This document provides you with key investor information about this fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

Adaptive Diversification 12, unit class EUR D
(ISIN: LU0682218119)

A Sub-Fund of AC

The Management Company of this Fund is Alceda Fund Management S.A., an independent subsidiary of the Aquila Group.

Objectives and investment policy

The subfund's investment strategy is based on global diversification. The fund managers implement this strategy by initially defining investment classes such as equities, bonds and commodities, then weighting these investment classes so that each of them makes a similar contribution to the overall portfolio risk (risk parity). The subfund can invest in all permitted investment instruments throughout the world.

The subfund can enter into interest-rate swaps under which it undertakes to pay a fixed interest rate in return for receiving a variable interest rate (known as Payer Swaps) or to pay a variable interest rate in return for receiving a fixed interest rate (known as Receiver Swaps). The subfund's assets can also be invested in structured products (such as certificates) that are deemed to constitute securities.

In the various investment classes, the subfund may invest in all permitted financial instruments either directly or through derivatives. These investment instruments may be listed on an exchange or traded over the counter (OTC).

The objective of the subfund's investment policy is to generate long-term capital growth in the currency of the relevant unit class. The subfund aims to achieve volatility of approximately 12% on an annualised basis.

The subfund can invest up to 10% of its net assets in units or shares in UCITS or other UCIs, including open Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs).

The subfund does not follow a reference index.

The investment horizon should be at least five years.

Completed applications for redemption received by the Registrar and Transfer Agent no later than 16:00 CET (Central European Time) on a bank working day (the “order acceptance deadline”) are settled at the redemption price valid on the following valuation day.

This unit class pays you dividends.

Risk and reward profile

This risk indicator is based on historical data; it is therefore not possible to predict future developments. The rating of the Fund may change in the future and does not constitute a guarantee. Even a Fund rated in category 1 does not represent a completely risk-free investment.

This fund was classified in category 5 because its share price fluctuates relatively sharply and the potential for profit, as well as the risk of loss, can therefore be relatively high.

The Fund does not offer the investor any capital guarantee.

When a Fund is assigned to a risk class, it may be the case that not all risks have been taken into account, owing to the calculation model. A detailed presentation can be found in the Risks section of the sales prospectus. The following risks have no direct impact on this classification, but may be of importance to the Fund:

Liquidity risks: The Fund may invest some of its assets in securities that are not traded on a stock exchange or a similar market. It may be difficult to find a buyer for these securities in the short term. This can increase the risk of suspension of share redemptions.

Credit risks: The Fund can invest a significant portion of its assets in government and corporate bonds. The issuers of these bonds may become insolvent, which will mean that the bonds will lose all or some of their value.

Risks from the use of derivatives: The Fund may use derivative transactions for the purposes stated above under 'Objectives and Investment Policy'. This increases opportunities, but also involves increased risk. Hedging against losses through the use of derivatives may reduce the Fund's opportunities for profit.

Custodial risks: The custody of assets - particularly abroad - can be associated with a risk of loss, which can result from insolvency, breaches of the duty of care or the misconduct of the custodian or a sub-custodian.

Operational risks: The Fund may fall victim to fraud or criminal acts. It may suffer losses as a result of misunderstandings or mistakes by employees of the Management Company or by external third parties or may be damaged by external events, such as natural disasters.

Charges

The costs borne by the investor enable the Fund to function and are used to manage, market and distribute it. The cost burden reduces the potential earnings at the level of the Fund.
