be aware the indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The lowest category does not mean risk free.

Tracking Error

Tracking error is a measure of the divergence between a portfolio's returns and the benchmark or index against which it is managed.

Yield to Maturity

Yield to maturity (YTM) is the total return anticipated on a bond if the bond is held until the end of its lifetime. Yield to maturity is considered a long-term bond yield expressed as an annual rate, coupons are assumed to be reinvested at the same rate. This takes into account the change in yield should the issuer have the desire and the ability to retire the debt prior to maturity.

RISK GLOSSARY

Market Risk

The Fund is subject to normal market fluctuations and the risks associated with investing in international securities markets. Therefore, the value of your investment and the income from it may rise as well as fall and you may not get back the amount originally invested.

Counterparty Risk

The Fund will be exposed to credit risk on counterparties with which it trades in relation to on-exchange traded instruments such as futures and options and where applicable, 'over-the-counter' ("OTC", "non-exchange") transactions. OTC instruments may also be less liquid and are not afforded the same protections that may apply to participants trading instruments on an organised exchange.

Currency Risk

The value of investments designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates may result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital. It may not be possible or practicable to successfully hedge against the currency risk exposure in all circumstances.

Liquidity Risk

The Fund may make investments or hold trading positions in markets that are volatile and which may become illiquid. Timely and cost efficient sale of trading positions can be impaired by decreased trading volume and/or increased price volatility.

Financial Derivatives Instruments

The Fund will invest financial derivative instruments ("FDI") (instruments whose prices are dependent on one or more underlying asset) to achieve its investment objective. The use of FDI involves additional risks such as high sensitivity to price movements of the asset on which it is based. The extensive use of FDI may significantly multiply the gains or losses

Leverage Risk

The Fund's use of FDI may result in increased leverage which may lead to significant losses.

Emerging Markets

The Fund may invest a significant proportion of its assets in securities with exposure to emerging markets which involve additional risks relating to matters such as the illiquidity of securities and the potentially volatile nature of markets not typically associated with investing in other more established economies or markets.

Non-Investment Grade

Securities

The Fund may invest a significant proportion of its assets in non-investment grade securities (such as "high yield" securities) are considered higher risk investments that may cause income and principal losses for the Fund. They are instruments which credit agencies have given a rating which indicates a higher risk of default. The market values for high yield bonds and other instruments tend to be volatile and they are less liquid than investment grade securities.

A complete description of risks is set out in the Fund's prospectus.

For the six month period ended 30 June 2018

Directors' responsibilities

The Directors are responsible for preparing the Directors' Report and the unaudited financial statements in accordance with Irish law.

Irish company law requires the Directors to prepare unaudited financial statements giving a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Fund and the profit or loss of the Fund for each financial period. Under that law the Directors have elected to prepare the unaudited financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"). Under company law, the directors must not approve the unaudited financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the assets, liabilities and financial position of the Fund as at the financial period end date and of the profit or loss of the Fund for the financial period and otherwise comply with the Companies Act 2014.

In preparing these unaudited financial statements, the Directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether the unaudited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable accounting standards and identify the standards in question and note the effects and the reasons for any material departure from those standards; and
- prepare the unaudited financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Fund will continue in business.

The Directors are responsible for ensuring that the Fund keeps or causes to be kept adequate accounting records which correctly explain and record the transactions of the company, enable at any time the assets, liabilities, financial position and profit or loss of the Fund to be determined with the reasonable accuracy, enable them to ensure that the financial statements and directors' report comply with the Companies Act 2014 and enable these financial statements to be unaudited. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Fund and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Legislation in Ireland governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Accounting records

The Directors are responsible for ensuring that proper accounting records as outlined in Section 281 to 285 of the Companies Act 2014 ("Act") are kept by the Fund. To achieve this, the Directors have appointed an experienced third party fund administrator to ensure that the requirements of Section 281 to 285 of the Companies Act 2014 are complied with. The books and accounting records are maintained at the Administrator's office at One Dockland Central, Guild Street, IFSC, Dublin 1, Ireland.

Corporate governance

The Board has adopted the IF code. The Board has reviewed and assessed the measures included in the code and considers its corporate governance practices and procedures since the adoption of the code as consistent therewith.

Connected party transactions

The Directors are satisfied that there are arrangements in place to ensure that transactions carried out with connected parties of the Fund are carried out as if negotiated at arm's length and any such transactions are in the best interests of the Shareholders of the Fund. The Directors are satisfied that any transactions entered into with connected parties during the period complied with the aforementioned obligation.

The Fund has adopted the corporate governance code for collective investment schemes and management companies issued by the Irish Funds (the "IF Code"). The Directors are satisfied that they act independently and in the interest of the Fund as a whole and have determined that Eric Fortier and Ronan Daly are independent directors as that term is defined in the IF Code.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Accounting convention

The unaudited financial statements are prepared in accordance with IAS 34 International Accounting Standard 34: Interim Financial Reporting ("IAS 34") as adopted by the European Union ("EU"). The unaudited financial statements have been prepared using the historical cost basis except for financial assets and liabilities held at fair value through profit or loss which have been measured at fair value.

The unaudited financial statements do not include all the information and disclosures required in the annual financial statements, and should be read in conjunction with the Fund's audited annual financial statements as at 31 December 2017 which have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as adopted by the European Union.

Condensed notes to the unaudited financial statements (continued) For the six month period ended 30 June 2018

These unaudited interim financial statements have been compiled using accounting policies, methods of computation and presentation which are consistent with the audited annual financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2017, unless otherwise stated.

The preparation of unaudited financial statements in accordance with IFRS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported and disclosures made in these unaudited financial statements and accompanying notes, including certain valuation assumptions. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities in the future.

The combined company balances are expressed in US$, being the presentation currency of the Fund as a whole. For combined company balances in unaudited statement of financial position, the non US$ Portfolios are translated using the exchange rate at the date of unaudited statement of financial position. For combined company balances in unaudited statement of comprehensive income, the non US$ Portfolios are translated at the average exchange rate prevailing during the period. The combined subscriptions and redemptions in the unaudited statement of changes in net assets are also translated at the average rate prevailing during the current period. The translation loss resulting from the preparation of the combined company balances in the unaudited financial statements amounting to US$99,708,752 (30 June 2017,gain of US$134,365,520) has been shown in the combined company column of unaudited statement of comprehensive income. The gain/(loss) does not have any effect on the individual Portfolios.

(b) Changes in accounting policy and disclosure

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the unaudited financial statements are consistent with those followed in the preparation of the Fund's audited financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2017, except for the adoption of new standards an interpretations effective on the dates described below.

New Standards, interpretations and amendments adopted by the Fund: IFRS 9 - Financial Instruments: Classification and Measurement

The Fund has adopted IFRS 9 Financial Instruments: Classification and Measurement on its effective date of 1 January 2018. IFRS 9 replaces IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement and introduces new requirements for classification and measurement, impairment and hedge accounting. IFRS 9 is not applicable to items that have already been derecognised at 1 January 2018, the date of initial application. The adoption of IFRS 9 has not had a material effect on the classification and measurement of the Fund's financial assets or liabilities.

The Fund has assessed the classification of financial instruments as at 1 January 2018. Based on that assessment, all financial assets previously held at fair value continue to be measured at fair value. Financial assets are acquired for the purpose of generating short-term profit. Therefore, they meet the held-for-trading criteria and are required to be measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The classification of financial liabilities under IFRS 9 remains broadly the same as under IAS 39. A financial liability is measured at fair value through profit or loss if it meets the definition of held for trading. The Fund includes in this category, derivative contracts in a liability position and equity and debt positions sold short since they are classified as held for trading. The main impact of measurement from the classification of liabilities under IFRS 9 relates to the element of gains or losses for financial liabilities designated as at fair value through profit or loss attributable to changes in credit risk. IFRS 9 requires that such element be recognised in other comprehensive income, unless this treatment creates or enlarges an accounting mismatch in profit or loss, in which case, all gains and losses on that liability (including the effects of changes in credit risk) should be presented in net gain/(loss) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss.

IFRS 15 - Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The Fund has adopted IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers on its effective date of 1 January 2018. The adoption of IFRS 15 has had no impact on the financial statements of the Fund.

IFRIC Interpretation 23 - Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatment

The interpretation addresses the accounting for income taxes when tax treatments involve uncertainty that affects the application of IAS 12 and does not apply to taxes or levies outside the scope of IAS 12, nor does it specifically include requirements relating to interest and penalties associated with uncertain tax treatments. The interpretation specifically addresses the following:

- Whether an entity considers uncertain tax treatments separately;
- The assumptions an entity makes about the examination of tax treatments by taxation authorities;
- How an entity determines taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates;
- How an entity considers changes in facts and circumstances.

An entity must determine whether to consider each uncertain tax treatment separately or together with one or more other uncertain tax treatments. The approach that better predicts the resolution of the uncertainty should be followed. The interpretation is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019, but certain transition reliefs are available. Management is currently assessing the impact to the Protected Cell's financial statements.

At the date of authorisation of the unaudited financial statements there were a number of other Standards and Interpretations which were in issue but not yet effective. Management anticipate that the adoption of these Standards and Interpretations in future periods will have no material impact on the unaudited financial statements of the Fund.

4. Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Fair value of financial instruments

The Fund classifies fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in determining the measurements in line with IFRS 13.

The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1 Quoted market price in an active market for an identical instrument.
- Level 2 Valuation techniques based on observable inputs. This category includes instruments valued using: quoted market prices in active markets for similar instruments; quoted prices for similar instruments in markets that are considered less than active; or other valuation techniques where all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable from market data.
- Level 3 Valuation techniques using significant unobservable inputs. This category includes all instruments where the valuation technique includes inputs not based on observable data and the unobservable inputs could have a significant impact on the instrument's valuation. This category includes instruments that are valued based on quoted prices for similar instruments where significant unobservable adjustments or assumptions are required to reflect differences between the instruments.

Valuation techniques

Listed or publicly traded investment in equity and debt securities, managed funds and derivatives

When fair values of listed securities and debt securities at the reporting date, as well as publicly traded derivatives, are based on quoted market prices or binding dealer price quotations, without any deduction for transaction costs, the instruments are included within Level 1 of the hierarchy.

Unlisted debt securities and treasury bills

The Fund invests in debt securities, corporate and government bonds and treasury securities. In the absence of a quoted price in an active market, they are valued using observable inputs such as recently executed transaction prices in securities of the issuer or comparable issuers and yield curves. Adjustments are made to the valuations when necessary to recognise differences in the instruments terms. To the extent that the significant inputs are observable, the Fund categorises these investments as Level 2.

Over-the-counter derivatives

The Fund uses widely recognised valuation models for determining fair values of over-the-counter interest rate swaps, currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts. The most frequently applied valuation techniques include forward pricing and swap models, using present value calculations. The models incorporate various inputs including both credit and debit valuation adjustments for counterparty and own credit risk, foreign exchange spot and forward rates and interest rate curves. For these financial instruments, significant inputs into models are market observable and are included within Level 2.

4. Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (continued)

Unlisted equity investments

The Fund invests in private equity companies which are not quoted in an active market. Transactions in such investments do not occur on a regular basis. The Fund uses a market based valuation technique for these positions. The Investment Manager determines comparable public companies (peers) based on industry, size, leverage and strategy, and calculates an appropriate earnings multiple for each comparable company identified. The multiple is calculated by dividing the enterprise value of the comparable company by an earnings measure. The trading multiple is then discounted for considerations such as illiquidity and size differences between the comparable companies based on company-specific facts and circumstances. The discounted multiple is applied to the corresponding earnings measure of the investee company to measure the fair value. The Fund classifies the fair value of these investments as Level 3.

For all other financial instruments, fair value is determined using valuation techniques. Valuation techniques include net present value techniques, comparison to similar instruments for which market observable prices exist, options pricing models and other relevant valuation models.

The following tables summarise the financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss as at 30 June 2018 and 31 December 2017 and the financial instruments measured at fair value in the unaudited statement of financial position grouped into the fair value hierarchy:

Short term balances are excluded from the tables as their carrying value at the period ended 30 June 2018 approximates to their fair value.

Investments are reviewed at each financial reporting point to ensure that they are correctly classified between Level 1, 2 and 3 in accordance with the fair value hierarchy outlined above. Where an investment's characteristics change during the period and investments no longer meet the criteria of a given level, they are transferred into a more appropriate level at the end of relevant financial reporting period.

For the period ended 30 June 2018 and year ended 31 December 2017, there were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2.

A reconciliation of the movements in Level 3 assets/liabilities for the period ended 30 June 2018 and year ended 31 December 2017 is set out below:

All net realised and unrealised gains/(losses) in the tables above are reflected in the accompanying unaudited statements of comprehensive income. Net amount of €516,057 (31 December 2017: €158,383) for Man GLG European Equity Alternative, €Nil (31 December 2017: (€43,578)) for Man GLG Global Equity Alternative and (US$2,278) (31 December 2017: (US$27,088)) for Man AHL Multi Strategy Alternative relates to those Level 3 financial instruments held by the Fund at 30 June 2018 and is reflected in net gains/(losses) on financial assets at fair value through profit or loss in the unaudited statement of comprehensive income.

The fair value of investments classified within Level 3 is based on unobservable inputs that may be subject to significant variability. Because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation with respect to such investments, the Fund's estimates of fair value may differ significantly from fair values that would have been used had observable inputs been available for the valuation of such investments, and the differences could be material.

The table below discloses the valuation technique used in the valuation for Level 3 investments and quantifies the effect of significant unobservable inputs used to value investments that fall in this category. The ranges of these inputs are not representative of the appropriate inputs to use when calculating the fair value of any one Level 3 asset or liability. Accordingly, the ranges of inputs presented below do not represent uncertainty in, or possible ranges of fair value measurements of the Fund's Level 3 assets/liabilities.

The range of discounts disclosed above is the Investment Manager's assessment of the range of possible illiquidity discounts. The Investment Manager's Independent Pricing Committee has assessed that, based on the information available, there is no reason that the NAV provided by the underlying managed funds managers or their administrators should not represent the most appropriate basis for valuing these assets and therefore no fair value adjustment is applied.

The impact of the range of possible unobservable impacts on the fair value of investments is a increase/decrease of up to €Nil (31 December 2017: €Nil) for Man GLG European Equity Alternative, €Nil (31 December 2017: €Nil) for Man GLG Global Equity Alternative and €Nil (31 December 2017: €Nil) for Man AHL Multi Strategy Alternative.

Forward currency contracts

As part of its portfolio management techniques, the Fund may use forward contracts to economically hedge any non-functional currency exposure (although formal hedge accounting is not used). Forward contracts may also be used for trading purposes. Forward contracts entered into by the Fund represent a firm commitment to buy or sell an underlying asset, or currency at a specified value and point in time based upon an agreed or contracted quantity.

Forward contracts may expose the Fund to the risks associated with the absence of an exchange market on which to close out an open position. The investment manager closely monitors the Fund's exposure under forward contracts as part of the overall management of the Fund's market risk.

Derivative financial instruments

The Fund may trade derivative financial instruments, including contracts for difference, futures, forward contracts, currencies, swaps contracts and options whose values are based upon an underlying asset, index, currency or interest rate.

The Fund is subject to both market and credit risk in trading derivative financial instruments. Market risk is the potential for changes in value due to changes in market interest rates, foreign exchange rates, indices and changes in the value of the underlying financial instruments. Credit risk is the possibility that a loss may occur if a counterparty fails to perform according to the terms of the contract. Substantially all derivative contracts are transacted on a margin basis. Such transactions may expose the Fund to significant off-balance sheet risk in the event margin deposits and collateral investments are not sufficient to cover losses incurred.

The Investment Managers manages the risks associated with these transactions by maintaining margin deposits and collateral investments with its brokers in compliance with individual exchange regulations and internal guidelines. The Investment Managers also take an active role in managing and controlling the Fund's market and counterparty risks and monitoring trading activities and margin levels daily, and, as necessary, deposits additional collateral or reduces positions.

Credit default swaps are contracts in which the Fund pays or receives an interest flow in return for the counterparty accepting or selling all or part of the risk of default or failure to pay of a reference entity on which the swap is written. Where the Fund has bought protection, the maximum potential loss is the value of the interest flows the Fund is contracted to pay until maturity of the contract. Where the Fund has sold protection, the maximum potential loss is the nominal value of the protection sold. As at 30 June 2018, the maximum potential payout under credit default swaps where the sub funds have sold protection is U$$553,510,000 for Man AHL TargetRisk (31 December 2017: U$$108,036,000) and U$$27,700,000 for Man GLG Global Emerging Markets Debt Total Return (31 December 2017: U$$27,700,000). The fair value of these contracts as at 30 June 2018 was of U$$14,749,433 for Man AHL TargetRisk (31 December 2017: U$$5,007,628) and U$$241,489 for Man GLG Global Emerging Markets Debt Total Return (31 December 2017: U$$378,902).

The Fund may purchase or write put and call options through OTC markets. Options purchased by the Fund provide the Fund with the opportunity to purchase (call options) or sell (put options) the underlying asset at an agreed-upon value either on or before the expiration of the option. Options written by the Fund provide the purchaser of the option the opportunity to purchase from or sell to the Fund the underlying asset at an agreed-upon value either on or before the expiration of the option. Premiums received from writing options are marked-to-market in accordance with note 2 and the resulting gains or losses are recorded in the statement of operations. The Fund may also invest in swaptions which are a combination of feature an option and an interest rate swap. The maximum loss to a buyer of an option is the loss of the premium. The writer of a call option has to bear the risk of an unfavourable change in the value underlying the option and, unless an offsetting long position is owned, the theoretical loss is unlimited. As at 30 June 2018, the Fund held written put options with a maximum pay out value of €56,479,132 for Man GLG European Equity Alternative (31 December 2017: €35,043,347) US$2,908,935,934 for Man AHL Multi Strategy Alternative (31 December 2017: US$304,840,255), €15,081,000 for Man GLG European Mid-Cap Equity Alternative (31 December 2017: €Nil) and US$10,440,000 for Man GLG Innovation Equity Alternative (31 December 2017: US$Nil).

Derivative financial instruments are generally based on notional amounts which are not recorded in the financial statements. These notional amounts represent the theoretical principal value on which the cash flows of the derivative transactions are based. Unrealised gains or losses, rather than notional amounts, or the exchange-traded derivatives traded by the Fund are included in the unaudited statement of financial position. The net unrealised gains or losses, rather than contract or notional amounts, represent the Fund's approximate future cash flows from trading activities.

Report of Directors' Remuneration (Unaudited)

The directors of the Fund who are also employees of Man Group plc and companies within its group structure ("Man Group") do not receive any remuneration in respect of their services as directors of the Fund. The other directors receive fixed remuneration in respect of their services which is set at a level determined by the Board as a whole and which is not performance related. This is detailed in note 8 of these unaudited financial statements. None of the directors are currently in receipt of variable remuneration in respect of their services as directors of the Fund and none of the directors are currently in receipt of a pension from the Fund. The Fund has appointed Man Asset Management (Ireland) Limited as its UCITS management company. However, they do apply to Man Asset Management (Ireland) Limited, which has adopted a remuneration policy to ensure compliance.

Unaudited reporting requirement in respect of the Securities Financing Transactions Regulation For the six month period ended 30 June 2018

The Investment Manager may, on behalf of each sub-fund and subject to the conditions and within the limits laid down by the Financial Conduct Authority and the Prospectus, employ techniques and instruments relating to transferable securities, including investments in OTC Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDI") provided that such techniques and instruments are used for efficient portfolio management purposes or to provide protection against exchange risk or for direct investment purposes, where applicable.

The sub-funds engaged in securities lending activity during the year for the purposes of efficient portfolio management, and invested in total return swaps, repos or reverse repos.

Securities Lending

All securities lending transactions entered into by the sub-funds are subject to a written legal agreement between the sub- funds and the Lending Agent, which is the Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch, and separately between the Lending Agent and the approved borrowing counterparty. Collateral received in exchange for securities lent is delivered to an account in the name of the Depositary on behalf of the sub-fund. Collateral received is segregated from the assets belonging to the sub-fund's Depositary or the Lending Agent.

The total income earned from securities lending transactions is split between the relevant sub-fund and the securities lending agent. The sub-fund receives at least 80% while the securities lending agent receives up to 20% of such income with all operational costs borne out of the securities lending agent's share. Income received during the year by each sub-fund from securities lending transactions is disclosed in other income in the unaudited statement of comprehensive income included as part of the unaudited financial statements.

The following table details the value of securities on loan, the maturity tenor of which is always open, as they are recallable or terminable on a daily basis. OTC derivative transactions are entered into by the sub-funds under an International Swaps and Derivatives Associations, Inc. Master Agreement ("ISDA Master Agreement") or similar agreement. An ISDA Master Agreement is a bilateral agreement between the sub-funds and a counterparty that governs OTC derivative transactions (including total return swaps and portfolio swaps) entered into by the parties. All OTC derivative transactions entered under an ISDA Master agreement are netted together for collateral purposes therefore any collateral disclosures provided below/elsewhere in the report are in respect of all OTC derivative transactions entered into by the sub-funds under the ISDA Master agreement, not just portfolio swaps.
