Investment Objective

The fund aims to protect capital by investing in bonds while offering a higher return than a euro-denominated money market investment. The recommended investment horizon is medium term. The portfolio benefits from a very broad investment universe including sovereign, quasi-sovereign and private issuers from developed and emerging countries, with no geographical, sectoral, maturity or currency restrictions, although a minimum of 25% of assets must be invested in Investment Grade bonds. Using an active approach, the manager seeks to take advantage of the heterogeneity of the global bond markets to build a portfolio with an attractive risk/return profile.

The Fund's strategy is geared towards sustainable and responsible investment, with three main focuses: investing at least 10% of the portfolio's net assets in impact bonds, optimising ESG ratings for traditional sovereign issues and monitoring environmental or social indicators for investments in traditional corporate bonds, with the aim of improving these indicators over time.

The fund is committed to investing at least 30% of its assets in sustainable assets.

Key Facts

- A very broad investment universe
- Particular attention paid to reducing downside risk;
- Non-benchmarked management leading to significant deviations from the initial investment universe;
- A portfolio managed from the point of view of a euro investor.
- Investments in issuers with stable or improving credit quality;
- A core portfolio invested in emerging markets combined with investments in the eurozone for protection purposes;
- Net exposure outside the eurozone limited to 25% of the portfolio;
- Active duration management, including the use of futures;
- A strategy combining several approaches to sustainable and responsible investment.

Eurozone government bond yields rose in the second quarter, with some issuers seeing a certain amount of volatility. The Germany 10-year, which began the quarter with a yield of 2.29%, twice came close to 2.70% before returning to around 2.4%. It ended the quarter at 2.5%. This instability in the bond market reflects the uncertainties surrounding European monetary policy due to changes in the number of interest rate cuts expected by investors, despite the ECB embarking on its first rate cut since the pandemic (from 4.5% to 4.25% for the main refinancing rate). In France, June was a particularly nervous month on the debt market with the announcement of the dissolution of the National Assembly following the European parliamentary elections. From an economic point of view, there were also indications of some weakness at the end of the quarter. However, European inflation continues to show signs of resilience. After coming down to 2.4% in March, headline inflation in the eurozone was back up at 2.6% on 31 May.

In the euro-denominated corporate debt universe, yield spreads on investment grade bonds widened by 4 basis points (ICE BofA Euro Corporate index) while those on BB-B rated bonds narrowed by 14 basis points (ICE BofA BB-B Euro High Yield index). The French President's announcement that he was dissolving the National Assembly after the European elections on 9 June prompted investors to abandon risky assets, particularly French corporate debt, in favour of safe havens such as AAA-rated debt. Despite this, corporate debt has been in demand since the start of the year, with the volume of new issues reaching record levels. Financial sector debt experienced slight dislocation in June due to the economic risks posed by extremist governments. In terms of performance, high-yield debt (+1.29% for the ICE BofA BB-B Euro High Yield index), buoyed by its higher yield and advantageous spreads, continues to outperform investment grade debt (+0.12% for the ICE BofA Euro Corporate index).

The emerging market debt asset class remained relatively stable in the second quarter compared with developed country bond markets. The yield spread on euro-denominated emerging market debt in the JP Morgan Euro EMBI Global Diversified index was relatively stable over the quarter, closing at 222 basis points at the end of June.

The worst performers in the universe were issues denominated in local currencies. The JP Morgan EMBI Global Diversified index in euros posted slightly positive performance of 0.56% over the period, while local-currency debt fell by around -1.25% according to the JPM GBI EMGD index. In our investment universe, two currencies suffered significant depreciations: the BRL due to market concerns about Brazil's budgetary outlook, and the MXN reflecting market worries about the impact on Mexico's public accounts of the absolute majority obtained by the ruling Morena party and its coalition. On 9 June, the coalition led by former president Lopez Obrador's Morena party won an absolute majority of seats in Congress and a majority in the Senate. Fears have focused on the reform programme put forward by Morena and its allies and its impact on Mexico's public accounts despite the reassuring profile of Claudia Sheinbaum who replaces André M. Lopez Obrador.

The portfolio is continuing its allocation to short-dated HY issues while increasing the weighting of high-quality long-dated issues in order to prepare the portfolio for a potential increase in market volatility.
